protection boards, municipalities, soil and water conservation districts and not-for-profit conservation organizations, and the need to protect the state's agricultural economy and land resources.

§ 4. The agriculture and markets law is amended by adding a new section 329-a to read as follows:

§ 329-a. Farmland availability information. 1. The department may collect and compile information about public land that is viable for farming and is available for purchase or lease for farming and make available such information, including contact information for the office of general services, other state agencies, municipalities, and other governmental entities offering such land, on its internet website. The department shall provide guidance and assistance to the office of general services, other state agencies, municipalities and other governmental organizations that request such assistance, in identifying land that is viable for farming.

2. The department may also make available similar information about private land available for purchase or lease for farming, including contact information for the owners of such land.

§ 5. Section 2 of the public lands law is amended by adding a new subdivision 3-a to read as follows:

3-a. Land viable for farming; identification. The commissioner of general services is authorized and directed to consult, as part of the state-owned real property management program, with the department of agriculture and markets to identify land that may be viable for farming and may be made available for purchase or lease for farming and make that information available to the department of agriculture and markets to be disseminated to the public.

§ 6. This act shall take effect immediately.
