AN ACT to amend the executive law, in relation to requiring employers to make a conditional offer of employment before inquiring about any criminal convictions of a prospective employee

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

Section 1. Section 296 of the executive law is amended by adding a new subdivision 15-a to read as follows:

15-a. It shall be an unlawful discriminatory practice, unless specifically required or permitted by statute, for any prospective employer, including any person, agency, bureau, corporation or association, including the state and any political subdivision thereof, to make an inquiry about, whether in any form of application or otherwise, or to act upon adversely to the individual involved based upon, any criminal conviction of such individual unless such employer first makes a conditional offer of employment to such individual. Such conditional offer of employment may only subsequently be withdrawn on the basis of a criminal conviction in accordance with article twenty-three-A of the correction law where such conviction bears a direct relationship, as such term is defined in subdivision three of section seven hundred fifty of the correction law, to the specific position being offered, or the granting of such employment would involve an unreasonable risk to property or to the safety or welfare of specific individuals or the general public.

§ 2. This act shall take effect on the ninetieth day after it shall have become a law.

EXPLANATION--Matter in italics (underscored) is new; matter in brackets [-] is old law to be omitted.
