(1) When a debtor is in default, an execution for support enforcement may be issued by the support collection unit, or by the sheriff, the clerk of court or the attorney for the creditor as an officer of the court. When a debtor is in default, an execution for restitution or reparation enforcement may be issued by the sheriff, the clerk of the court or the attorney for the creditor as an officer of the court. Where a debtor is receiving or will receive income, an execution for deductions therefrom in amounts not to exceed the limits set forth in subdivision (g) of this section may be served upon an employer or income payor after notice to the debtor. The amount of the deductions to be withheld shall be sufficient to ensure compliance with the direction in the order of support, restitution or reparation and shall include an additional amount to be applied to the reduction of arrears. The issuer may amend the execution before or after service upon the employer or income payor to reflect additional arrears or payments made by the debtor after notice pursuant to subdivision (d) of this section, or to conform the execution to the facts found upon a determination made pursuant to subdivision (e) of this section.

§ 7. The subdivision heading, the opening paragraph and subparagraph (ii) of paragraph 1 of subdivision (c) of section 5241 of the civil practice law and rules, the subdivision heading as amended by chapter 59 of the laws of 1993, the opening paragraph and subparagraph (ii) as amended by chapter 270 of the laws of 2013, are amended to read as follows:

1 required. In addition, the income execution shall specify the court in

4 already provided on the form for income withholding, a separate document
5 shall be served with the income execution which shall include:

10 rules, as amended by chapter 94 of the laws of 2008, is amended to read

12 (e) Determination of mistake of fact. Where the execution has been 13 issued by the support collection unit, the debtor may assert a mistake 14 of fact and shall have an opportunity to make a submission in support of 15 the objection within fifteen days from service of a copy thereof. There-16 after, the agency shall determine the merits of the objection, and 17 shall notify the debtor of its determination within forty-five days
18 after notice to the debtor as provided in subdivision (d) of this 19 section. If the objection is disallowed, the debtor shall be notified

22 execution has been issued by an attorney as officer of the court, or by 23 the sheriff, or by the clerk of the court, the debtor may assert a

30 thirty-nine of the family court act, and a determination thereof shall 31 be made, and the debtor notified thereof within forty-five days of the 32 application. If application is made to the supreme court such applica-
33 tion shall be by order to show cause or motion on notice to the creditor 34 in the action in which the order or judgement sought to be enforced was 35 entered and a determination thereof shall be made, and the debtor noti-

41 supreme court having issued such order. Such application shall be by 42 petition on notice to the creditor, and it shall be heard and determined 43 in accordance with the provisions of article four of this chapter, and a

45 within forty-five days of the application.

46 § 9. The opening paragraph of paragraph 1 of subdivision (g) of 47 section 5241 of the civil practice law and rules, as amended by chapter 48 270 of the laws of 2013, is amended to read as follows:

49 An employer or income payor served with an income execution shall 50 commence deductions from income due or thereafter due to the debtor no
51 later than the first pay period that occurs fourteen days after service 52 of the execution, and shall remit payments within seven business days of 53 the date that the debtor is paid. Each payment remitted by an employer 54 or income payor shall include the information as instructed on the 55 income execution and shall be payable to and remitted to the state
56 disbursement unit established in this state in accordance with section

1 six hundred fifty-four-b of title forty-two of the United States Code
2 unless the income execution is for spousal support only, in which case
3 the payments shall be payable to and remitted to the creditor. If the 4 money due to the debtor consists of salary or wages and his or her 5 employment is terminated by resignation or dismissal at any time after 6 service of the execution, the levy shall thereafter be ineffective, and 7 the execution shall be returned, unless the debtor is reinstated or 8 re-employed within ninety days after such termination. An employer must 9 notify the issuer promptly when the debtor terminates employment and 10 provide the debtor's last address and name and address of the new 11 employer, if known. An income payor must notify the issuer promptly when 12 the debtor no longer receives income and must provide the debtor's last 13 address and the name and address of the debtor's new employer, if known.
14 Where the income is compensation paid or payable to the debtor for 15 personal services, the amount of the deductions to be withheld for 16 support enforcement shall not exceed the following:

17 § 10. Subdivision (g) of section 5241 of the civil practice law and 18 rules is amended by adding a new paragraph 5 to read as follows:

19 (5) Where the income is compensation paid or payable to the debtor for 20 personal services, the amount of the deductions to be withheld for 21 restitution or reparation shall not exceed fifty percent of the earnings
22 of the debtor remaining after the deduction therefrom of any amounts 23 required by law to be withheld ("disposable earnings").

24 § 11. The section heading and subdivisions (a) and (b) of section 5242 25 of the civil practice law and rules, as amended by chapter 170 of the 26 laws of 1994, are amended to read as follows:

27 Income deduction order for support, restitution or reparation enforce-28 ment. (a) Upon application of a creditor, for good cause shown, and 29 upon such terms as justice may require, the court may correct any 30 defect, irregularity, error or omission in an income execution for 31 support, restitution or reparation enforcement issued pursuant to 32 section ~~[5241]~~ fifty-two hundred forty-one of this article.

33 (b) Upon application of a creditor, for good cause shown, the court
34 may enter an income deduction order for support, restitution or repara-35 tion enforcement. In determining good cause, the court may take into 36 consideration evidence of the degree of such debtor's past financial 37 responsibility, credit references, credit history, and any other matter 38 the court considers relevant in determining the likelihood of payment in 39 accordance with the order of support, restitution or reparation. Proof 40 of default establishes a prima facie case against the debtor, which can 41 be overcome only by proof of the debtor's inability to make the 42 payments. Unless the prima facie case is overcome, the court shall 43 enter an income deduction order for support, restitution or reparation
44 enforcement pursuant to this section.

45 § 12. Subdivision (g) of section 5242 of the civil practice law and
46 rules, as amended by chapter 270 of the laws of 2013, is amended to read
47 as follows:

48 (g) An order pursuant to this section shall take priority over any 49 other assignment, levy or process. If an employer or income payor is 50 served with more than one income deduction order for restitution
51 enforcement, reparation enforcement or support enforcement pertaining to 52 a single employee pursuant to this section, or with an order issued
53 pursuant to this section and also an execution pursuant to section
54 ~~[5241]~~ fifty-two hundred forty-one of this article, and if the combined
55 total amount of the income to be withheld exceeds the limits set forth 56 in subdivision (f) of this section, the employer or income payor shall

1 withhold the maximum amount permitted thereby and pay to each creditor
2 that proportion thereof which such creditor's claim bears to the 3 combined total.

4 § 13. This act shall take effect on the one hundred twentieth day
5 after it shall have become a law, except that any guidelines necessary 6 for the timely implementation of this act on its effective date shall be 7 established on or before such date.
