§ 2. The election law is amended by adding a new section 6-170 to read as follows:

§ 6-170. Designating or nominating petition; residence. A designating or nominating petition, or certificate of designation, as provided in sections 6-132 and 6-140 of this title, naming a person as candidate for a local office which requires the office holder to be a resident of the subdivision, and which contains therein a residence address for the candidate that is not within the subdivision in which the candidate seeks nomination or election, shall be invalid unless such candidate shall file, at the same time as the filing of the petition or certificate of nomination or designation, a certificate duly acknowledged by the candidate which sets forth a residence within the subdivision where the candidate resides as of the date of such filings.

§ 3. The election law is amended by adding a new section 6-214 to read as follows:

§ 6-214. Designating or nominating petition; residence. A designating or nominating petition, or certificate of designation, as provided in sections 6-204 and 6-206 of this title, naming a person as candidate for a village office which requires the office holder to be a resident of the village, and which contains therein a residence address for the candidate that is not within the village in which the candidate seeks nomination or election, shall be invalid unless such candidate shall file, at the same time as the filing of the petition or certificate of nomination or designation, a certificate duly acknowledged by the candidate which sets forth a residence within the village where the candidate resides as of the date of such filings.

§ 4. This act shall take effect on the first of January next succeeding the date on which it shall have become a law.
