AN ACT to amend the public health law, in relation to emergency medical service in Nassau County

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

Section 1. Section 3017 of the public health law, as added by chapter 572 of the laws of 1994, is amended to read as follows:

§ 3017. Emergency medical service, Nassau and Suffolk [~~county~~] counties. 1. No ambulance service or advanced life support first response service shall respond to any call or request for emergency medical services within a town, village or fire district in Nassau or Suffolk county that currently provides ambulance service or advanced life support services first response service, if the municipality has designated one or more ambulance services or advanced life support first response services to respond to such calls unless:

- (a) the service is so designated;
- (b) the response is in accordance with a mutual aid plan approved by the appropriate regional emergency medical service council;
- (c) the response is to a verbal mutual aid request from a designated service;
- (d) the service was specifically requested to respond by the patient or someone acting on behalf of that patient; or
- (e) the response site is a hospital licensed under article twenty-eight of this chapter for a transfer to another such facility.

2. Every ambulance service or advanced life support first response service shall disclose as part of any solicitation or advertisement in Nassau or Suffolk county that there is a fee for services rendered, if in fact there is a fee charged for the performance of such service.

3. Every ambulance service or advanced life support first response service that operates in Nassau or Suffolk county and has vehicles which
