AN ACT to amend the education law, in relation to prohibiting cyber-bullying

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

- 1 Section 1. Legislative intent. The legislature finds that:
2 a. Bullying is a long-standing problem among school-aged children in 3 New York state and throughout the nation. With increasing accessibility
4 to electronic means of communication, bullying has transformed from a 5 predominantly school-based issue to a broader societal problem.
6 b. Researchers have demonstrated that bullying has long-term conse-
7 quences. Further, bullying goes beyond the classroom to bullying on the 8 job, on athletic teams, on college campuses and the internet.
9 c. Experts researching bullying have suggested that one tool for 10 schools to use in combatting bullying is to maintain and enforce 11 consistent policies against bullying and harassment, including cyber-12 bullying. Such enforcement is not always possible if bullying occurs 13 away from school or by a non-student.
14 d. Perpetrators of cyber-bullying are often more extreme in the 15 threats and taunts they inflict on their victims, as they do not actual-16 ly see their victim's emotional reaction to the abuse and believe that 17 they are anonymous. Victims of cyber-bullying suffer very real and seri-18 ous harm as a result of these incidents, often showing signs of 19 depression, anxiety, social isolation, nervousness when interacting with 20 technology, low self-esteem and declining school performance. In some 21 cases, victims attempt or commit suicide in part because of cyber-bully-22 ing they've endured.

EXPLANATION--Matter in italics (underscored) is new; matter in brackets [-] is old law to be omitted.
