16 adding two new subdivisions (H) and (I) to read as follows:

17 (H) "Economic development project" means any project for which acqui-
18 sition of real property may be required for a public use, benefit, or 19 purpose where such public use, benefit, or purpose is primarily for 20 economic development and where the condemnee's real property is a home
21 or dwelling.

22 (I) For the purposes of article two of this chapter:

23 (1) "Home" means owner-occupied residential premises consisting of not
24 more than six dwelling units.

25 (2) "Dwelling" means residential premises consisting of not more than

32 as determined by its or their proportional relationship to the total
33 outstanding stock of the corporation, including that owned by the corpo-
34 ration, shall be deemed to be vested in such tenant-stockholder notwith-

36 qualifying a cooperative apartment as a home.

38 law is amended to read as follows:

39 (B) The condemnor, in its determination and findings, shall specify,
40 but shall not be limited to the following:

51 § 7. The eminent domain procedure law is amended by adding a new 52 section 204-a to read as follows:

The comprehensive economic development plan shall include, but not be limited to, the actual or expected benefits of the project, including the expected increased tax revenue or expected creation of jobs, the types of businesses or industry that will use the condemned property, and alternatives to the plan. When a draft comprehensive economic development plan is created, the condemnor, in cooperation with the government of the locality in which the real property to be acquired is located shall hold at least one public hearing to compile and analyze public input. The public hearing shall be held in accordance with the provisions of this article at a location reasonably proximate to the real property which may be acquired for such project. Thereafter, the condemnor shall complete a final comprehensive economic development plan to be submitted to the local legislative body, subject to any applicable right to override for its approval. To move forward with the project, the local legislative body must approve the plan by a majority vote, and it must also be approved by the chief executive officer of such locality if the office of such chief executive officer is elective.

(B) The condemnor shall also create a homeowner impact assessment statement. The condemnor, in the homeowner impact assessment statement, shall assess the actual harm to affected condemnees' that would lose their homes or dwellings and compare such harm with the reasonably expected community benefits, including but not limited to how the condemnor justifies the taking of the condemnees' homes or dwellings. The homeowner impact assessment statement shall be completed simultaneously with the comprehensive economic development plan under subdivision (A) of this section. The homeowner impact assessment statement shall be made widely available.

(C) In cases where a condemnee's home or dwelling is acquired for an economic development project, the condemnor shall, in addition to any other compensation requirements under this article, compensate the condemnee a minimum of one hundred fifty percent of the fair market value of the real property. Upon receipt of such petition and demand, the condemnor shall forthwith deliver to the court a copy of the record and a copy of its determination and findings. The proceeding shall be heard on the record without requirement of reproduction. If such proposed public improvement is located in more than one judicial department, such proceeding may be

1 brought in any one, but only one, of such departments, and all such
2 proceedings with relation to any single public project shall be consol-
3 idated with that first filed. If the condemnor substantially alters the 4 scope of the project or the determination and findings, then the condem-
5 nee shall have an additional ninety days from the condemnor's publica-
