IN SENATE

February 24, 2017

Introduced by Sen. LARKIN -- read twice and ordered printed, and when printed to be committed to the Committee on Education -- committee discharged, bill amended, ordered reprinted as amended and recommitted to said committee

AN ACT to amend the education law, in relation to policies that allow students with disabilities to participate in a high school graduation ceremony

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

Section 1. Short title. This act shall be known and may be cited as "Zachary's law".

§ 2. Section 4402 of the education law is amended by adding a new subdivision 9 to read as follows:

9. The board of education or the board of trustees of each school district shall establish a policy and adopt procedures to allow any student with a disability in such district to participate in the graduation ceremony of the student's high school graduating class and all related activities if such student has been issued a skills and achievement commencement credential or career development and occupational studies commencement credential but has not otherwise qualified for a regents or local diploma. Such student shall be eligible to participate if the student's individualized education program prescribes special education, transition planning, transition services, or related services beyond the student's four academic years after the student's entry into high school. The policy and procedures shall provide annual written notice to all students with disabilities and their parents or guardians about the school district's policy and procedures adopted in accordance with this subdivision. Nothing in this subdivision shall compel a student with disabilities to participate in the high school graduation ceremony and activities. The superintendent shall consider the recommendation, if any, of the student's committee on special education as well
