AN ACT to amend the real property law, in relation to creating a residential condominium owner bill of rights

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

1 Section 1. The real property law is amended by adding a new section 2 339-11 to read as follows:

3 § 339-11. Residential condominium owner's bill of rights. The organizational and operating documents of every residential condominium association, including both private and not-for-profit, established or operating pursuant to the laws of the state shall guarantee the following rights to each unit owner.

8 1. The right to transparency. Complete and accurate financial statements, reports of hired accountants and consultants on behalf of the 9 association, reports by municipal or county inspectors, and approved 10 11 minutes of the board of managers' meetings shall be available for review 12 within a timely fashion of a request to review, inspect, or copy. Any 13 financial statements, reports, or minutes ordinarily provided to unit 14 owners shall be provided in a timely fashion pursuant to established 15 timetables. In addition to any other notice required, the approved minutes of all board and unit owner meetings shall be posted in a promi-16 nent place accessible to all unit owners in each building comprising the 17 condominium within one day of their approval. For the purposes of this 18 19 subdivision, "financial statements" shall include a complete accounting 20 for all expenditures, capital improvements, or anything in excess of the contingency fund including the budget, a comparison of any and all 21 22 bidding processes for work to be done on the condominium including work 23 that was conducted and the amounts of the contributions of each owner whether individual or group sponsored, billings, estimates, overages, 24
