Introduced by Sen. AVELLA -- read twice and ordered printed, and when printed to be committed to the Committee on Cities

AN ACT to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, ir relation to enacting the "New York city teleworking expansion act"

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

Section 1. Short title. This act shall be known and may be cited as the "New York city teleworking expansion act".

2. Legislative findings. The legislature hereby finds and declares 4 that the health and safety of the population living in and around the densely populated New York city metropolitan region is a matter of state 5 concern, as is the economic vitality and the effectiveness of mass tran-7 sit in that region, all of which are threatened by the amount of traffic congestion inside of, and into, New York city, and the overcrowded buses, subways and railroads within the region. Traffic congestion is 10 particularly harmful to the mass transit bus systems run by the Metropolitan Transportation Authority, creating delays and hindering the 11 12 growth of essential surface mass transportation systems, and the entire 13 mass transit system suffers from severe overcrowding. The negative 14 impact of traffic congestion in New York city on the health, economy and 15 mass transit systems of the downstate region, as well as the overcrowd-16 ing of the region's mass transit systems, were established at legisla-17 tive hearings in the spring of 2007, as well as during the hearings and reports of the legislatively created New York City Traffic Mitigation 19 Commission. During these hearings, it was established that a very large number of New York city employees drive to work both from points within 20 New York city and without, that New York city lacks a working and 21 adequate telecommuting program for its employees, and that an effective 22 23 telecommuting program would significantly reduce the number of such 24 employees driving to work. Likewise, a telecommuting program for New York city employees would also allow employees who use mass transit to 25 26 work from home, thereby alleviating the current overcrowding in the 27 region's mass transit systems. Such a program as established by this legislation would address the state's concern that the health, safety, 28

- b. For the purposes of this section, the term "telework" shall mean to
