IN SENATE

February 27, 2018

Introduced by Sens. MURPHY, AMEDORE, CROCI, PHILLIPS, YOUNG -- read twice and ordered printed, and when printed to be committed to the Committee on Veterans, Homeland Security and Military Affairs -committee discharged, bill amended, ordered reprinted as amended and recommitted to said committee

AN ACT to amend the penal law and the executive law, in relation to acts of terrorism and the New York state intelligence center

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

1 Section 1. Section 490.00 of the penal law, as added by chapter 300 of 2 the laws of 2001, is amended to read as follows:

3 § 490.00 Legislative findings.

4 The devastating consequences of the recent barbaric attack on the World Trade Center and the Pentagon underscore the compelling need for 5 б legislation that is specifically designed to combat the evils of terror-7 ism. Indeed, the bombings of American embassies in Kenya and Tanzania in 8 1998, the federal building in Oklahoma City in 1995, Pan Am Flight 9 number 103 in Lockerbie in 1988, the 1997 shooting atop the Empire State 10 Building, the 1994 murder of Ari Halberstam on the Brooklyn Bridge [and], the 1993 bombing of the World Trade Center, and the mass shoot-11 12 ings in San Bernardino, California and Charleston, South Carolina in 2015, the Orlando nightclub in 2016, the Las Vegas strip in 2017, and at 13 14 Marjory Stoneman Douglas High School in Parkland, Florida in 2018, among 15 others, will forever serve to remind us that terrorism is a serious and 16 deadly problem that disrupts public order and threatens individual safety both at home and around the world. Terrorism is inconsistent with 17 civilized society and cannot be tolerated. 18

19 Although certain federal laws seek to curb the incidence of terrorism, 20 there are no corresponding state laws that facilitate the prosecution 21 and punishment of terrorists in state courts. Inexplicably, there is 22 also no criminal penalty in this state for a person who solicits or 23 raises funds for, or provides other material support or resources to, 24 those who commit or encourage the commission of horrific and cowardly 25 acts of terrorism. Nor do our criminal laws proscribe the making of 26 terrorist threats or punish with appropriate severity those who hinder 27 the prosecution of terrorists. Finally, our death penalty statute must

3	A comprehensive state law is urgently needed to complement federal
4	laws in the fight against terrorism and to better protect all citizens
5	against terrorist acts and mass shootings . Accordingly, the legislature
6	finds that our laws must be strengthened to ensure that terrorists, as
7	well as those who solicit or provide financial and other support to
8	terrorists, are prosecuted and punished in state courts with appropriate
9	severity.
