STATE OF NEW YORK

8023--A

IN SENATE

March 20, 2018

Introduced by Sen. DILAN -- read twice and ordered printed, and when printed to be committed to the Committee on Cities -- committee discharged, bill amended, ordered reprinted as amended and recommitted to said committee

AN ACT to amend the real property tax law and the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to extending the time to file a final application under the industrial and commercial abatement program

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

Section 1. Legislative findings. The legislature hereby finds that the 2 industrial and commercial abatement program (ICAP) has been successful in encouraging economic growth and development in areas of New York city. ICAP imposes a strict requirement that the final application for ICAP benefits be filed within one year of the issuance of a project's first building permit. However, the ICAP legislation's strict one-year filing requirement results in harsh outcomes for applicants in situations where the New York city department of buildings issued a stop work order necessitating the substantial redesign of a project after the 10 issuance of the first building permit. In such instances, ICAP appli-11 cants are required to redesign their projects and substantively amend 12 their ICAP applications without providing any extension of the one year 13 final application filing period. The strict application of the ICAP 14 final application deadline in such circumstances is contrary to the 15 intent of the ICAP law and the New York city department of finance has attempted to address these inequities in the promulgation of new rules 16 defining what constitutes the initial building permit for ICAP projects. 17 18 This legislation would amend the strict final application deadline for 19 pre-existing projects and enable affected projects to receive ICAP bene-20 fits prospectively.

21 § 2. Paragraph (a) of subdivision 5 of section 489-ccccc of the real 22 property tax law is amended by adding a new subparagraph (iii) to read 23 as follows:

(iii) Extension of time to file final application. Notwithstanding 1 subparagraph (ii) of this paragraph, for projects with preliminary applications filed after May first, two thousand ten and the initial 3 building permit for such project was subject to a stop work order from the department of buildings, which stop work order resulted in the substantial redesign of the project prior to the re-instatement of such building permit, the time period to file the final application for such project shall be extended for a period of time between the initial issu-9 ance of the stop work order and the re-instatement of the building permit based on the substantial redesign of the project. The provisions 10 11 of this subparagraph shall be applicable to projects with preliminary applications filed after May first, two thousand ten and for which a 12 final certificate of occupancy has not yet been issued. 13

- § 3. Paragraph 1 of subdivision (e) of section 11-270 of the administrative code of the city of New York is amended by adding a new subparagraph (c) to read as follows:
- (c) Extension of time to file final application. Notwithstanding subparagraph (b) of this paragraph, for projects with preliminary applications filed after May first, two thousand ten and the initial building permit for such project was subject to a stop work order from the department of buildings, which stop work order resulted in the substantial redesign of the project prior to the re-instatement of such building permit, the time period to file the final application for such project shall be extended for a period of time between the initial issuance of the stop work order and the re-instatement of the building permit based on the substantial redesign of the project. The provisions of this subparagraph shall be applicable to projects with preliminary applications filed after May first, two thousand ten and for which a final certificate of occupancy has not yet been issued.
- § 4. This act shall take effect immediately.
