

STATE OF NEW YORK

8161

IN SENATE

April 11, 2018

Introduced by Sen. CARLUCCI -- read twice and ordered printed, and when printed to be committed to the Committee on Consumer Protection

AN ACT to amend the general business law, in relation to prohibiting internet service providers from disclosing personally identifiable information in the event that a consumer requests that his or her information not be disseminated

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

1 Section 1. The general business law is amended by adding a new section 2 399-k to read as follows:

3 § 399-k. Personally identifiable information; non-disclosure. 1. For 4 the purposes of this section, the following terms shall have the follow-
5 ing meanings:

6 (a) "Internet service provider" (ISP) means any business entity or 7 individual that provides consumers, businesses or organizations with 8 authenticated access to the internet as part of a service.

9 (b) "Consumer" means any person who agrees to pay a fee to an ISP for 10 access to the internet and who does not resell access.

11 (c) "Personally identifiable information" means information that iden-
12 tifies:

13 (i) a consumer by physical, electronic mail address, Internet Protocol
14 (IP) address or telephone number;

15 (ii) a consumer's internet search history or internet usage history; 16 or

17 (iii) any of the contents of a consumer's data-storage devices.

18 2. (a) An ISP operating in the state of New York shall honor a consum-
19 er's request that the ISP refrain from sharing, selling, providing or in 20 any way disclosing to a third party any of his or her personally iden-
21 tifiable information, whether such a request is made by postal mail, 22 electronic mail, telephone or in person. Such a request shall be deemed 23 to apply to the personally identifiable information for all individuals 24 that access the internet through usage of that consumer's internet
25 service account.

26 (b) No ISP shall refuse to provide its services to a consumer because 27 the consumer requested that his or her personally identifiable informa-28 tion not be disclosed or disseminated to a third party. No ISP shall in 29 any way disrupt, block or slow down the internet access of a consumer

1 because the consumer has requested that his or her personally identi-
2 able information not be disclosed or disseminated to a third party.

3 3. ISPs shall provide consumers with a copy, either in electronic or 4 written form, of their privacy policy that shall include its data 5 collection and use practices, third party relationships, purposes of 6 data collection and process by which consumers can exercise control over 7 personally identifiable information as provided in this section. The 8 privacy policy shall be provided to consumers upon entering into a 9 contract or agreement with the ISP and subsequently upon any significant 10 changes made to such policy.

11 4. An ISP may disclose personally identifiable information of a 12 consumer who requested that his or her information not be disclosed
13 under the following circumstance:

14 (a) pursuant to a grand jury subpoena, in accordance with subdivision
15 eight of section 190.30 of the criminal procedure law;

16 (b) pursuant to a warrant issued in accordance with article six 17 hundred ninety or seven hundred of the criminal procedure law;

18 (c) pursuant to a court order in a pending criminal proceeding upon a 19 showing that such personally identifiable information is relevant and 20 material to such criminal action or proceeding;

21 (d) pursuant to a court order in a pending civil proceeding upon a
22 showing of compelling need for such information that cannot be accommo-
23 dated by other means;

24 (e) to a court in a civil action for conversion commenced by the ISP
25 or in a civil action to enforce collection of unpaid subscription fees 26 or purchase amounts, and then only to the extent necessary to establish 27 the fact of the subscription delinquency or purchase agreement, and with 28 appropriate safeguards against authorized disclosure;

29 (f) to the consumer who is the subject of the information, upon 30 request and upon payment of any fee not to exceed the actual cost of 31 retrieving the information;

32 (g) to another ISP for purposes of reporting or preventing violations 33 of the published acceptable use policy or consumer service agreement of 34 the ISP; except that the recipient may further disclose the personally 35 identifiable information only as provided in this chapter; or

36 (h) to any person with the authorization of the consumer.

37 5. The ISP shall take all reasonable and necessary steps to maintain 38 the security and privacy of the personally identifiable information of a 39 consumer who has requested that his or her information not be disclosed 40 or disseminated.

41 6. A consumer who prevails or substantially prevails in an action
42 brought under this section is entitled to the greater of five hundred 43 dollars or actual damages. Costs, disbursements, and reasonable attorney 44 fees may be awarded to a party awarded damages for a violation of this 45 section. The action available under this section is exempted from any 46 mandatory arbitration clauses that may exist in the contract between the 47 ISP and consumer. In a civil action under this section, it is an affir-
48 mative defense that such information was released or otherwise available
49 in violation of this section notwithstanding reasonable practices estab-
50 lished and implemented by the defendant to prevent violations of this 51 section.

52 § 2. This act shall take effect on the ninetieth day after it shall 53 have become a law.
