1 agency for case assessment and direction under this article and further-2 more shall:

3 a. be the central point of contact for receipt of referrals for legal 4 representation;

5 b. make determinations of eligibility based on uniform criteria;

6 c. be responsible for providing representation to the clients or 7 referring the matter to one of the organizations or individual providers 8 with whom the lead legal services agency contracts to provide the 9 service; and

10 d. to the extent practical, identify and make use of pro bono services 11 in order to maximize available services efficiently and economically.

12 3. The court partner shall, as a corollary to the services provided by 13 the lead legal services agency, be responsible for providing procedures, 14 personnel, training, and case management and administration practices 15 that reflect best practices to ensure meaningful access to justice and 16 to guard against the involuntary waiver of rights, consistent with prin-17 ciples of judicial neutrality.

18 4. The participating legal services agency shall be selected by the 19 judicial council.

20 a. The judicial council shall be made up of one administrative judge 21 from each judicial district. There shall be at least one legal services 22 agency chosen for each judicial district.

23 b. The judicial council shall assess the applicants' capacity for 24 success, innovation, and efficiency, including, but not limited to, the 25 likelihood that the agency would deliver quality representation in an 26 effective manner that would meet critical needs in the community and 27 address the needs of the court with regard to access to justice and 28 calendar management, and the unique local unmet needs for representation 29 in the community.

30 c. Agencies approved pursuant to this section shall initially be 31 authorized for a three-year period, commencing on the effective date of 32 this section and subject to renewal for a period to be determined by the 33 judicial council, in consultation with the participating agency in light 34 of the agency's capacity and success. After the initial three-year peri-35 od, the judicial council shall distribute any future funds available as 36 the result of the termination or nonrenewal of an agency pursuant to the 37 process set forth in this subdivision.

38 d. Agencies shall be selected on the basis of whether, in the cases 39 proposed for service, the persons to be assisted are likely to be 40 opposed by a party who is represented by counsel. The judicial council 41 shall also consider the following factors in selecting the agencies:

42 (i) the likelihood that representation in the proposed case type tends 43 to affect whether a party prevails or otherwise obtains a significantly 44 more favorable outcome in a matter in which they would otherwise 45 frequently have judgment entered against them or suffer the deprivation 46 of the basic human need at issue;

47 (ii) the likelihood of reducing the risk of erroneous decisions;

48 (iii) the nature and severity of potential consequences for the unrep-49 resented party regarding the basic human need at stake if representation 50 is not provided;

51 (iv) whether the provision of legal services may eliminate or reduce 52 the potential need for and cost of public social services regarding the 53 basic human need at stake for the client and others in the client's 54 household;

55 (v) the unmet need for legal services in the geographic area to be 56 served; and

1 (vi) the availability and effectiveness of other types of court 2 services, such as self-help.

3 e. Each applicant shall do the following:

4 (i) identify the nature of the partnership between the court and the 5 other agencies or other providers that would work within the project;

6 (ii) describe the referral protocols to be used, the criteria that 7 would be employed in case assessment, why those cases were selected, the 8 manner to address conflicts without violating any attorney-client privi-9 lege when adverse parties are seeking representation through the 10 project, and the means for serving potential clients who need language 11 assistance within the court system; and 12 (iii) describe how the project would be administered, including how 13 the data collection requirements would be met without causing an undue 14 burden on the courts, clients, or the providers, the particular objec-15 tives of the project, strategies to evaluate their success in meeting 16 those objectives, and the means by which the project would serve the 17 particular needs of the community, such as by providing representation 18 to limited-English-speaking clients, the elderly and the disabled.

19 5. To ensure the most effective use of the funding available, the lead 20 legal services agency shall serve as a hub for all referrals, and the 21 point at which decisions are made about which referrals will be served 22 and by whom. Referrals shall emanate from the court, as well as from the 23 other agencies providing services through the program and shall be 24 directed to the lead legal services agency for review. That agency, or 25 another agency or attorney in the event of conflict, shall collect the 26 information necessary to assess whether the case should be served. In 27 performing that case assessment, the agency shall determine the relative 28 need for representation of the litigant, including all of the following:

29 a. case complexity;

30 b. whether the opposing party is represented;

31 c. the adversarial nature of the proceeding;

32 d. the availability and effectiveness of other types of services, such 33 as self-help, in light of the potential client and the nature of the 34 case;

35 e. barriers to access due to language;

36 f. barriers to access due to disability;

37 g. barriers to access due to literacy;

38 h. the merits of the case;

39 i. the nature and severity of potential consequences for the potential 40 client if representation is not provided; and 41 j. whether the provision of legal services may eliminate or reduce the 42 need for and cost of public social services for the potential client and 43 others in the potential client's household.

44 6. The decision and level of representation should be made at the sole 45 discretion of the lead agency, organization, or attorney based on the 46 factors set forth above.

47 7. If both parties to a dispute are financially eligible for represen-48 tation, each proposal shall ensure that representation for both sides is 49 evaluated. In these and other cases in which conflict issues arise, the 50 lead legal services agency shall have referral protocols with other 51 agencies and providers, such as a private attorney panel, to address 52 those conflicts.

53 8. Each lead agency, organization, or attorney shall be responsible 54 for keeping records on the referrals accepted and those not accepted for 55 representation, and the reasons for each, in a manner that does not 56 violate any privileged communications between the agency and the

1 prospective client. Each lead agency, organization or attorney shall be 2 provided with standardized data collection tools to be determined by the 3 judicial council, and required to track case information for each refer-4 ral to allow the evaluation to measure the number of cases served, the 5 level of service required, and the outcomes for the clients in each 6 case. In addition to this information on the effect of the represen-7 tation on the clients, data shall be collected regarding the outcomes 8 for the trial courts. This data shall be compiled in a report to be 9 submitted to the judicial council on a quarterly basis.

10 § 723-a. Compensation and reimbursement. 1. Compensation for legal 11 services providers shall be based upon deliverables as described in the 12 contracts with those providers. Compensation for all counsel assigned 13 in accordance with a plan of the court, other organization, or a bar 14 association conforming to the requirements of this article whereby the 15 services of private counsel are rotated and coordinated by an adminis-16 trator shall at the conclusion of the representation receive:

17 a. for real property proceedings no less than fifty dollars per hour; 18 b. for cases involving sustenance no less than sixty dollars per hour; 19 and 20 c. for cases involving children no less than sixty dollars per hour.

21 2. For all representation, compensation and reimbursement shall 22 include reimbursement for reasonably incurred expenses.

23 3. Compensation for representation in such cases shall be guided by 24 the minimum amounts set forth above. The compensation minimums are set 25 for counsel only, not support or administrative staff work. Work for 26 support or administrative staff should be set by individual counsel, 27 firm, or organization and should be set at a lower rate than compen-28 sation for counsel.

29 4. There shall be no differential in compensation rate for out of 30 court time expended and in court time expended. Rates should be set at 31 the minimum stated above or higher based on the complexity of the case 32 and expertise of the attorney. Such rates shall be subject to the 33 approval of the court of jurisdiction based on the complexity of the 34 case, expertise of the attorney, the market, and any other factors the 35 court deems just and appropriate.

36 5. There should be no cap on the amount of compensation or reimburse-37 ment received for representation. The amount of compensation and 38 reimbursement is subject to court approval as described above.

39 6. Compensation and reimbursement for appeal shall be fixed by the 40 appellate court not to be below the rates set forth in this section.

41 7. In extraordinary circumstances a trial or appellate court may 42 provide for payment of compensation and reimbursement for expenses 43 before the completion of the representation upon application.

44 § 2. The opening paragraph of section 722 of the county law, as 45 amended by chapter 7 of the laws of 2007, is amended to read as follows:

46 The governing body of each county and the governing body of the city 47 in which a county is wholly contained shall place in operation through-48 out the county a plan for providing counsel to persons charged with a 49 crime or who are entitled to counsel pursuant to article eighteen-C of 50 this chapter, section two hundred sixty-two or section eleven hundred 51 twenty of the family court act, article six-C of the correction law, 52 section four hundred seven of the surrogate's court procedure act or 53 article ten of the mental hygiene law, who are financially unable to 54 obtain counsel. Each plan shall also provide for investigative, expert 55 and other services necessary for an adequate defense. The plan shall 56 conform to one of the following:

§ 3. Subdivision 3 of section 1303 of the real property actions and proceedings law, as amended by section 5 of part Q of chapter 73 of the laws of 2016, is amended to read as follows:

3. The notice to any mortgagor required by paragraph (a) of subdivision one of this section shall appear as follows:

Help for Homeowners in Foreclosure

New York State Law requires that we send you this notice about the foreclosure process. Please read it carefully.

Summons and Complaint

You are in danger of losing your home. If you fail to respond to the summons and complaint in this foreclosure action, you may lose your home. Please read the summons and complaint carefully. You should immediately contact an attorney or your local legal aid office to obtain advice on how to protect yourself.

Sources of Information and Assistance

The State encourages you to become informed about your options in foreclosure. In addition to seeking assistance from an attorney or legal aid office, there are government agencies and non-profit organizations that you may contact for information about possible options, including trying to work with your lender during this process. You may be entitled to assigned counsel if you are a veteran who is financially unable to obtain representation.

To locate an entity near you, you may call the toll-free helpline maintained by the New York State Department of Financial Services at (enter number) or visit the Department's website at (enter web address).

Rights and Obligations

YOU ARE NOT REQUIRED TO LEAVE YOUR HOME AT THIS TIME. You have the right to stay in your home during the foreclosure process. You are not required to leave your home unless and until your property is sold at auction pursuant to a judgment of foreclosure and sale.

Regardless of whether you choose to remain in your home, YOU ARE REQUIRED TO TAKE CARE OF YOUR PROPERTY and pay property taxes in accordance with state and local law.

Foreclosure rescue scams

Be careful of people who approach you with offers to "save" your home. There are individuals who watch for notices of foreclosure actions in order to unfairly profit from a homeowner's distress. You should be extremely careful about any such promises and any suggestions that you pay them a fee or sign over your deed. State law requires anyone offering such services for profit to enter into a contract which fully describes the services they will perform and fees they will charge, and which prohibits them from taking any money from you until they have completed all such promised services.

§ 4. This act shall take effect immediately.
