IN ASSEMBLY

March 12, 2020

Introduced by M. of A. DiPIETRO, LiPETRI, STEC, PALMESANO -- read once and referred to the Committee on Codes

AN ACT to amend the penal law, the criminal procedure law and the civil practice law and rules, in relation to the justified use of physical force

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

1 Section 1. Section 35.15 of the penal law, as added by chapter 73 of 2 the laws of 1968, subdivisions 1 and 2 as amended by chapter 511 of the 3 laws of 2004, is amended to read as follows:

4 § 35.15 Justification; use of physical force in defense of a person.

5 1. A person may, subject to the provisions of subdivision two of this 6 section, use physical force upon another person when and to the extent 7 he or she reasonably believes such to be necessary to defend himself, 8 herself or a third person from what he or she reasonably believes to be 9 the use or imminent use of unlawful physical force by such other person, 10 unless:

11 (a) The latter's conduct was provoked by the actor with intent to 12 cause physical injury to another person; or

(b) The actor was the initial aggressor; except that in such case the use of physical force is nevertheless justifiable if the actor has withdrawn from the encounter and effectively communicated such withdrawal to such other person but the latter persists in continuing the incident by the use or threatened imminent use of unlawful physical force; or 18 (c) The physical force involved is the product of a combat by agree-19 ment not specifically authorized by law.

20 2. A person may not use deadly physical force upon another person 21 under circumstances specified in subdivision one of this section unless: 22 (a) The actor reasonably believes that such other person is using or 23 about to use deadly physical force. [Even in such case, however, the 24 actor may not use deadly physical force if he or she knows that with 25 complete personal safety, to oneself and others he or she may avoid the 26 necessity of so doing by retreating; except that the] The actor is under 27 no duty to retreat if he or she is:

EXPLANATION--Matter in italics (underscored) is new; matter in brackets [-] is old law to be omitted.

1	(i) in his or her dwelling or any other place that he or she is
2	lawfully permitted to be and is not the initial aggressor; or
3	(ii) a police officer or peace officer or a person assisting a police
4	officer or a peace officer at the latter's direction, acting pursuant to
5	section 35.30 of this article; or
б	(b) He or she reasonably believes that such other person is committing
7	or attempting to commit a kidnapping, forcible rape, forcible criminal
8	sexual act or robbery; or
9	(c) He or she reasonably believes that such other person is committing
10	or attempting to commit a burglary, and the circumstances are such that
11	the use of deadly physical force is authorized by subdivision three of
12	section 35.20 of this article .
13	§ 2. Section 35.05 of the penal law is amended by adding a new subdi-
$14^{-10}$	vision 3 to read as follows:
15	3. When a defendant has offered the defense of justification for the 16	threatened or actual use of deadly force, the court shall instruct the
17	jury that they shall not be permitted to consider the possibility of
18	retreat as a factor in determining whether a person who threatened or
19	used deadly force reasonably believed that the force was necessary to
20	prevent death or serious bodily injury to himself or another.
21	§ 3. Section 35.10 of the penal law is amended by adding a new subdi-
22	vision 7 to read as follows:
23	7. A person who is justified in threatening or using physical force
24	against another person in defense of himself, herself, another person,
25	or property pursuant to this section is immune from criminal and civil
26	liability for any damages incurred by the aggressor pursuant to the
27	application of reasonable physical force or threatened use of force.
28	§ 4. Subdivision 1 of section 120.14 of the penal law, as amended by
29	chapter 222 of the laws of 1994, is amended to read as follows:
30	1. He or she intentionally places or attempts to place another person
31	in reasonable fear of physical injury, serious physical injury or death
32	by displaying a deadly weapon, dangerous instrument or what appears to
33	be a pistol, revolver, rifle, shotgun, machine gun or other firearm;
34	provided, however, that where a person is justified in the use of phys-
35	ical force upon another person in self-defense or defense of a third
36	person, or in defense of premises under the provisions of article thir-
37	ty-five of this chapter, such person shall not be liable under the
38	provisions of this subdivision; or
39	§ 5. Section 140.10 of the criminal procedure law is amended by adding
40	a new subdivision 4 to read as follows:
41	4. No person shall be arrested pursuant to this section for a use of
42	force, unless the police officer believes that there is probable cause
43	to find that the use of force was not justifiable under article thirty-
44	five of the penal law.
45	§ 6. Section 180.10 of the criminal procedure law is amended by adding
46	a new subdivision 8 to read as follows:
47	8. Upon arraignment, if a defendant offers the defense of justifica-
48	tion to any allegation involving the use of physical force, including
49	deadly physical force, the court shall dismiss the charges unless the
50	court determines by clear and convincing evidence that the use of such
51	physical force by the defendant was not reasonable or justified.
52	§ 7. Rule 3211 of the civil practice law and rules is amended by
53	adding a new subdivision (i) to read as follows:
54	(i) (1) Motion to dismiss; use of force; justification. A party may
55	move to dismiss a cause of action on the basis that the moving party
56	used reasonable force under section 35.15 of the penal law. Upon filing

A. 10114

1	a motion to dismiss, the court shall hold a hearing prior to trial and
2	shall grant such motion unless the party responding to the motion proves
3	by clear and convincing evidence that the use of force was not reason-
4	able or justified.
5	(2) The court shall award reasonable attorney fees, court costs,
6	compensation for any loss of income and all other expenses incurred by a
7	person in defense of any civil action arising from the person's use of
8	reasonable force pursuant to section 35.15 of the penal law if the court
9	finds that the defendant's actions were justified and dismisses the case
10	under this subdivision.
11	§ 8. The civil practice law and rules is amended by adding a new
12	section 3012-c to read as follows:
13	§ 3012-c. Certificate of merit in certain actions to recover damages
14	for personal injury, injury to property or wrongful death. (a) In any
15	action to recover damages for personal injury, injury to property or
16	wrongful death brought by an individual who committed a crime against
17	the respondent, where the injuries complained of resulted from a use of
18	physical force or deadly physical force by the respondent at the time of
19	the commission of the crime, the complaint shall be accompanied by a
20	certificate, signed by the attorney for the plaintiff, certifying that
21	the attorney has reviewed the facts of the case and that, to the best of
22	such attorney's knowledge, information and belief there is a reasonable
23	basis for the commencement of such action and that the respondent was
24	not justified in the use of physical force or deadly physical force
25	against the plaintiff.
26	(b) Where a certificate is required pursuant to this section, a single
27	certificate shall be filed for each action even if more than one defend-
28	ant has been named in the complaint or is subsequently named.
29	(c) If the attorney for the plaintiff fails to provide the certificate
30	as required by subdivision (a) of this section the court may dismiss the
31	complaint or make such final or conditional order with regard to such
32	failure as is just including but not limited to denial of the accrual of
33	any interest, costs, attorneys' fees and other fees, relating to the
34	underlying mortgage debt. Any such dismissal shall be without prejudice
35	and shall not be on the merits.
36	§ 9. This act shall take effect immediately; provided however, that
37	section five of this act shall take effect upon the repeal of subdivi-
38	sion 4 of section 140.10 of the criminal procedure law pursuant to
39	section 59 of chapter 222 of the laws of 1994, as amended.
