CONCURRENT RESOLUTION OF THE SENATE AND ASSEMBLY

proposing amendments to section 11 of article 1 of the constitution, in relation to equality of rights and protection against discrimination

Section 1. Resolved (if the Senate concur), That section 11 of article 1 of the constitution be amended to read as follows:

§ 11. [~~No person shall be denied the equal protection of the laws of this state or any subdivision thereof.~~] No person shall, because of race, color, ethnicity, nationality, national origin, sex including pregnancy, sexual orientation and gender identity or expression, disability, age, creed or religion, or like grounds used to deprive a class of the people of New York of their equal opportunity to enjoy a full and productive life, be subjected to any discrimination in or to any denial or abridgment of his or her equal civil rights by any other person or by any firm, corporation, or institution, or by the state or any agency or subdivision of the state. The words "civil rights" mean any legal right that impacts such equal opportunity.

This section shall not be construed to preclude bona fide qualifications for a job, position, benefit or service in a particular capacity if authorized by law with respect to disability, age or religion or any legal requirement of reasonable accommodation with respect to disability, pregnancy or religious practice or to invalidate or prevent the adoption of any law, regulation, program or activity that has as its object the amelioration of conditions of historically disadvantaged individuals or communities, including those this section protects against discrimination in or any denial or abridgment of equal civil rights.

EXPLANATION--Matter in italics (underscored) is new; matter in brackets [-] is old law to be omitted.
