To effectuate the purposes of this article, the commissioner may request and shall be entitled to receive from any state agency, and the same are authorized to provide, such assistance, services, facilities, and data as will enable the division to carry out its functions, powers and duties.

§ 1014. Regulation review. 1. In developing a rule, each agency head shall, prior to submitting a notice of proposed or revised rulemaking for publication in the state register pursuant to section two hundred two of the state administrative procedure act, submit to the commissioner, in such form and manner as the commissioner may prescribe, the complete text of the rule, any impact statements which would be required by article two of the state administrative procedure act to propose the rule, and any cost-benefit analysis, risk assessment and/or the results of a negotiated rulemaking or policy dialogue undertaken in conjunction with the development of the rule.

2. The commissioner shall review the agency's submission to determine whether it is complete and in accordance with the goals, criteria and requirements of this article and article two of the state administrative procedure act, including whether the rule:

(b) is consistent with and necessary to achieve a specific legislative intent of promoting economic growth or protecting the health and safety of the public;

(c) is consistent with state statutory requirements;

(d) does not impose a mandate on local governments, school districts or businesses that is not fully funded, except as specifically required by state statute;

(e) is clearly written so that its meaning will be easily understood by those persons affected by it;

(f) does not unnecessarily duplicate or exceed existing federal or state statutes or rules;

(g) prescribes methodologies or requirements that allow regulated parties flexibility and encourage innovation in meeting the legislative or administrative requirements and objectives underlying the rule;

(j) is based upon the best scientific, technical and economic information that can reasonably and affordably be obtained; and

(k) if possible and practical, favors market-oriented solutions and performance standards over command-and-control regulation.

3. If the commissioner determines that the submission is complete, complies with the provisions of subdivision two of this section, will promote economic growth, or is vital to protect the health and safety of the public, the commissioner shall authorize the agency to submit the rulemaking for publication in the state register pursuant to section two hundred two of the state administrative procedure act.

4. The division may assist the agency in developing a proposal that meets the requirements of subdivision two of this section.
