§ 2. Subdivision (a) of section 70 of the domestic relations law, as amended by chapter 457 of the laws of 1988, is amended to read as follows:

(a) Where a minor child is residing within this state, either parent may apply to the supreme court for a writ of habeas corpus to have such minor child brought before such court; and on the return thereof, the court, on due consideration, may award the natural guardianship, charge and custody of such child to either parent for such time, under such regulations and restrictions, and with such provisions and directions, as the case may require, and may at any time thereafter vacate or modify such order. In all cases there shall be no prima facie right to the custody of the child in either parent, but the court shall determine solely what is for the best interest of the child, and what will best promote its welfare and happiness, and make award accordingly subject, however, to the provisions of subdivision seven of section two hundred forty of this chapter.

§ 3. Subdivisions (a), (b) and (c) of section 651 of the family court act, subdivisions (a) and (c) as amended by chapter 85 of the laws of 1996 and subdivision (b) as amended by chapter 657 of the laws of 2003, are amended to read as follows:

(a) When referred from the supreme court or county court to the family court, the family court has jurisdiction to determine, in accordance with subdivision one of section two hundred forty of the domestic relations law and with the same powers possessed by the supreme court in addition to its own powers, habeas corpus proceedings and proceedings brought by petition and order to show cause, for the determination of the custody or visitation of minors subject, however, to the limitations set forth in subdivision seven of section two hundred forty of the domestic relations law regarding the awarding of custody or unsupervised visitation to a person who has been convicted of any of the offenses enumerated in such subdivision.

(b) When initiated in the family court, the family court has jurisdiction to determine, in accordance with subdivision one of section two hundred forty of the domestic relations law and with the same powers possessed by the supreme court in addition to its own powers, habeas corpus proceedings and proceedings brought by petition and order to show cause, for the determination of the custody or visitation of minors, including applications by a grandparent or grandparents for visitation or custody rights pursuant to section seventy-two or two hundred forty of the domestic relations law subject, however, to the limitations set forth in subdivision seven of section two hundred forty of the domestic relations law regarding the awarding of custody or unsupervised visitation to a person who has been convicted of any of the offenses enumerated in such subdivision.

(c) When initiated in the family court pursuant to a petition under part eight of article ten of this act or section three hundred fifty-eight-a of the social services law, the family court has jurisdiction to enforce or modify orders or judgments of the supreme court relating to the visitation of minors in foster care, notwithstanding any limitation contained in subdivision (b) of section four hundred sixty-seven of this act but subject, however, to the limitations set forth in subdivision seven of section two hundred forty of the domestic relations law regarding the awarding of custody or unsupervised visitation to a person who has been convicted of any of the offenses enumerated in such subdivision.

§ 4. This act shall take effect immediately.
