MEMORIALIZING Governor Andrew M. Cuomo to proclaim September 2019, as Ovarian Cancer Awareness Month in the State of New York

WHEREAS, It is the custom of this Legislative Body to recognize official months that are set aside to increase awareness of serious issues that affect the lives of citizens of New York State; and

WHEREAS, Attendant to such concern, and in full accord with its long-standing traditions, it is the sense of this Legislative Body to memorialize Governor Andrew M. Cuomo to proclaim September 2019, as Ovarian Cancer Awareness Month in the State of New York; and

WHEREAS, Ovarian cancer is the fifth leading cause of cancer-related deaths in women between the ages of 35 and 74, and an estimated one out of 71 women will develop ovarian cancer in her lifetime; and

WHEREAS, The American Cancer Society estimated that there are approximately 1,500 new cases of ovarian cancer in New York State each year, and nearly 1,000 New Yorkers die from the disease; and

WHEREAS, A family history of ovarian cancer increases the risk for the disease, in addition to a history of any type of cancer due to an inherited gene mutation; and

WHEREAS, Symptoms of ovarian cancer can mask themselves as more common conditions such as digestive and bladder problems, nausea, and lack of appetite, thus reducing the concern for immediate medical attention; and

WHEREAS, There are three cell types in which cancerous tumors can originate from within the ovaries: epithelial, germ, and stromal; left undetected, these normally benign tumors can become malignant and metastasize throughout the body; and

WHEREAS, There are a multitude of risk factors for women associated with ovarian cancer, such as age, obesity, reproductive history, hormone therapy, and diet; and

WHEREAS, Screening for ovarian cancer is instrumental in detecting the disease, while early detection is a measure for manageable treatment and late detection can result in the spread of the cancer; and

WHEREAS, Treatment for all stages of ovarian cancer can involve the removal of the uterus, ovaries, and fallopian tubes, followed by chemotherapy and regular physical exams; and

WHEREAS, The New York State Legislature continues its commitment to educate the public in the importance of early detection and prevention, to support institutions that further research and knowledge in the treatment of ovarian cancer, and to promote an environment in which a healthy lifestyle will result in healthy minds and bodies; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED, That this Legislative Body memorialize Governor Andrew M. Cuomo to proclaim September 2019, as Ovarian Cancer Awareness Month in the State of New York; and be it further

RESOLVED, That a copy of this Resolution, suitably engrossed, be transmitted to The Honorable Andrew M. Cuomo, Governor of the State of New York.
