Introduced by Sen. STAVISKY -- read twice and ordered printed, and when printed to be committed to the Committee on Higher Education

AN ACT to amend the education law, in relation to enacting the "higher education community service act"

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

Section 1. Legislative findings. The legislature hereby finds and declares that the American tradition of volunteer community service is essential to the common good and is vital to the success of not-for-profit agencies, institutions and organizations dealing with a vast array of critical social problems. It recognizes growing support for the idea that postsecondary students should receive recognition for substantial commitment to volunteer service, and should be given greater encouragement to participate in volunteer community service activities. Volunteers and volunteer programs should be praised for their efforts in helping and serving others, which result in changes in the way the community views young people and in the way young people view their responsibilities to the community.

The legislature further declares its desire to promote further integration of community service at institutions of higher education by encouraging student-initiated and student-designated community service projects.

§ 2. The education law is amended by adding a new section 319 to read as follows:

§ 319. Higher education community service act. 1. Short title. This section shall be known and may be cited as the "higher education community service act".

2. Establishment of higher education community service act. There is hereby established a higher education community service act for the purpose of promoting and recognizing volunteer service involvement by
