STATE OF NEW YORK

2133

2019-2020 Regular Sessions

IN SENATE

January 22, 2019

Introduced by Sen. SANDERS -- read twice and ordered printed, and when printed to be committed to the Committee on Banks

AN ACT to amend the banking law, in relation to creating the consumer overdraft protection act

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

1	Section 1. The banking law is amended by adding a new article 2-A to
2	read as follows:
3	ARTICLE 2-A
4	CONSUMER OVERDRAFT PROTECTION ACT
5	Section 60. Legislative intent.
б	61. Definitions.
7	62. Restrictions on overdraft protection programs or services.
8	63. Restrictions on advertising of overdraft protection programs
9	or services.
10	§ 60. Legislative intent. The legislature hereby finds that many New
11	York state consumers are not informed of overdraft protection and/or
12	fees until after such event has taken place. It is the legislature's
13	intent to ensure that consumers are informed of their options in regard
14	to overdraft protection prior to incurring fees by establishing appro-
15	priate protections for such consumers.
16	§ 61. Definitions. For purposes of this article, the following terms
17	shall have the following meanings:
18	1. "Overdraft protection fee" means any fee or charge imposed in
19	connection with any account on which checks or other debits are paid by
20	the institution in which such account is held even though there are
21	insufficient funds in the account to cover such checks or other debits,
22	unless such fee or charge:
23	(a) is imposed on an incidental basis as a customer accommodation and
24	not more than three such overdraft fees are imposed during any calendar
25	year;

EXPLANATION--Matter in italics (underscored) is new; matter in brackets [-] is old law to be omitted.

LBD05334-01-9

S. 2133

1 is imposed in connection with an extension of credit through an (b) 2 overdraft line of credit through an overdraft line or credit program 3 where such fee or charge was considered a finance charge under this 4 article, as in effect prior to the enactment of this article; or 5 (c) has been disclosed in connection with a program under which the б overdraft is covered by funds transferred from another deposit, share, 7 or other asset account. 8 2. "Check" means a draft, payable on demand and drawn on or payable 9 through or at an office of a bank, whether or not negotiable, that is 10 handled for forward collection or return, including a substitute check and a traveler's check and does not include a noncash item or an item 11 12 payable in a medium other than United States dollars. 13 3. "Other debits" means withdrawals from an account by the consumer 14 through an automated teller machine and electronic fund transfers from an account that are initiated or authorized by the consumer. 15 16 4. "Electronic fund transfer" means any transfer of funds, other than a transaction originated by check, draft, or similar paper instrument, 17 which is initiated through an electronic terminal, telephonic instru-18 19 ment, or computer or magnetic tape so as to order, instruct, or author-20 ize a financial institution to debit or credit an account. Such term 21 includes, but is not limited to, point-of-sale transfers, automated teller machine transactions, direct deposits or withdrawals of funds, 22 and transfers initiated by telephone. Such term does not include: 23 (a) any check guarantee or authorization service which does not 24 25 directly result in a debit or credit to a customer's account; 26 (b) any transfer of funds, other than those processed by automated 27 clearinghouse, made by a financial institution on behalf of a consumer by means of a service that transfers funds at either Federal Reserve 28 29 banks or other depository institutions which are not designated primari-30 ly to transfer funds on behalf of a consumer; 31 (c) any transaction the primary purpose of which is the purchase or 32 sale of securities or commodities through a broker-dealer registered 33 with or regulated by the Securities and Exchange Commission; 34 (d) any automatic transfer from a savings account to a demand deposit 35 account pursuant to an agreement between a consumer and a financial institution for the purpose of covering an overdraft or maintaining an 36 37 agreed upon minimum balance in the consumer's demand deposit account; or 38 (e) any transfer of funds which is initiated by a telephone conversa-39 tion between a consumer and an officer or employee of a financial institution which is not pursuant to a prearranged plan and under which peri-40 41 odic or recurring transfers are not contemplated; as determined under 42 regulation of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System. 43 5. "Account" means any account intended for use by and generally used 44 by a consumer primarily for personal, family, or household purposes into 45 which the consumer deposits funds. 46 6. "Transaction account" means a deposit or account on which the depositor or account holder is permitted to make withdrawals by negotiable 47 48 or transferable instrument, payment orders of withdrawal, telephone 49 transfers, or other similar items for the purpose of making payments or transfers to third persons or others. Such term includes demand depos-50 51 its, negotiable order of withdrawal accounts, saving deposits subject to automatic transfers, and share draft accounts. 52 53 § 62. Restrictions on overdraft protection programs or services. 1. 54 General provisions. In the case of any transaction account of a consumer at any institution, no overdraft protection fee may be imposed on such 55 56 account for any extension of funds by the institution to cover any check

S. 2133

1	or other debit for which there are insufficient funds in the consumer's
2	account to pay such check or other debit, unless:
3	(a) the consumer has provided specific written consent to any program
4	or service that provides for charging such fees in connection with any
5	such extension of funds;
б	(b) such fee is imposed pursuant to the terms of a written agreement
7	with the consumer which discloses, in a clear and conspicuous manner:
8	(i) the amount of any fee imposed in connection with paying an over-
9	draft;
10	(ii) any applicable disclosure required by this article in connection
11	with such extension of credit;
12	(iii) the categories of transaction for which a fee for payment of an
13	overdraft may be imposed, including whether an overdraft created by
14	withdrawals at automated teller machines or other electronic fund trans-
15	fers will be covered and a fee imposed;
16	(iv) the time period by which the consumer must repay or cover any
17	extension of credit in the form of payment of an overdraft;
18	(v) the circumstances under which the institution in which an account
19	is held will not pay an overdraft; and
20	(vi) other information required to be disclosed by law;
21	(c) such fee is separately and conspicuously disclosed, each time the
22	fee is imposed, in any periodic statement provided to the consumer with
23	respect to such account and is included in the calculation of the annual
24	percentage rate as required by state and federal law;
25	(d) In no case shall overdraft fees over the course of one year exceed
26	one hundred dollars, including any additional charges and/or fees
27	imposed pursuant to this section;
00
28	(e) Every institution shall establish an automatic bounce system for
28 29	(e) Every institution shall establish an automatic bounce system for any amount exceeding the limit prescribed by paragraph (d) of this
29 30 31	any amount exceeding the limit prescribed by paragraph (d) of this subdivision. 2. Monthly fee. Any institution may require a fee of one dollar for
29 30 31 32	 any amount exceeding the limit prescribed by paragraph (d) of this subdivision. 2. Monthly fee. Any institution may require a fee of one dollar for any checking account for the maintenance of an automatic bounce system.
29 30 31 32 33	 any amount exceeding the limit prescribed by paragraph (d) of this subdivision. 2. Monthly fee. Any institution may require a fee of one dollar for any checking account for the maintenance of an automatic bounce system. Such fee must be disclosed pursuant to subdivision one of this section.
29 30 31 32 33 34	<pre>any amount exceeding the limit prescribed by paragraph (d) of this subdivision. 2. Monthly fee. Any institution may require a fee of one dollar for any checking account for the maintenance of an automatic bounce system. Such fee must be disclosed pursuant to subdivision one of this section. 3. Clarification relating to overdraft fees. In case of any trans-</pre>
29 30 31 32 33 34 35	<pre>any amount exceeding the limit prescribed by paragraph (d) of this subdivision. 2. Monthly fee. Any institution may require a fee of one dollar for any checking account for the maintenance of an automatic bounce system. Such fee must be disclosed pursuant to subdivision one of this section. 3. Clarification relating to overdraft fees. In case of any trans- action account of a consumer at any institution, the prohibition against</pre>
29 30 31 32 33 34 35 36	 any amount exceeding the limit prescribed by paragraph (d) of this subdivision. 2. Monthly fee. Any institution may require a fee of one dollar for any checking account for the maintenance of an automatic bounce system. Such fee must be disclosed pursuant to subdivision one of this section. 3. Clarification relating to overdraft fees. In case of any transaction account of a consumer at any institution, the prohibition against an overdraft protection fee under subdivision one of this section shall
29 30 31 32 33 34 35 36 37	 any amount exceeding the limit prescribed by paragraph (d) of this subdivision. 2. Monthly fee. Any institution may require a fee of one dollar for any checking account for the maintenance of an automatic bounce system. Such fee must be disclosed pursuant to subdivision one of this section. 3. Clarification relating to overdraft fees. In case of any transaction account of a consumer at any institution, the prohibition against an overdraft protection fee under subdivision one of this section shall apply regardless of whether the amount of such fee is the same as, or
29 30 31 32 33 34 35 36 37 38	 any amount exceeding the limit prescribed by paragraph (d) of this subdivision. 2. Monthly fee. Any institution may require a fee of one dollar for any checking account for the maintenance of an automatic bounce system. Such fee must be disclosed pursuant to subdivision one of this section. 3. Clarification relating to overdraft fees. In case of any transaction account of a consumer at any institution, the prohibition against an overdraft protection fee under subdivision one of this section shall apply regardless of whether the amount of such fee is the same as, or less than, any fee imposed by the institution with respect to such
29 30 31 32 33 34 35 36 37 38 39	 any amount exceeding the limit prescribed by paragraph (d) of this subdivision. 2. Monthly fee. Any institution may require a fee of one dollar for any checking account for the maintenance of an automatic bounce system. Such fee must be disclosed pursuant to subdivision one of this section. 3. Clarification relating to overdraft fees. In case of any transaction account of a consumer at any institution, the prohibition against an overdraft protection fee under subdivision one of this section shall apply regardless of whether the amount of such fee is the same as, or less than, any fee imposed by the institution with respect to such account for a check or other debit that is returned unpaid.
29 30 31 32 33 34 35 36 37 38 39 40	 any amount exceeding the limit prescribed by paragraph (d) of this subdivision. 2. Monthly fee. Any institution may require a fee of one dollar for any checking account for the maintenance of an automatic bounce system. Such fee must be disclosed pursuant to subdivision one of this section. 3. Clarification relating to overdraft fees. In case of any transaction account of a consumer at any institution, the prohibition against an overdraft protection fee under subdivision one of this section shall apply regardless of whether the amount of such fee is the same as, or less than, any fee imposed by the institution with respect to such account for a check or other debit that is returned unpaid. 4. Prohibition on misrepresentation. It shall be a violation of this
29 30 31 32 33 34 35 36 37 38 39 40 41	<pre>any amount exceeding the limit prescribed by paragraph (d) of this subdivision. 2. Monthly fee. Any institution may require a fee of one dollar for any checking account for the maintenance of an automatic bounce system. Such fee must be disclosed pursuant to subdivision one of this section. 3. Clarification relating to overdraft fees. In case of any trans- action account of a consumer at any institution, the prohibition against an overdraft protection fee under subdivision one of this section shall apply regardless of whether the amount of such fee is the same as, or less than, any fee imposed by the institution with respect to such account for a check or other debit that is returned unpaid. 4. Prohibition on misrepresentation. It shall be a violation of this article if any institution:</pre>
29 30 31 32 33 34 35 36 37 38 39 40 41 42	<pre>any amount exceeding the limit prescribed by paragraph (d) of this subdivision. 2. Monthly fee. Any institution may require a fee of one dollar for any checking account for the maintenance of an automatic bounce system. Such fee must be disclosed pursuant to subdivision one of this section. 3. Clarification relating to overdraft fees. In case of any trans- action account of a consumer at any institution, the prohibition against an overdraft protection fee under subdivision one of this section shall apply regardless of whether the amount of such fee is the same as, or less than, any fee imposed by the institution with respect to such account for a check or other debit that is returned unpaid. 4. Prohibition on misrepresentation. It shall be a violation of this article if any institution: (a) will not extend funds under specific circumstance to cover an</pre>
29 30 31 32 33 34 35 36 37 38 39 40 41 42 43	any amount exceeding the limit prescribed by paragraph (d) of this subdivision. 2. Monthly fee. Any institution may require a fee of one dollar for any checking account for the maintenance of an automatic bounce system. Such fee must be disclosed pursuant to subdivision one of this section. 3. Clarification relating to overdraft fees. In case of any trans- action account of a consumer at any institution, the prohibition against an overdraft protection fee under subdivision one of this section shall apply regardless of whether the amount of such fee is the same as, or less than, any fee imposed by the institution with respect to such account for a check or other debit that is returned unpaid. 4. Prohibition on misrepresentation. It shall be a violation of this article if any institution: (a) will not extend funds under specific circumstance to cover an overdraft in any transaction account of a consumer at the institution;
29 30 31 32 33 34 35 36 37 38 39 40 41 42 43 44	<pre>any amount exceeding the limit prescribed by paragraph (d) of this subdivision. 2. Monthly fee. Any institution may require a fee of one dollar for any checking account for the maintenance of an automatic bounce system. Such fee must be disclosed pursuant to subdivision one of this section. 3. Clarification relating to overdraft fees. In case of any trans- action account of a consumer at any institution, the prohibition against an overdraft protection fee under subdivision one of this section shall apply regardless of whether the amount of such fee is the same as, or less than, any fee imposed by the institution with respect to such account for a check or other debit that is returned unpaid. 4. Prohibition on misrepresentation. It shall be a violation of this article if any institution:</pre>
$\begin{array}{c} 29\\ 30\\ 31\\ 32\\ 33\\ 34\\ 35\\ 36\\ 37\\ 38\\ 39\\ 40\\ 41\\ 42\\ 43\\ 44\\ 45\\ \end{array}$	<pre>any amount exceeding the limit prescribed by paragraph (d) of this subdivision. 2. Monthly fee. Any institution may require a fee of one dollar for any checking account for the maintenance of an automatic bounce system. Such fee must be disclosed pursuant to subdivision one of this section. 3. Clarification relating to overdraft fees. In case of any trans- action account of a consumer at any institution, the prohibition against an overdraft protection fee under subdivision one of this section shall apply regardless of whether the amount of such fee is the same as, or less than, any fee imposed by the institution with respect to such account for a check or other debit that is returned unpaid. 4. Prohibition on misrepresentation. It shall be a violation of this article if any institution: (a) will not extend funds under specific circumstance to cover an overdraft in any transaction account of a consumer at the institution; or (b) reserves the right to extend funds to pay any such overdraft on a</pre>
$\begin{array}{c} 29\\ 30\\ 31\\ 32\\ 33\\ 34\\ 35\\ 36\\ 37\\ 38\\ 39\\ 40\\ 41\\ 42\\ 44\\ 45\\ 46\\ \end{array}$	<pre>any amount exceeding the limit prescribed by paragraph (d) of this subdivision. 2. Monthly fee. Any institution may require a fee of one dollar for any checking account for the maintenance of an automatic bounce system. Such fee must be disclosed pursuant to subdivision one of this section. 3. Clarification relating to overdraft fees. In case of any trans- action account of a consumer at any institution, the prohibition against an overdraft protection fee under subdivision one of this section shall apply regardless of whether the amount of such fee is the same as, or less than, any fee imposed by the institution with respect to such account for a check or other debit that is returned unpaid. 4. Prohibition on misrepresentation. It shall be a violation of this article if any institution: (a) will not extend funds under specific circumstance to cover an overdraft in any transaction account of a consumer at the institution; or (b) reserves the right to extend funds to pay any such overdraft on a discretionary basis, any representation by such institution that the</pre>
$\begin{array}{c} 29\\ 30\\ 31\\ 32\\ 33\\ 34\\ 35\\ 36\\ 37\\ 39\\ 40\\ 42\\ 43\\ 445\\ 46\\ 47\\ 47\\ \end{array}$	 any amount exceeding the limit prescribed by paragraph (d) of this subdivision. 2. Monthly fee. Any institution may require a fee of one dollar for any checking account for the maintenance of an automatic bounce system. Such fee must be disclosed pursuant to subdivision one of this section. 3. Clarification relating to overdraft fees. In case of any transaction account of a consumer at any institution, the prohibition against an overdraft protection fee under subdivision one of this section shall apply regardless of whether the amount of such fee is the same as, or less than, any fee imposed by the institution with respect to such account for a check or other debit that is returned unpaid. 4. Prohibition on misrepresentation. It shall be a violation of this article if any institution: (a) will not extend funds under specific circumstance to cover an overdraft in any transaction account of a consumer at the institution; or (b) reserves the right to extend funds to pay any such overdraft on a discretionary basis, any representation by such institution that the institution will extend credit to cover all overdrafts on such account.
$\begin{array}{c} 29\\ 30\\ 31\\ 32\\ 34\\ 35\\ 36\\ 37\\ 39\\ 40\\ 42\\ 43\\ 445\\ 46\\ 47\\ 48 \end{array}$	<pre>any amount exceeding the limit prescribed by paragraph (d) of this subdivision. 2. Monthly fee. Any institution may require a fee of one dollar for any checking account for the maintenance of an automatic bounce system. Such fee must be disclosed pursuant to subdivision one of this section. 3. Clarification relating to overdraft fees. In case of any trans- action account of a consumer at any institution, the prohibition against an overdraft protection fee under subdivision one of this section shall apply regardless of whether the amount of such fee is the same as, or less than, any fee imposed by the institution with respect to such account for a check or other debit that is returned unpaid. 4. Prohibition on misrepresentation. It shall be a violation of this article if any institution: (a) will not extend funds under specific circumstance to cover an overdraft in any transaction account of a consumer at the institution; or (b) reserves the right to extend funds to pay any such overdraft on a discretionary basis, any representation by such institution that the institution will extend credit to cover all overdrafts on such account. § 63. Restrictions on advertising of overdraft protection programs or</pre>
$\begin{array}{c} 29\\ 30\\ 31\\ 32\\ 34\\ 35\\ 36\\ 37\\ 39\\ 41\\ 42\\ 44\\ 45\\ 46\\ 47\\ 48\\ 49\\ \end{array}$	<pre>any amount exceeding the limit prescribed by paragraph (d) of this subdivision. 2. Monthly fee. Any institution may require a fee of one dollar for any checking account for the maintenance of an automatic bounce system. Such fee must be disclosed pursuant to subdivision one of this section. 3. Clarification relating to overdraft fees. In case of any trans- action account of a consumer at any institution, the prohibition against an overdraft protection fee under subdivision one of this section shall apply regardless of whether the amount of such fee is the same as, or less than, any fee imposed by the institution with respect to such account for a check or other debit that is returned unpaid. 4. Prohibition on misrepresentation. It shall be a violation of this article if any institution: (a) will not extend funds under specific circumstance to cover an overdraft in any transaction account of a consumer at the institution; or (b) reserves the right to extend funds to pay any such overdraft on a discretionary basis, any representation by such institution that the institution will extend credit to cover all overdrafts on such account. § 63. Restrictions on advertising of overdraft protection programs or services. 1. General provisions. In the case of an institution that</pre>
$\begin{array}{c} 29\\ 30\\ 31\\ 32\\ 33\\ 35\\ 36\\ 39\\ 41\\ 42\\ 45\\ 46\\ 48\\ 49\\ 50\\ \end{array}$	<pre>any amount exceeding the limit prescribed by paragraph (d) of this subdivision. 2. Monthly fee. Any institution may require a fee of one dollar for any checking account for the maintenance of an automatic bounce system. Such fee must be disclosed pursuant to subdivision one of this section. 3. Clarification relating to overdraft fees. In case of any trans- action account of a consumer at any institution, the prohibition against an overdraft protection fee under subdivision one of this section shall apply regardless of whether the amount of such fee is the same as, or less than, any fee imposed by the institution with respect to such account for a check or other debit that is returned unpaid. 4. Prohibition on misrepresentation. It shall be a violation of this article if any institution: (a) will not extend funds under specific circumstance to cover an overdraft in any transaction account of a consumer at the institution; or (b) reserves the right to extend funds to pay any such overdraft on a discretionary basis, any representation by such institution that the institution will extend credit to cover all overdrafts on such account. § 63. Restrictions on advertising of overdraft protection programs or services. 1. General provisions. In the case of an institution that maintains transaction accounts for consumers and offers a program or</pre>
$\begin{array}{c} 29\\ 30\\ 31\\ 32\\ 34\\ 35\\ 36\\ 39\\ 41\\ 42\\ 44\\ 45\\ 46\\ 7\\ 49\\ 50\\ 51 \end{array}$	<pre>any amount exceeding the limit prescribed by paragraph (d) of this subdivision. 2. Monthly fee. Any institution may require a fee of one dollar for any checking account for the maintenance of an automatic bounce system. Such fee must be disclosed pursuant to subdivision one of this section. 3. Clarification relating to overdraft fees. In case of any trans- action account of a consumer at any institution, the prohibition against an overdraft protection fee under subdivision one of this section shall apply regardless of whether the amount of such fee is the same as, or less than, any fee imposed by the institution with respect to such account for a check or other debit that is returned unpaid. 4. Prohibition on misrepresentation. It shall be a violation of this article if any institution: (a) will not extend funds under specific circumstance to cover an overdraft in any transaction account of a consumer at the institution; or (b) reserves the right to extend funds to pay any such overdraft on a discretionary basis, any representation by such institution that the institution will extend credit to cover all overdrafts on such account. § 63. Restrictions on advertising of overdraft protection programs or services. 1. General provisions. In the case of an institution that maintains transaction accounts for consumers and offers a program or service under which the institution pays any overdraft on the account in service under which the institution pays any overdraft on the account in service under which the institution pays any overdraft on the account in service under which the institution pays any overdraft on the account in the service in the set of a pay any such overdraft on the account in service under which the institution pays any overdraft on the account in the service in the set of a pays any overdraft on the account in the service under which the institution pays any overdraft on the account in the service under which the institution pays any overdraft on the account in the service of the service of th</pre>
$\begin{array}{c} 2 9 \\ 3 0 \\ 3 1 \\ 3 2 \\ 3 3 \\ 3 4 \\ 3 5 \\ 3 3 \\ 3 5 \\ 3 3 \\ 4 1 \\ 4 2 \\ 4 4 \\ 4 5 \\ 4 4 \\ 5 1 \\ 5 2 \\ 5 2 \end{array}$	<pre>any amount exceeding the limit prescribed by paragraph (d) of this subdivision. 2. Monthly fee. Any institution may require a fee of one dollar for any checking account for the maintenance of an automatic bounce system. Such fee must be disclosed pursuant to subdivision one of this section. 3. Clarification relating to overdraft fees. In case of any trans- action account of a consumer at any institution, the prohibition against an overdraft protection fee under subdivision one of this section shall apply regardless of whether the amount of such fee is the same as, or less than, any fee imposed by the institution with respect to such account for a check or other debit that is returned unpaid. 4. Prohibition on misrepresentation. It shall be a violation of this article if any institution: (a) will not extend funds under specific circumstance to cover an overdraft in any transaction account of a consumer at the institution; or (b) reserves the right to extend funds to pay any such overdraft on a discretionary basis, any representation by such institution that the institution will extend credit to cover all overdrafts on such account. § 63. Restrictions on advertising of overdraft protection programs or services. 1. General provisions. In the case of an institution that maintains transaction accounts for consumers and offers a program or service under which the institution pays any overdraft on the account in exchange for payment of an overdraft protection fee, the institution may</pre>
$\begin{array}{c} 2 9 \\ 3 0 \\ 3 1 \\ 3 2 \\ 3 3 \\ 3 4 \\ 3 5 \\ 3 3 \\ 3 3 \\ 4 1 \\ 4 2 \\ 4 4 \\ 4 5 \\ 5 1 \\ 5 2 \\ 5 3 \end{array}$	<pre>any amount exceeding the limit prescribed by paragraph (d) of this subdivision. 2. Monthly fee. Any institution may require a fee of one dollar for any checking account for the maintenance of an automatic bounce system. Such fee must be disclosed pursuant to subdivision one of this section. 3. Clarification relating to overdraft fees. In case of any trans- action account of a consumer at any institution, the prohibition against an overdraft protection fee under subdivision one of this section shall apply regardless of whether the amount of such fee is the same as, or less than, any fee imposed by the institution with respect to such account for a check or other debit that is returned unpaid. 4. Prohibition on misrepresentation. It shall be a violation of this article if any institution: (a) will not extend funds under specific circumstance to cover an overdraft in any transaction account of a consumer at the institution; or (b) reserves the right to extend funds to pay any such overdraft on a discretionary basis, any representation by such institution that the institution will extend credit to cover all overdrafts on such account. § 63. Restrictions on advertising of overdraft protection programs or services. 1. General provisions. In the case of an institution that maintains transaction accounts for consumers and offers a program or service under which the institution pays any overdraft on the account in exchange for payment of an overdraft protection fee, the institution may not make any of the following representations or statements with respect</pre>
$\begin{array}{c} 2 9 \\ 3 1 \\ 3 2 \\ 3 3 \\ 3 3 \\ 3 5 \\ 3 3 \\ 3 3 \\ 4 1 \\ 2 3 \\ 4 4 \\ 4 5 \\ 5 1 \\ 2 3 \\ 5 \\ 5 1 \\ 2 \\ 5 \\ 5 \\ 5 \\ 5 \\ 5 \\ 5 \\ 5 \\ 5 \\ 5$	 any amount exceeding the limit prescribed by paragraph (d) of this subdivision. 2. Monthly fee. Any institution may require a fee of one dollar for any checking account for the maintenance of an automatic bounce system. Such fee must be disclosed pursuant to subdivision one of this section. 3. Clarification relating to overdraft fees. In case of any transaction account of a consumer at any institution, the prohibition against an overdraft protection fee under subdivision one of this section shall apply regardless of whether the amount of such fee is the same as, or less than, any fee imposed by the institution with respect to such account for a check or other debit that is returned unpaid. 4. Prohibition on misrepresentation. It shall be a violation of this article if any institution: (a) will not extend funds under specific circumstance to cover an overdraft in any transaction account of a consumer at the institution; or (b) reserves the right to extend funds to pay any such overdraft on a discretionary basis, any representation by such institution that the institution will extend credit to cover all overdrafts on such account. § 63. Restrictions on advertising of overdraft protection programs or services. 1. General provisions. In the case of an institution that maintains transaction accounts for consumers and offers a program or service under which the institution pays any overdraft on the account in exchange for payment of an overdraft protection fee, the institution may not make any of the following representations or statements with respect to such program or service in any advertisement or promotion:
$\begin{array}{c} 2 9 \\ 3 0 \\ 3 1 \\ 3 2 \\ 3 3 \\ 3 4 \\ 3 5 \\ 3 3 \\ 3 3 \\ 4 1 \\ 4 2 \\ 4 4 \\ 4 5 \\ 5 1 \\ 5 2 \\ 5 3 \end{array}$	<pre>any amount exceeding the limit prescribed by paragraph (d) of this subdivision. 2. Monthly fee. Any institution may require a fee of one dollar for any checking account for the maintenance of an automatic bounce system. Such fee must be disclosed pursuant to subdivision one of this section. 3. Clarification relating to overdraft fees. In case of any trans- action account of a consumer at any institution, the prohibition against an overdraft protection fee under subdivision one of this section shall apply regardless of whether the amount of such fee is the same as, or less than, any fee imposed by the institution with respect to such account for a check or other debit that is returned unpaid. 4. Prohibition on misrepresentation. It shall be a violation of this article if any institution: (a) will not extend funds under specific circumstance to cover an overdraft in any transaction account of a consumer at the institution; or (b) reserves the right to extend funds to pay any such overdraft on a discretionary basis, any representation by such institution that the institution will extend credit to cover all overdrafts on such account. § 63. Restrictions on advertising of overdraft protection programs or services. 1. General provisions. In the case of an institution that maintains transaction accounts for consumers and offers a program or service under which the institution pays any overdraft on the account in exchange for payment of an overdraft protection fee, the institution may not make any of the following representations or statements with respect</pre>

S. 2133

1	overdraft protection services that involve the payment of overdraft
2	protection fees.
3	(b) Any representation or statement encouraging the use of the account
4	as a service to meet short-term credit needs or to obtain advantages on
5	a consumer's next payment of salary, wages, benefits, or other income.
б	(c) Any representation or statement that the financial institution
7	will honor all checks or other debits presented against the account, if
8	the institution retains discretion at any time not to honor any check or
9	other debit presented.
10	2. Regulations. The Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System
11	shall prescribe regulations implementing the restriction set forth in
12	subdivision one of this section pursuant to the authority of the board
13	under section 18(f) of the Federal Trade Commission Act, and may, by
14	regulation or order, restrict such additional acts or practices that the
15	board finds to be unfair or deceptive in connection with the offering,
16	operation, and advertising of overdraft protection programs and
17	services.

- 18 § 2. This act shall take effect on the one hundred eightieth day after 19 it shall have become a law.