AN ACT to amend the real property tax law, in relation to imposing an additional tax on certain non-primary residence class one and class two properties in a city with a population of one million or more

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

1 Section 1. The real property tax law is amended by adding a new 2 section 307-b to read as follows:

3 § 307-b. Additional tax on certain non-primary residence properties in 4 a city with a population of one million or more. 1. Generally. Notwith-
5 standing any provision of any general, specific or local law to the 6 contrary, any city with a population of one million or more is hereby 7 authorized and empowered to adopt and amend local laws in accordance 8 with this section imposing an additional tax on certain residential 9 properties and dwelling units.

10 2. Definitions. As used in this section: (a) "Assessed value" means 11 the determination made by the assessors of a city having a population of 12 one million or more of the valuation of real property.

13 (b) "Assessed value attributable to a tenant-stockholder" means the 14 proportion of the assessed value of real property owned by a cooperative 15 apartment corporation, represented by a tenant-stockholder's share or 16 shares of stock in such corporation as determined by its or their

1 proportional relationship to the total outstanding stock of the corpo-
2 ration, including that owned by the corporation.

3 (c) "Commissioner of finance" means the commissioner of finance of a
4 city having a population of one million or more, or his or her designee.

5 (d) "Department of finance" means the department of finance of a city
6 having a population of one million or more.

7 (e) "Five-year average market value" shall mean the average monetary
8 value of a property for the previous five years, using a comparable
9 sale-based valuation method, as determined by the department of finance.

10 3. Additional tax. (a) A local law enacted pursuant to this section 11 may provide for a tax as follows for fiscal years beginning on or after 12 July first, two thousand twenty-one:

13 (i) For one, two or three family residences with a five-year average 14 market value of five million dollars or higher, a tax of at least one-
15 half percent and no more than four percent on the excess market value
16 above five million dollars.

17 (ii) For residential real property held in the condominium form of 18 ownership with an assessed value of three hundred thousand dollars or 19 higher, a tax of at least ten percent and no more than thirteen and 20 one-half percent of the excess assessed value above three hundred thou-21 sand dollars.

22 (iii) For dwelling units in a property held in the cooperative form of 23 ownership with an assessed value attributable to a tenant-stockholder of 24 three hundred thousand dollars or higher, a tax of at least ten percent
25 and no more than thirteen and one-half percent of the excess assessed
26 value above three hundred thousand dollars. The additional taxes attrib-
27 utable to each tenant-stockholder shall be added by the cooperative 28 apartment corporation to the amount of such taxes otherwise payable by 29 or chargeable to such tenant-stockholder.

30 (b) Subject to the limitations established in paragraph (a) of this 31 subdivision, any such local law may establish a graduated rate schedule 32 for imposing such tax, at rates and excess value thresholds as the local 33 legislative body determines appropriate.

34 (c) Except as otherwise provided in this section, such tax may be 35 imposed, administered, collected and enforced by the commissioner of 36 finance of such city by such means and in such manner as other taxes 37 that are now imposed, administered, collected and enforced by such 38 commissioner in accordance with the charter or administrative code of 39 any such city or as otherwise may be provided by any such local law.

40 4. Exemptions. (a) A local law enacted pursuant to this section shall 41 include an exemption from the additional tax imposed for residential 42 properties or dwelling units that are: (i) The primary residence of at 43 least one owner of the property or dwelling unit; (ii) The primary resi-44 dence of a parent or child of at least one owner of the property or 45 dwelling unit; or (iii) Rented on a full-time basis to a tenant or 46 tenants for whom the property or dwelling unit is their primary resi-47 dence.

48 (b) Proof that a residential property or dwelling unit is eligible for 49 an exemption provided in paragraph (a) of this subdivision shall be in 50 such form as required by local law or the rules of the commissioner of 51 finance.

52 (c) Any such local law may provide for exemptions from such tax in 53 addition to those specified in this subdivision.

54 (d) In the event that a property granted an exemption from taxation
55 pursuant to this section or local law ceases to be used in a manner
56 making the property eligible for such exemption, the owner or owners

1 shall so notify the commissioner of finance in a time, form and manner
2 as so required by local law or the rules of the commissioner.

3 5. Rules. The department of finance of any city enacting a local law
4 pursuant to this section shall have, in addition to any other functions, 5 powers and duties which have been or may be conferred on it by law, the 6 power to make and promulgate rules to carry out the purposes of this 7 section.

8 § 2. This act shall take effect immediately.
