AN ACT to amend the general obligations law, in relation to the liability of payroll processing companies

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

Section 1. The general obligations law is amended by adding a new section 11-108 to read as follows:

§ 11-108. Liability of payroll processing company. 1. For the purposes of this section, "payroll processing company" means a person or business entity under contract to an employer that: (a) calculates, processes and produces wage payments to the employer's employees under such employer's federal employer identification number; (b) withholds and remits applicable taxes to government agencies using the employer's federal employment identification number; (c) issues federal and state income tax forms to the employer's employees using such employer's federal employer identification number; and (d) conditions wage payments to the employer's employees on the advance receipt of funds from such employer to fully cover such wage payments. A person acting as an employer under 26 U.S.C. 3401(d)(1) that otherwise meets the definition of a payroll processing company shall not be considered a payroll processing company if the person acting as an employer and the employee are subject to a collective bargaining agreement and such collective bargaining agreement expressly provides for the recovery of unpaid, lost or stolen wages.

EXPLANATION--Matter in italics (underscored) is new; matter in brackets [-] is old law to be omitted.

1 2. Notwithstanding any other provision of law to the contrary, a 2 payroll processing company that intentionally and without good cause 3 prevents the remittance of taxes or payment of wages pursuant to the 4 contract with the employer shall be liable to an employee of the employ-5 er that failed to receive an owed payment within one business day of the 6 date such payment was expected for an amount up to three times the owed 7 payment of wages and applicable taxes. Good cause may include, but shall 8 not be limited to, the failure of an employer to provide sufficient 9 funds by the applicable deadline, reasonable efforts to verify poten-
10 tially fraudulent activity, failure of an employer to provide the neces-11 sary payroll input, observance of relevant state and federal laws or 12 regulations, and other factors outside the control of the payroll proc-13 essing company; provided a payroll processing company shall not have 14 good cause under this section if such payroll processing company acts or 15 fails to act in violation of applicable state and federal laws and regu-16 lations.

17 3. Liability under this section is in addition to any other applicable 18 penalties and causes of action.

19 4. An action to recover damages under this section may be maintained 20 as a class action, notwithstanding subdivision b of section nine hundred 21 one of the civil practice law and rules.

22 § 2. This act shall take effect immediately.
