AN ACT to amend the volunteer firefighters' benefit law and the volunteer ambulance workers' benefit law, in relation to exposure to a communicable disease that requires mandatory quarantine

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

Section 1. Section 11-b of the volunteer firefighters' benefit law, as amended by chapter 476 of the laws of 2018, is amended to read as follows:

§ 11-b. Hazardous exposures. If, as a result of services performed in the line of duty, a volunteer firefighter is exposed to or comes in contact with any poisons, gases, x-rays, radium, radio-active materials or other potentially harmful substances or matter, or is exposed to a communicable disease that requires mandatory quarantine, the chief engineer or other executive officer of the fire department or fire company of which he or she is a member may authorize the volunteer firefighter to obtain such examinations, tests, treatment and care as are immediately necessary to determine whether he or she is injured. Any such authorization may be granted prior to the giving of a notice of injury under this chapter. In any such case, the volunteer firefighter shall be deemed to have been injured and shall be entitled to treatment and care and disability benefits as provided in this chapter.

Section 2. Section 11-b of the volunteer ambulance workers' benefit law, as amended by chapter 481 of the laws of 1988, is amended to read as follows:

§ 11-b. Hazardous exposures. If, as a result of services performed in the line of duty, a volunteer ambulance worker is exposed to or comes in contact with any poisons, gases, x-rays, radium, radioactive materials or other potentially harmful substances or matter, or is exposed to a communicable disease that requires mandatory quarantine, the captain or other executive officer of the ambulance department, volunteer ambulance company or ambulance district of which he or she is a member may author--
