§ 3. The labor law is amended by adding a new section 192-a to read as follows:

§ 192-a. Payment of wages using payroll cards. 1. As used in this section:

a. "payroll card" means a prepaid card used by an employee to access wages from a payroll card account;

b. "payroll card account" means a prepaid account that is directly or indirectly established through an employer and to which transfers of the employee's wages, salary or other compensation are made; and

c. "payroll card issuer" means a financial institution or other entity that issues a payroll card to employees on behalf of their employer.

2. Consent to receive wages by credit to a payroll card account shall not be made a condition of hire or a condition of continued employment.

3. A payroll card program offered by an employer shall be associated with a network of automated teller machines that assures the availability of a substantial number of in-network ATMs in the state.

4. If an employer pays wages to employees by credit to a payroll card:

a. Except as provided in paragraph b of this subdivision, employees must be able to make at least one withdrawal or transfer from the payroll card account in each pay period without charge for any amount up to and including the full amount of the employee's net wages for the period and one withdrawal at an in-network ATM each week without charge.

b. If wages are paid more frequently than weekly, employees must be able to make at least one withdrawal or transfer each week without charge for any amount up to and including the full amount of the employee's net wages for that week and one withdrawal at an in-network ATM each week without charge.

5. Employers who use payroll cards to deliver wages or other compensation to their employees must also provide employees with the option of receiving their wages or other compensation by check and electronic fund transfer in accordance with section one hundred ninety-one-c of this article.

6. An employee who receives wages by credit to a payroll card must be provided with the following:

a. A means of checking the employee's payroll card account balances through an automated telephone system and one additional electronic means, without cost irrespective of number of inquiries made.

b. Access to an electronic transaction history that includes all deposits, withdrawals, deductions, or charges by any entity from or to the employee's payroll card account at no cost to the employee. The employee shall be provided one written transaction history a month at no cost upon request by the employee.

c. At the employee's request, one replacement card per year without cost, except that a fee may be charged for the cost of expedited delivery of a replacement payroll card if the employee requests such delivery.

7. When offering an employee the option of receiving wages by credit to a payroll card account, an employer must provide the employee with notice of the following items in paper or printable form. Notice must be provided in the languages the employer normally uses to communicate employment-related policies to their employees.

a. a listing of all methods of wage payment offered by the employer in accordance with section one hundred ninety-two of this article;

b. the terms and conditions relating to use of the payroll card, including a list of fees that may be assessed by the payroll card issuer;

1 c. the methods available to employees for accessing wages without
2 costs;

3 d. the methods available to employees for checking the balance in the 4 payroll card account without cost; and

5 e. a statement that third parties may assess transaction fees in addi-
6 tion to the fees assessed by the payroll card issuer.

7 8. An employer may not use a payroll card program that charges fees
8 for point of sale transactions; the application, initiation, loading of 9 wages by the employer; account maintenance or monthly maintenance; or 10 mere participation in the payroll card program. Fees for account inac-11 tivity may be assessed following nine months of inactivity.

12 9. An employee paid wages by credit to a payroll card account may 13 request in writing to be paid wages by another method of payment
14 provided by the employer in accordance with section one hundred ninety-15 two of this article. Following the written request, the employer shall,
16 within two pay periods, begin payment to the employee by the allowable
17 method requested by the employee.

18 10. The payroll card or payroll card account may not be linked to any 19 form of credit including, but not limited to, overdraft fees or over-20 draft service fees, a loan against future pay, or a cash advance on 21 future pay or work not yet performed.

22 11. A payroll card program offered by an employer shall provide the 23 employee with notices, disclosures, error resolution procedures, 24 protections from unauthorized use, and limitations on liability in 25 accordance with the electronic fund transfer act, 15 U.S.C. § 1693 et 26 seq. and regulation e, 29 C.F.R. part 1005, as may be amended.

27 12. Wages credited to a payroll card account must be insured by the 28 Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, the National Credit Union Admin-
29 istration, or another entity on a pass through basis to the employee.

30 13. No employer shall receive any compensation, bonus, reward or other 31 financial consideration from a payroll card issuer based upon: (a) the 32 amount or number of payroll card-related fees paid by the employer's 33 employees; or (b) the number of employees who are paid wages through a 34 payroll card account. Nothing in this section shall preclude employers 35 from receiving account materials or a bulk rate or volume discount based 36 on the number of employees that receive wages through a payroll card 37 account.

38 14. Where a collective bargaining agreement governs the method by 39 which an employer must pay wages to its employees, an employer cannot 40 seek consent to receive wages on a payroll card from any employee 41 covered by that collective bargaining agreement.

42 § 4. This act shall take effect on the ninetieth day after it shall 43 have become a law.
