§ 2. The public authorities law is amended by adding a new section 1270-j to read as follows:

§ 1270-j. New York city dedicated personal income tax surcharge fund.
1. The authority shall establish a fund to be known as the "New York city dedicated personal income tax surcharge fund" which shall be kept separate from and shall not be commingled with any other moneys of the authority. The fund shall consist of a "transit infrastructure improvement account" and a "low-income resident reduced fare account."

2. There shall be deposited into the New York city dedicated personal income tax surcharge fund the moneys transferred to the metropolitan transportation authority from the New York city transitional finance authority pursuant to subsection (e) of section thirteen hundred four-E of the tax law, and any other provision of law directing or permitting the deposit of moneys in such fund, to be used exclusively for the financing of transit infrastructure improvements and reduced fares for low-income residents of the city of New York.

3. Moneys in the transit infrastructure improvement account (a) shall be used to fund capital projects that satisfy the following criteria: (i) defined as state of good repair, normal replacement, or an Americans with Disabilities Act related system improvement within the capital program of the authority; and (ii) included in any of the following categories within the capital program of the authority: New York city transit authority buses, subway cars, track, line equipment, line structures, signals and communications, traction power, shops and yards, depots, service vehicles, passenger station projects, as needed to comply with the Americans with Disabilities Act, Staten Island railway and authority bus company projects; and (b) may be (i) pledged by the authority as security for the payment of principal and interest on bonds issued after July first, two thousand nineteen to finance capital projects that meet the criteria identified in paragraph (a) of this subdivision, including bonds issued to refund such bonds and (ii) used for payment of principal and interest on such bonds, funding of reserves required in connection with such bonds, and the payment of costs of issuance related to such bonds. To the extent moneys in the transit infrastructure improvement account have been pledged by the authority to secure the payment of principal and interest on bonds as herein provided, moneys deposited into the New York city dedicated personal income tax surcharge fund shall first be deposited into the transit infrastructure account to the extent necessary to make payments pursuant to paragraph (b) of this subdivision. After making such payments, moneys deposited in the transit infrastructure improvement account shall be used to fund projects that meet the criteria identified in paragraph (a) of this subdivision.

4. The state does hereby pledge and agree with the holders of any issue of bonds secured by pledge described in paragraph (b) of subdivision three of this section that the state will not limit or alter the rights hereby vested in the metropolitan transportation authority to fulfill the terms of any agreements made with bondholders pursuant to this title, or in any way impair the rights and remedies of such holders or the security for such bonds until such bonds are fully paid and discharged. Nothing contained in this section shall be deemed to restrict the right of the state to amend, modify, repeal or otherwise alter statutes imposing or relating to the taxes payable to the New York city transitional finance authority pursuant to section thirteen hundred thirteen of the tax law, but such taxes shall in all events continue to be so payable so long as any such taxes are imposed. Nothing in this

1 section shall be deemed to obligate the state to make any additional 2 payments or impose any taxes to satisfy the debt service obligations of 3 the metropolitan transportation authority.

4 5. Moneys in the low-income resident reduced fare account shall be 5 used to fund the half-fare rate program for low-income residents of the 6 city of New York pursuant to subdivision nine of section twelve hundred 7 five of this article and may be used for payment of the reasonable oper-

12 for such costs.

13 6. The moneys deposited into the fund from the New York city transi-
14 tional finance authority shall be equally divided between the transit 15 infrastructure improvement account and the low-income resident reduced 16 fare account.

17 7. Twice each calendar year, the mayor of the city of New York shall 18 conduct a review of the amount of moneys deposited in each of the two 19 accounts. To the extent such review indicates that:

20 a. the moneys in the transit infrastructure improvement account are 21 sufficient to satisfy the requirements of any debt service incurred in 22 such calendar year as a result of obligations issued and secured pursu-
23 ant to paragraph b of subdivision three of this section, and the moneys 24 in the low-income resident reduced fare account are insufficient to 25 satisfy the total needs of the low-income resident reduced fare program 26 established pursuant to subdivision nine of section twelve hundred five 27 of this article, the mayor of the city of New York, or such mayor's 28 designee, may direct the metropolitan transportation authority to trans-
29 fer a specified amount of moneys from the transit infrastructure 30 improvement account to the low-income resident reduced fare account; and

31 b. the moneys in the low-income resident reduced fare account are

33 income residents of the city of New York established pursuant to subdivi-34 vision nine of section twelve hundred five of this article, in such 35 calendar year, the mayor of the city of New York, or such mayor's desig-

52 contractual or other obligations of the authority to the city as 53 frequently as practicable.

54 § 4. The tax law is amended by adding a new section 1304-E to read as
