LBD07492-03-9

1 ty-three of this chapter, an occupant of a rooming house or hotel as 2 defined in section seven hundred eleven of the real property actions and 3 proceedings law or any other person entitled to the possession, use or 4 occupancy of any housing accommodation.

5 4. The term "rent" as used in this article shall mean any consider-6 ation, including any bonus, benefit or gratuity demanded or received for 7 or in connection with the possession, use or occupancy of housing accom-
8 modations or the execution or transfer of a lease for such housing 9 accommodations.

10 5. The term "disabled person" as used in this article shall mean a 11 person who has an impairment which results from anatomical, physiolog-12 ical or psychological conditions, other than addiction to alcohol, 13 gambling, or any controlled substance, which are demonstrable by 14 medically acceptable clinical and laboratory diagnostic techniques, and 15 which are expected to be permanent and which substantially limit one or 16 more of such person's major life activities.

17 § 212. Applicability. This article shall apply to all housing accommo-18 dations except:

- 19 1. owner-occupied premises with less than four units;
- 20 2. premises sublet pursuant to section two hundred twenty-six-b of 21 this chapter, or otherwise, where the sublessor seeks in good faith to 22 recover possession of such housing accommodation for his own personal 23 use and occupancy;
- 24 3. premises the possession, use or occupancy of which is solely inci-25 dent to employment and such employment is being lawfully terminated; and
- 26 4. premises otherwise subject to regulation of rents or evictions 27 pursuant to state or federal law to the extent that such state or feder-28 al law requires "good cause" for termination or non-renewal of such 29 tenancies.

30 § 213. Necessity for good cause. No landlord shall, by action to evict 31 or to recover possession, by exclusion from possession, by failure to 32 renew any lease, or otherwise, remove any tenant from housing accommo-33 dations covered by section two hundred twelve of this article except for 34 good cause as defined in section two hundred fourteen of this article.

35 § 214. Grounds for removal of tenants. 1. No landlord shall remove a 36 tenant from any housing accommodation, or attempt such removal or exclu-37 sion from possession, notwithstanding that the tenant has no written 38 lease or that the lease or other rental agreement has expired or other-39 wise terminated, except upon order of a court of competent jurisdiction 40 entered in an appropriate judicial action or proceeding in which the 41 petitioner or plaintiff has established one of the following grounds as 42 good cause for removal or eviction:

43 (a) The tenant has failed to pay rent due and owing, provided however 44 that the rent due and owing, or any part thereof, did not result from a 45 rent increase which is unconscionable or imposed for the purpose of 46 circumventing the intent of this article. In determining whether all or 47 part of the rent due and owing is the result of an unconscionable rent 48 increase, it shall be a rebuttable presumption that the rent for a 49 dwelling not protected by rent regulation is unconscionable if said rent 50 has been increased in any calendar year by a percentage exceeding one 51 and one-half times the annual percentage change in the Consumer Price 52 Index for the region in which the housing accommodation is located, as 53 established the August preceding the calendar year in question;

54 (b) The tenant is violating a substantial obligation of his or her 55 tenancy, other than the obligation to surrender possession, and has 56 failed to cure such violation after written notice that the violation

1 cease within ten days of receipt of such written notice, provided howev-2 er, that the obligation of tenancy for which violation is claimed was 3 not imposed for the purpose of circumventing the intent of this article;

4 (c) The tenant is committing or permitting a nuisance in such housing 5 accommodation, or is maliciously or by reason of negligence damaging the 6 housing accommodation; or the tenant's conduct is such as to interfere 7 with the comfort of the landlord or other tenants or occupants of the 8 same or adjacent buildings or structures;

9 (d) Occupancy of the housing accommodation by the tenant is in 10 violation of or causes a violation of law and the landlord is subject to 11 civil or criminal penalties therefore; provided however that an agency 12 of the state or municipality having jurisdiction has issued an order
13 requiring the tenant to vacate the housing accommodation. No tenant 14 shall be removed from possession of a housing accommodation on such 15 ground unless the court finds that the cure of the violation of law 16 requires the removal of the tenant and that the landlord did not through 17 neglect or deliberate action or failure to act create the condition
18 necessitating the vacate order. In instances where the landlord does not 19 undertake to cure conditions of the housing accommodation causing such 20 violation of the law, the tenant shall have the right to pay or secure 21 payment in a manner satisfactory to the court, to cure such violation 22 provided that any tenant expenditures shall be applied against rent to 23 which the landlord is entitled. In instances where removal of a tenant 24 is absolutely essential to his or her health and safety, the removal of 25 the tenant shall be without prejudice to any leasehold interest or other 26 right of occupancy the tenant may have and the tenant shall be entitled 27 to resume possession at such time as the dangerous conditions have been 28 removed. Nothing herein shall abrogate or otherwise limit the right of a 29 tenant to bring an action for monetary damages against the landlord to 30 compel compliance by the landlord with all applicable state or municipal 31 laws or housing codes;

32 (e) The tenant is using or permitting the housing accommodation to be 33 used for an illegal purpose;

34 (f) The tenant has unreasonably refused the landlord access to the 35 housing accommodation for the purpose of making necessary repairs or 36 improvements required by law or for the purpose of showing the housing 37 accommodation to a prospective purchaser, mortgagee or other person 38 having a legitimate interest therein;

39 (g) The landlord seeks in good faith to recover possession of a hous-
40 ing accommodation located in a building containing fewer than twelve 41 units because of immediate and compelling necessity for his or her own 42 personal use and occupancy as his or her principal residence, or the 43 personal use and occupancy as principal residence of his or her spouse, 44 parent, child, stepchild, father-in-law or mother-in-law, when no other 45 suitable housing accommodation in such building is available. This para-46 graph shall permit recovery of only one housing accommodation and shall 47 not apply to a housing accommodation occupied by a tenant who is sixty-48 two years of age or older or who is a disabled person;

49 (h) The landlord seeks in good faith to recover possession of any or 50 all housing accommodations located in a building with less than five 51 units to personally occupy such housing accommodations as his or her 52 principal residence.

53 2. A tenant required to surrender a housing accommodation by virtue of 54 the operation of paragraph (g) or (h) of subdivision one of this section 55 shall have a cause of action in any court of competent jurisdiction for 56 damages, declaratory, and injunctive relief against a landlord or

1 purchaser of the premises who makes a fraudulent statement regarding a
2 proposed use of the housing accommodation. In any action or proceeding 3 brought pursuant to this provision a prevailing tenant shall be entitled 4 to recovery of actual damages, and reasonable attorneys' fees.

5 3. Nothing in this section shall abrogate or limit the tenant's right 6 pursuant to section seven hundred fifty-one of the real property actions 7 and proceedings law to permanently stay the issuance or execution of a 8 warrant or eviction in a summary proceeding, whether characterized as a 9 nonpayment, objectionable tenancy, or holdover proceeding, the underly-10 ing basis of which is the nonpayment of rent, so long as the tenant 11 complies with the procedural requirements of section seven hundred 12 fifty-one of the real property actions and proceedings law.

13 § 215. Preservation of existing requirements of law. No action shall 14 be maintainable and no judgment of possession shall be entered for hous-15 ing accommodations pursuant to section two hundred fourteen of this 16 article, unless the landlord has complied with any and all applicable 17 laws governing such action or proceeding and has complied with any and 18 all applicable laws governing notice to tenants, including without limi-19 tation the manner and the time of service of such notice and the 20 contents of such notice.

21 § 216. Waiver of rights void. Any agreement by a tenant heretofore or 22 hereinafter entered into in a written lease or other rental agreement 23 waiving or modifying his or her rights as set forth in this article 24 shall be void as contrary to public policy.

25 § 2. Severability. If any provision of this act, or any application of 26 any provision of this act, is held to be invalid, that shall not affect 27 the validity or effectiveness of any other provision of this act, or of 28 any other application of any provision of this act, which can be given 29 effect without that provision or application; and to that end, the 30 provisions and applications of this act are severable.

31 § 3. This act shall take effect immediately and shall apply to actions 32 and proceedings commenced on or after such effective date.
