AN ACT to amend the executive law, in relation to determining whether a releasee shall be detained pending a preliminary or final revocation hearing

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

1 Section 1. Paragraph (a) of subdivision 3 of section 259-i of the 2 executive law is amended by adding a new subparagraph (iv) to read as 3 follows:

4 (iv) If a releasee is brought to or appears in a court to be arraigned 5 for any alleged felony or misdemeanor, and at any point the department 6 issues a warrant for the same alleged criminal conduct, then the court's 7 order pursuant to section 530.10 of the criminal procedure law shall 8 control in determining whether the releasee shall be detained pending a 9 preliminary or final revocation hearing, provided that at the time of 10 the court's order, pursuant to section 530.10 of the criminal procedure 11 law, the court was informed the releasee was subject to community super-12 vision. Provided, however, that notwithstanding section 530.10 of the 13 criminal procedure law, the court may order that the releasee be 14 detained pending preliminary or final revocation hearings upon a finding 15 on the record or in writing that the releasee currently presents a 16 substantial risk of willfully failing to appear at the preliminary or 17 final revocation hearings and that no non-monetary condition or combina-18 tion of conditions in the community supervision will reasonably assure 19 the releasee's appearance at the preliminary or final revocation hear-20 ings. If the criminal court imposes bail pursuant to section 530.10 of 21 the criminal procedure law, and the releasee-defendant secures release
