AN ACT to amend the labor law, in relation to granting collective bargaining rights to farm laborers and allowing farm laborers one day of rest each week and including farm laborers within the provisions pertaining to overtime compensation and unemployment insurance; to amend the public health law, in relation to the application of the sanitary code to all farm and food processing labor camps for migrant workers; to amend the workers' compensation law, in relation to the eligibility of farm laborers for workers' compensation benefits and the provision of claim forms to farm laborers injured in the course of employment and in relation to service as farm laborers; to amend the labor law, in relation to labor on a farm and regulating the employment of certain employees whose earning capacity is affected or impaired by youth or age; and to amend the labor law, in relation to unfair labor practices, impasse resolution procedures and the convening of a farm laborers wage board

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

- 1 Section 1. This act shall be known and may be cited as the "farm
- 2 laborers fair labor practices act".
- 3 § 2. Legislative findings and intent. 1. The legislature finds that
- 4 agriculture is one of New York's leading and most important industries,

1 resulting in over $5 billion annually and making New York a global lead-
2 er in many crops and agricultural products. Agriculture plays an essen-
3 tial role in the continued economic growth and vitality of New York
4 state. According to the United States Department of Agriculture's 2017
5 Agricultural Census, 98% of New York's farms are family owned and these 6 farms contributed $2.4 billion to the state's GDP in 2017.

7 2. The legislature further finds that the success of New York's robust
8 agriculture industry is due to the collaborative work between farmers 9 and farm laborers. However, farm laborers are one of the few classes of 10 employees that are not covered by the Federal Fair Labor Standards Act
11 or the National Labor Relations Act (NLRA), denying these valuable 12 employees the same basic labor protections and the right to collective 13 bargaining that almost all other private sector workers enjoy. Despite 14 regularly working 50, 60, 70 or even more hours a week doing arduous and 15 difficult work, often with heavy equipment, pesticides, fertilizers and 16 other dangerous materials and in sometimes hazardous situations, farm 17 laborers remain excluded from collective bargaining statutes and the 18 right to a day of rest, overtime and other labor protections that are in 19 place at the state and/or federal level for other workers.

20 3. The legislature further finds that this industry is subject to 21 unique and unpredictable factors including climate and weather, pricing 22 and market requirements, seasonal harvests, immigration, and various 23 federal and state laws, rules and regulations that directly impact farm-
24 ers and require a unique balance and application of traditional labor 25 protections to ensure farm laborers have a voice in their own terms and 26 conditions of employment and access to basic labor protections while 27 also creating adaptability and responsiveness to the unique circum-
28 stances of farm operations.

29 4. The legislature further finds that the labor standards included in 30 this bill are intended solely for the purposes of transitioning into a 31 modern structure of rights and benefits for farm laborers that achieve 32 harmonious labor relations and stability of operations in the agricul-33 tural industry and are not intended for any other industry or sector of 34 the economy.

35 § 3. Paragraph (a) of subdivision 3 of section 701 of the labor law, 36 as amended by chapter 43 of the laws of 1989, is amended and a new para-
37 graph (c) is added to read as follows:

38 (a) The term "employees" includes but is not restricted to any indi-
39 vidual employed by a labor organization; any individual whose employment

41 dispute or because of any unfair labor practice, and who has not 42 obtained any other regular and substantially equivalent employment; and 43 shall not be limited to the employees of a particular employer, unless 44 the article explicitly states otherwise, but shall not include any indi-45 vidual employed by his parent or spouse or in the domestic service of 46 and directly employed, controlled and paid by any person in his home,
47 any individual whose primary responsibility is the care of a minor child 48 or children and/or someone who lives in the home of a person for the 49 purpose of serving as a companion to a sick, convalescing or elderly
50 person or any individuals employed only for the duration of a labor
51 dispute, ~~[or any individuals employed as farm laborers]~~ or ~~[7]~~ any indi-
52 vidual who participates in and receives rehabilitative or therapeutic

8 adding a new undesignated paragraph to read as follows:

10 twenty-four consecutive hours of rest in each and every calendar week.

14 conditions, shall be deemed to constitute the rest required by this 15 paragraph. No provision of this paragraph shall prohibit a farm laborer 16 from voluntarily agreeing to work on such day of rest required by this 17 paragraph, provided that the farm laborer is compensated at an overtime
18 rate which is at least one and one-half times the laborer's regular rate
19 of pay for all hours worked on such day of rest. The term "farm labor" 20 shall include all services performed in agricultural employment in 21 connection with cultivating the soil, or in connection with raising or 22 harvesting of agricultural commodities, including the raising, shearing, 23 caring for and management of livestock, poultry or dairy. The day of 24 rest authorized under this subdivision should, whenever possible, coin-25 cide with the traditional day reserved by the farm laborer for religious 26 worship.

41 week; provided, however, that any overtime work performed by a farm

2 forty-day period from the date of certification or recognition of an 3 employee organization or from the expiration date of a collective 4 bargaining agreement.

5 2. Upon impasse, agricultural employers or recognized employee organ-

28 within seven days after the mailing date, the parties are unable to 29 agree upon the neutral arbitrator, the board shall submit to the parties
30 a list of qualified, disinterested persons for the selection of a

35 parties shall notify the board of the designated neutral arbitrator;

36 ii. the neutral arbitrator shall hold hearings on all matters related 37 to the dispute. The parties may be heard either in person, by counsel, 38 or by other representatives, as they may respectively designate. The 39 panel may grant more than one adjournment each for each party; provided, 40 however, that a second request of either party and any subsequent 41 adjournments may be granted on request of either party, provided that

48 parties and shall provide at the request of either party that a full and 49 complete record be kept of any such hearings, the cost of such record to
