2019-2020 Regular Sessions

IN ASSEMBLY

September 13, 2019

Introduced by M. of A. QUART -- read once and referred to the Committee on Codes

AN ACT to amend the criminal procedure law, in relation to authorizing courts to reduce or modify sentences for certain individuals when such sentence is deemed to be greater than necessary to achieve the purposes of sentencing

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

1 Section 1. Section 440.20 of the criminal procedure law is amended by 2 adding a new subdivision 5 to read as follows:

5. (a) Upon motion of an eligible individual, the court in which judgment was entered may reduce or modify the sentence on the ground that such sentence is greater than necessary to achieve the purposes of sentencing. Subdivision two of this section shall not apply to a motion brought under this subdivision.

8 (b) An individual is eligible for relief under this subdivision when 9 he or she:

10 (i) has been convicted, either by plea or verdict, of a felony offense 11 and is in the custody of the department of corrections and community

- 12 supervision;
- 13 (ii) is more than two years away from conditional release at time of 14 filing the motion;

15 (iii) was sentenced to an indeterminate term with an aggregate minimum 16 term of ten years or more or an aggregate determinate term of ten years

17 or more;

18 (iv) has served (1) at least one-third of the aggregate minimum term

19 of an indeterminate sentence or at least one-third of an aggregate

20 determinate sentence, or (2) where the individual is serving two or more

21 sentences that run consecutively, the time required to be served for

22 eligibility under subparagraph (i) of this paragraph or eight and one-

23 third years, whichever is less;

EXPLANATION--Matter in italics (underscored) is new; matter in brackets [-] is old law to be omitted.

1 is not currently serving a sentence for: an offense defined in (v) article one hundred twenty-five, one hundred thirty or two hundred 2 3 sixty-three of the penal law; or money laundering in support of terror-4 ism in the first degree as defined in section 470.24 of the penal law; 5 or money laundering in support of terrorism in the second degree as б defined in section 470.23 of the penal law; or a felony crime of terror-7 ism as defined in article four hundred ninety of the penal law, other 8 than the crime defined in section 490.20 of such law; 9 (vi) is not currently serving a sentence for an offense that included 10 as an element the infliction of serious physical injury; except that this subparagraph shall not apply when the individual's criminal liabil-11 ity for the offense was based solely on the physical actions or conduct 12 13 of another pursuant to section 20.00 of the penal law; or 14 (vii) if defendant has appealed from a judgment or sentence that is the subject of relief pursuant to this section, such appeal has been 15 16 finally determined. Nothing in this subparagraph shall be construed to 17 require that the defendant has taken a direct appeal in order to be eligible for relief pursuant to this section. 18 19 (c) Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (b) of this subdivi-20 sion, an otherwise ineligible individual shall be deemed eligible upon 21 consent of the district attorney. (d) An individual who is serving the minimum sentence permitted under 22 the penal law shall not be eligible under this subdivision. 23 24 (e) A motion brought pursuant to this subdivision shall be referred 25 for determination to the judge or justice who imposed the original 26 sentence upon such individual. If, at the time of the application, the 27 original sentencing judge or justice is no longer a judge or justice of a court of competent jurisdiction, then the application shall be 28 assigned to another judge or justice of the court by the administrative 29 30 judge of the applicable court. 31 (f) In deciding the motion, the court shall consider the principles of 32 rehabilitation, punishment and deterrence, the rehabilitation demonstrated by the defendant, and the promotion of the individual's success-33 34 ful reentry and reintegration into society, as well as public safety. 35 The court may consider any facts or circumstances relevant to the imposition of a new sentence that are submitted by such individual or the 36 37 district attorney, including, but not limited to: 38 (i) age, personal circumstances, and medical condition, including conditions that existed at the time of the original sentencing; 39 (ii) the defendant's institutional record of confinement; and 40 41 (iii) whether the individual has availed himself or herself of educa-42 tional, therapeutic, and vocational opportunities while imprisoned. 43 (g) The court shall not order a new pre-sentence investigation and 44 report. The court shall offer the defendant an opportunity for a hear-45 ing. If the court finds that the sentence is greater than necessary to 46 achieve the purposes of sentencing, the court shall grant the motion and 47 enter an order modifying the sentence to any lesser authorized term of 48 imprisonment. The order may also direct that the new sentence run concurrently with any other term of imprisonment being served by the 49 individual. The court shall place its reasons on the record for modifi-50 51 cation of the sentence, or denial of modification. (h) In the event that an individual is denied relief under this subdi-52 53 vision, or in the event that the individual is denied the full reduction sought, he or she may bring a new motion at any time after three years 54

55 from the date of denial of the previous motion.
