IN ASSEMBLY

December 18, 2019

Introduced by M. of A. BUTTENSCHON -- read once and referred to the Committee on Codes

AN ACT to amend the penal law, in relation to establishing the crime of making a threat of mass violence

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

Section 1. The penal law is amended by adding two new sections 240.78 and 240.79 to read as follows:

§ 240.78 Making a threat of mass violence in the second degree.

A person is guilty of making a threat of mass violence in the second degree when:

1. such person, being under the age of eighteen makes a threat of mass violence toward a school, college or university, place of worship, mass gathering of twenty-five people or more, or a business and such threat is made in writing, verbally communicated or expressed through any other means of communication; or

2. such person, being eighteen years of age or older, but under the age of twenty-one, makes a threat of mass violence against a school which they currently attend and such threat is made in writing, verbally communicated or expressed through any other means of communication.

Making a threat of mass violence in the second degree shall carry a fine of thirty-five thousand dollars and a mandatory sentence of ten days in a detention facility or, in the case of a person over eighteen years of age, one hundred days in a specialized secure detention facility for older youth certified by the office of children and family services in conjunction with the state commission of correction.

§ 240.79 Making a threat of mass violence in the first degree.

A person is guilty of making a threat of mass violence in the first degree when such person makes a threat toward a school, college or university, place of worship, mass gathering of twenty-five people or
