1 b. If the injured party is incapacitated, deceased, or otherwise
2 unavailable as a matter of law, an action under subdivision a of this 3 section may be brought by and in the name of the surviving spouse,
4 child, parent or guardian, or personal representative of the injured
5 party and on behalf of the spouse, children or parents, or if none of 6 these survive, on behalf of the injured party's estate.

7 c. If a person, acting under the color of any statute, ordinance, 8 regulation, custom, or usage, of this state or any of its political 9 subdivisions, subjects, or causes to be subjected, any other person the 10 deprivation of any rights, privileges, or immunities secured by the 11 Constitution and laws of this state, or interferes with or attempts to 12 interfere with the exercise or enjoyment of those rights, privileges or 13 immunities secured by the Constitution and laws of this state, by 14 threats, intimidation or coercion, the attorney general may bring a 15 civil action for damages, injunctive relief or other appropriate relief.
16 The civil action shall be brought in the name of the state and may be 17 brought on behalf of the injured party. If the attorney general proceeds 18 with and prevails in an action brought pursuant to this section, the 19 court shall order the distribution of any award of damages to the 20 injured party and shall award reasonable attorney's fees and costs to 21 the attorney general.

22 § 31. Proceedings. a. An action brought pursuant to this article shall 23 be filed in a court of competent jurisdiction within the state.

24 b. Upon application of any party, a jury trial shall be directed.

25 § 32. Burden of proof. a. The standard of proof that applies to all
26 actions brought under this article is the preponderance of the evidence 27 standard.

28 b. Where a defendant has raised a factual defense, that defendant
29 bears the burden of persuasion and must establish the defense by prepon-30 derance of the evidence.

31 § 33. Legal defense of "exemption". a. A defendant can raise the legal 32 defense of exemption where that defendant can affirmatively show that he 33 or she was not on notice that his or her course of conduct would result 34 in the deprivation, interference or attempted interference of an indi-
35 vidual's rights, privileges or immunities secured by the Constitution 36 and laws of this state.

37 1. A defendant must establish evidence of lack of notice by clear and 38 convincing evidence.

39 2. In determining whether a defendant is entitled to a defense of 40 exemption, the judge may consider the defendant's level of formal and 41 informal training, experience, and exposure to legal information. Proba-42 tive evidence that a defendant was on notice could include, but is not 43 limited to, the following sources:

44 i. Training manuals and guidelines;

45 ii. Department policies;

46 iii. Educational background and exposure to statutory law, administra-
47 tive rules and regulations, and case law;

48 iv. Verbal instructions;

49 v. Internal memoranda reflecting prior practice; and

50 vi. Prior disciplinary actions or investigations, either involving the 51 defendant or involving other members of the defendant's organization, if 52 that information was known to the defendant.

53 3. Where a defendant establishes, by clear and convincing evidence,
54 that he or she is entitled to the defense of exemption, the plaintiff 55 shall be entitled to recover the same damages under this article from

1 the defendant's employer as the plaintiff would have recovered from the 2 defendant.

3 b. The defense of exemption shall be unavailable to any defendant who 4 engages in a course of conduct that subjects, or causes to be subjected,
5 any other person the deprivation, interference or attempted interference 6 of any rights, privileges, or immunities secured by the Constitution and 7 laws of this state, if he or she engaged in that course of conduct
8 intentionally, knowingly or recklessly.

9 c. In deciding whether the defense of exemption applies, the court 10 shall:

11 1. Consider all the pleadings in the light most favorable to the non-12 movant and take all factual pleadings in the complaint as true; and

13 2. Make a determination as to whether there was a deprivation, inter-14 ference or attempted interference with an individual's rights, privi-
15 leges, or immunities secured by the Constitution and laws of this state
16 applying the considerations in paragraph one of this subdivision. The 17 court shall not bypass this inquiry to simply decide the question of 18 whether a defendant was on notice that his or her course of conduct
19 would result in the deprivation, interference or attempted interference 20 of an individual's rights, privileges or immunities secured by the 21 Constitution and laws of this state.

22 d. Limited discovery confined to information necessary to resolve 23 whether the defense of exemption is applicable is appropriate when the 24 record as presented by defendant in asserting this defense is inadequate 25 and the party opposing the applicability of the defense demonstrates 26 that it can show, through discovery, that the defendant was on notice
27 that his or her course of conduct would result in the deprivation,
28 interference or attempted interference of an individual's rights, privi-
29 leges or immunities secured by the Constitution and laws of this state.

30 e. The legal defense of exemption is an affirmative defense that must 31 be raised pursuant to paragraph twelve of subdivision (a) and subdivi-
32 sion (e) of rule three thousand two hundred eleven of the civil practice
33 law and rules prior to the defendant answering the complaint, otherwise 34 the defense shall be waived.

35 § 34. Pre-emption. Any action, and defenses hereunder, brought under 36 this article borne of facts that may also give rise to an action under 37 42 U.S.C. § 1983 are independent of any federal action, and defenses 38 thereunder, where state law provides the standard of conduct for the 39 official acting under the color of any statute, ordinance, regulation, 40 custom, or usage, of this state or any of its political subdivisions.

41 § 35. Remedies. a. A civil action under this article can be brought 42 for monetary damages, injunctive relief or any other relief that the 43 court deems appropriate.

44 b. Punitive damages may be awarded in actions under this article where 45 it is proven by clear and convincing evidence that the defendant's
46 course of conduct was motivated by the victim's race, gender, religion, 47 sexual orientation, nationality, ethnicity or disability.

48 c. In addition to any damages, civil penalty, injunction or other 49 appropriate relief awarded in an action brought pursuant to this arti-
50 cle, the court may award the prevailing party reasonable attorney's fees 51 and costs.

52 § 3. Subdivision (a) of rule 3211 of the civil practice law and rules
53 is amended by adding a new paragraph 12 to read as follows:

54 12. the party is immune from liability pursuant to subdivision e of 55 section thirty-three of the civil rights law.

§ 4. Subdivision (e) of rule 3211 of the civil practice law and rules, as amended by chapter 616 of the laws of 2005, is amended to read as follows:

(e) Number, time and waiver of objections; motion to plead over. At any time before service of the responsive pleading is required, a party may move on one or more of the grounds set forth in subdivision (a), and no more than one such motion shall be permitted. Any objection or defense based upon a ground set forth in paragraphs one, three, four, five and six of subdivision (a) is waived unless raised either by such motion or in the responsive pleading. A motion based upon a ground specified in paragraph two, seven or ten of subdivision (a) may be made at any subsequent time or in a later pleading, if one is permitted; an objection that the summons and complaint, summons with notice, or notice of petition and petition was not properly served is waived if, having raised such an objection in a pleading, the objecting party does not move for judgment on that ground within sixty days after serving the pleading, unless the court extends the time upon the ground of undue hardship. The foregoing sentence shall not apply in any proceeding under subdivision one or two of section seven hundred eleven of the real property actions and proceedings law. The papers in opposition to a motion based on improper service shall contain a copy of the proof of service, whether or not previously filed. An objection based upon a ground specified in paragraph eight or nine of subdivision (a) is waived if a party moves on any of the grounds set forth in subdivision (a) without raising such objection or if, having made no objection under subdivision (a), he or she does not raise such objection in the responsive pleading. An objection based upon the ground specified in paragraph twelve of subdivision (a) is waived if not made before service of a responsive pleading.

§ 5. This act shall take effect on the one hundred eightieth day after it shall have become a law.
