43 (e) A defendant may not enter a plea of guilty to the crime of murder
44 in the first degree as defined in section 125.27 of the penal law; 45 provided, however, that a defendant may enter such a plea with both the 46 permission of the court and the consent of the people when the agreed 47 upon sentence is either life imprisonment [~~without parole~~] with eligi-48 bility for parole after twenty-five years or a term of imprisonment for 49 the class A-I felony of murder in the first degree other than a sentence 50 of life imprisonment [~~without parole~~] with eligibility for parole after 51 twenty-five years.

52 § 16. Subparagraph (vii) of paragraph (b) of subdivision 3 of section 53 220.30 of the criminal procedure law, as amended by chapter 1 of the 54 laws of 1995, is amended to read as follows:

55 (vii) A defendant may not enter a plea of guilty to the crime of 56 murder in the first degree as defined in section 125.27 of the penal law; provided, however, that a defendant may enter such a plea with both the permission of the court and the consent of the people when the agreed upon sentence is either life imprisonment ~~[without parole]~~ with eligibility for parole after twenty-five years or a term of imprisonment for the class A-I felony of murder in the first degree other than a sentence of life imprisonment ~~[without parole]~~ with eligibility for parole after twenty-five years.

§ 17. Subdivision 1, paragraphs (b) and (e) of subdivision 11 and paragraphs (b), (c) and (e) of subdivision 12 of section 400.27 of the criminal procedure law, as added by chapter 1 of the laws of 1995, are amended to read as follows:

1. Upon the conviction of a defendant for the offense of murder in the first degree as defined by section 125.27 of the penal law, the court shall promptly conduct a separate sentencing proceeding to determine whether the defendant shall be sentenced to death or to life imprisonment ~~[without parole pursuant to subdivision five of section 70.00 of the penal law]~~ with eligibility for parole after twenty-five years. Nothing in this section shall be deemed to preclude the people at any time from determining that the death penalty shall not be sought in a particular case, in which case the separate sentencing proceeding shall not be conducted and the court may sentence such defendant to life imprisonment ~~[without parole]~~ with eligibility for parole after twenty-five years or to a sentence of imprisonment for the class A-I felony of murder in the first degree other than a sentence of life imprisonment ~~[without parole]~~ with eligibility for parole after twenty-five years.

(b) If the jury directs imposition of either a sentence of death or life imprisonment ~~[without parole]~~ with eligibility for parole after twenty-five years, it shall specify on the record those mitigating and aggravating factors considered and those mitigating factors established by the defendant, if any.

(e) If the jury unanimously determines that a sentence of life imprisonment ~~[without parole]~~ with eligibility for parole after twenty-five years should be imposed the court must thereupon impose a sentence of life imprisonment ~~[without parole]~~ with eligibility for parole after twenty-five years.

(b) In the event the defendant is sentenced pursuant to this section to life imprisonment ~~[without parole]~~ with eligibility for parole after twenty-five years or to a term of imprisonment for the class A-I felony of murder in the first degree other than a sentence of life imprisonment ~~[without parole]~~ with eligibility for parole after twenty-five years, the court shall not render a finding with respect to whether the defendant is mentally retarded.

(c) In the event the defendant is sentenced pursuant to this section to death, the court shall thereupon render a finding with respect to whether the defendant is mentally retarded. If the court finds the defendant is mentally retarded, the court shall set aside the sentence of death and sentence the defendant either to life imprisonment ~~[without parole]~~ with eligibility for parole after twenty-five years or to a term of imprisonment for the class A-I felony of murder in the first degree other than a sentence of life imprisonment ~~[without parole]~~ with eligibility for parole after twenty-five years. If the court finds the defendant is not mentally retarded, then such sentence of death shall not be set aside pursuant to this subdivision.

(e) The foregoing provisions of this subdivision notwithstanding, at a reasonable time prior to the commencement of trial the defendant may, upon a written motion alleging reasonable cause to believe the defendant

1 is mentally retarded, apply for an order directing that a mental retar-
2 dation hearing be conducted prior to trial. If, upon review of the 3 defendant's motion and any response thereto, the court finds reasonable 4 cause to believe the defendant is mentally retarded, it shall promptly 5 conduct a hearing without a jury to determine whether the defendant is 6 mentally retarded. In the event the court finds after the hearing that 7 the defendant is not mentally retarded, the court must, prior to 8 commencement of trial, enter an order so stating, but nothing in this 9 paragraph shall preclude a defendant from presenting mitigating evidence
10 of mental retardation at a separate sentencing proceeding. In the event 11 the court finds after the hearing that the defendant, based upon a 12 preponderance of the evidence, is mentally retarded, the court must, 13 prior to commencement of trial, enter an order so stating. Unless the 14 order is reversed on an appeal by the people or unless the provisions of 15 paragraph (d) of this subdivision apply, a separate sentencing proceed-16 ing under this section shall not be conducted if the defendant is there-
17 after convicted of murder in the first degree. In the event a separate 18 sentencing proceeding is not conducted, the court, upon conviction of a 19 defendant for the crime of murder in the first degree, shall sentence 20 the defendant to life imprisonment [~~without parole~~] with eligibility for 21 parole after twenty-five years or to a sentence of imprisonment for the 22 class A-I felony of murder in the first degree other than a sentence of 23 life imprisonment [~~without parole~~] with eligibility for parole after 24 twenty-five years. Whenever a mental retardation hearing is held and a 25 finding is rendered pursuant to this paragraph, the court may not 26 conduct a hearing pursuant to paragraph (a) of this subdivision. For 27 purposes of this subdivision and paragraph (b) of subdivision nine of 28 this section, "mental retardation" means significantly subaverage gener-
29 al intellectual functioning existing concurrently with deficits in adap-30 tive behavior which were manifested before the age of eighteen.

31 § 18. Subdivision 1 of section 440.20 of the criminal procedure law, 32 as amended by chapter 1 of the laws of 1995, is amended to read as 33 follows:

34 1. At any time after the entry of a judgment, the court in which the 35 judgment was entered may, upon motion of the defendant, set aside the 36 sentence upon the ground that it was unauthorized, illegally imposed or 37 otherwise invalid as a matter of law. Where the judgment includes a 38 sentence of death, the court may also set aside the sentence upon any of 39 the grounds set forth in paragraph (b), (c), (f), (g) or (h) of subdivi-
40 sion one of section 440.10 as applied to a separate sentencing proceed-41 ing under section 400.27, provided, however, that to the extent the 42 ground or grounds asserted include one or more of the aforesaid para-
43 graphs of subdivision one of section 440.10, the court must also apply
44 subdivisions two and three of section 440.10, other than paragraph (d)
45 of subdivision two of such section, in determining the motion. In the 46 event the court enters an order granting a motion to set aside a 47 sentence of death under this section, the court must either direct a new 48 sentencing proceeding in accordance with section 400.27 or, to the 49 extent that the defendant cannot be resentenced to death consistent with 50 the laws of this state or the constitution of this state or of the 51 United States, resentence the defendant to life imprisonment [~~without~~ 52 ~~parole~~] with eligibility for parole after twenty-five years or to a 53 sentence of imprisonment for the class A-I felony of murder in the first 54 degree other than a sentence of life imprisonment [~~without parole~~] with 55 eligibility for parole after twenty-five years. Upon granting the 56 motion upon any of the grounds set forth in the aforesaid paragraphs of subdivision one of section 440.10 and setting aside the sentence, the court must afford the people a reasonable period of time, which shall not be less than ten days, to determine whether to take an appeal from the order setting aside the sentence of death. The taking of an appeal by the people stays the effectiveness of that portion of the court's order that directs a new sentencing proceeding.

§ 19. Paragraphs (b) and (c) of subdivision 5 of section 470.30 of the criminal procedure law, as added by chapter 1 of the laws of 1995, are amended to read as follows:

(b) set the sentence aside and remand the case for resentencing pursuant to the procedures set forth in section 400.27 for a determination as to whether the defendant shall be sentenced to death, life imprisonment ~~[without parole]~~ with eligibility for parole after twenty-five years or to a term of imprisonment for the class A-I felony of murder in the first degree other than a sentence of life imprisonment ~~[without parole]~~ with eligibility for parole after twenty-five years; or

(c) set the sentence aside and remand the case for resentencing by the court for a determination as to whether the defendant shall be sentenced to life imprisonment ~~[without parole]~~ with eligibility for parole after twenty-five years or to a term of imprisonment for the class A-I felony of murder in the first degree other than a sentence of life imprisonment ~~[without parole]~~ with eligibility for parole after twenty-five years.

§ 20. The opening paragraph of subdivision 1 of section 70.25 of the penal law, as amended by chapter 372 of the laws of 1981, is amended to read as follows:

Except as provided in subdivisions two, two-a and five of this section, when multiple sentences of imprisonment are imposed on a person at the same time, or when a person who is subject to any undischarged term of imprisonment imposed at a previous time by a court of this state is sentenced to an additional term of imprisonment, the sentence or sentences imposed by the court shall run either concurrently or consecutively with respect to each other and the undischarged term or terms in such manner as the court directs at the time of sentence. Notwithstanding any other provision of the law to the contrary, no defendant shall be sentenced to serve consecutive terms of imprisonment which exceed a twenty-five year sentence. If the court does not specify the manner in which a sentence imposed by it is to run, the sentence shall run as follows:

§ 21. This act shall take effect on the ninetieth day after it shall have become a law.
