STATE OF NEW YORK

1882

2021-2022 Regular Sessions

IN ASSEMBLY

January 11, 2021

Introduced by M. of A. PRETLOW -- read once and referred to the Committee on Codes

AN ACT to amend the criminal procedure law and the family court act, in relation to orders of protection

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

Section 1. Subdivision 1 of section 530.12 of the criminal procedure 1 2 law is amended by adding five new paragraphs (c), (c-1), (c-2), (c-3) 3 and (c-4) to read as follows: 4 (c) to make or to continue to make rent or mortgage payments on a 5 residence occupied by the person who is protected by such order if the respondent is found to have a duty to support the petitioner or other б 7 dependent household members provided that this issue has not been 8 resolved or is not being litigated between the parties in another 9 action; 10 (c-1) to pay the petitioner's rent or fees for housing services at a 11 residence other than the one previously shared by the parties if the respondent is found to have a duty to support the petitioner and the 12 13 petitioner requires alternative housing due to the incident or incidents 14 forming the basis for the issuance of the order; 15 (c-2) to pay monetary compensation for losses arising from the inci-16 dent or incidents forming the basis for the issuance of the order; such order may require the respondent to pay the petitioner directly, to 17 reimburse the crime victims board for any and all compensation paid 18 19 directly to or on behalf of the petitioner, and may require that the 20 respondent reimburse any parties that may have compensated the petition-21 er, as the court may determine. Compensatory losses shall include, but 22 shall not be limited to, loss of earnings or other support, out-of-pocket losses for injuries sustained, cost of repair or replacement of real 23 24 or personal property damaged, destroyed or taken, cost of counseling for 25 the petitioner and/or dependent household member, moving or other travel

EXPLANATION--Matter in italics (underscored) is new; matter in brackets [-] is old law to be omitted.

LBD00082-01-1

-
1	expenses, reasonable attorney's fees, court costs, and compensation for
2	pain and suffering;
3	(c-3) to grant possession of specified personal property which shall
4	include but shall not be limited to automobiles, checkbooks, keys,
5	documentation of health insurance, other identification documentation
6	and other personal effects;
7	(c-4) to prohibit the respondent from transferring, encumbering or
8	otherwise disposing of specified property mutually owned or leased by
9	the parties;
10	§ 2. Subdivision 5 of section 530.12 of the criminal procedure law is 11	amended by adding five new paragraphs (b-1), (b-2), (b-3), (b-4) and
12	(b-5) to read as follows:
13	(b-1) to make or to continue to make rent or mortgage payments on a
14	residence occupied by the person who is protected by such order if the
15	respondent is found to have a duty to support the petitioner or other
16	dependent household members provided that this issue has not been
17	resolved or is not being litigated between the parties in another
18	action;
19	(b-2) to pay the petitioner's rent or fees for housing services at a
20	residence other than the one previously shared by the parties if the
21	respondent is found to have a duty to support the petitioner and the
22	petitioner requires alternative housing due to the incident or incidents
23	forming the basis for the issuance of the order;
24	(b-3) to pay monetary compensation for losses arising from the inci-
25	dent or incidents forming the basis for the issuance of the order; such 26	order may require the respondent to pay the petitioner directly, to 27	reimburse the crime victims board for any and all compensation paid
28	directly to or on behalf of the petitioner, and may require that the 29	respondent reimburse any parties that may have compensated the petition-
30	er, as the court may determine. Compensatory losses shall include, but 31	shall not be limited to, loss of earnings or other support, out-of-pock-
32	et losses for injuries sustained, cost of repair or replacement of real
33	or personal property damaged, destroyed or taken, cost of counseling for 34	the petitioner and/or dependent household member, moving or other travel
35	expenses, reasonable attorney's fees, court costs, and compensation for
36	pain and suffering;
37	(b-4) to grant possession of specified personal property which shall
38	include but shall not be limited to automobiles, checkbooks, keys,
39	documentation of health insurance, other identification documentation
40	and other personal effects;
41	(b-5) to prohibit the respondent from transferring, encumbering or
42	otherwise disposing of specified property mutually owned or leased by
43	the parties;
44	§ 3. Section 446 of the family court act is amended by adding five new
45	subdivisions $(f-1)$, $(f-2)$, $(f-3)$, $(f-4)$ and $(f-5)$ to read as follows:
46	(f-1) to make or to continue to make rent or mortgage payments on a
47	residence occupied by the person who is protected by such order if the
48	respondent is found to have a duty to support the petitioner or other
49	dependent household members provided that this issue has not been
50	resolved or is not being litigated between the parties in another
51	action;
52	(f-2) to pay the petitioner's rent or fees for housing services at a
53	residence other than the one previously shared by the parties if the
54	respondent is found to have a duty to support the petitioner and the
55	petitioner requires alternative housing due to the incident or incidents
56	forming the basis for the issuance of the order;

2 dent or incidents forming the basis for the issuance of the order: such order may require the respondent to pay the petitioner directly, to reimburge the crime victime board for any and all compensation paid directly to or on behalf of the petitioner, and may require that the respondent reimburge any parties that may have compensated the petition- rer, as the court may determine. Compensatory losses shall include, but shall not be limited to, loss of earnings or other support, out-of-pock- et losses for injuries sustained, cost of repair or replacement of real or personal property damaged, destroyed or taken, cost of counseling for the petitioner and/or dependent household member, moving or other travel expenses, reasonable attorney's fees, court costs, and compensation for pain and suffering; (f-4) to grant possession of specified personal property which shall include but shall not be limited to automobiles, checkbooks, keys. documentation of health insurance, other identification documentation and other personal effects; (f-5) to prohibit the respondent from transferring, encumbering or otherwise disposing of specified property mutually owned or leased by the parties; (g-1) to make or to continue to make rent or mortgrage payments on a residence occupied by the person who is protected by such order if the respondent is found to have a duty to support the parties in another a traidence oncupied by the person who is protected by such order if the respondent is found to have a duty to support the parties in another a traidence other than the one previously shared by the parties if a the respondent is found to have a duty to support the parties if the respondent is found to have a duty to support the parties if the respondent is found to have a duty to support the parties if the respondent is found to have a duty to support the parties if the respondent neimists for the issuance of the order; (g-3) to pay monetary compensation for losses arising from the inci- dent is found to have a duty to support the part	1	(f-3) to pay monetary compensation for losses arising from the inci-
3 order may require the respondent to pay the petitioner directly, to or on behalf of the petitioner, and may require that the respondent reimburse any parties that may have compensated the petition-or er, as the court may determine. Compensatory losses shall include, but shall not be limited to, loss of earnings or other support, out-of-pock-et losses for inturies sustained, cost of repair or replacement of real or personal property damaged, destroyed or taken, cost of counseling for the petitioner and/or dependent household member, moving or other travel expenses, reasonable attorney's fees, court costs, and compensation for pain and suffering; 14 (f-4) to grant possession of specified personal property which shall include but shall not be limited to automobiles, checkbocks, keys, documentation of health insurance, other identification documentation and other personal effects; 17 otherwise disposing of specified property mutually owned or leased by the parties; 28 4. Section 656 of the family court act is amended by adding five new subdivisions (g-1), (g-2), (g-3), (g-4) and (g-5) to read as follows; 29 (g-1) to make or to continue to make rent or mortgage payments on a residence occupied by the person who is protected by such order if the respondent is found to have a duty to support the petitioner or other sation. 20 (g-2) to pay the petitioner's rent or fees for housing services at a residence other than the one previously shared by the parties if another a forming the basis for the issuance of the order; such or dening the basis for the issuance of the order; and the respondent is found to have a duty to support the petitioner and the respondent is found to have a duty to support the petitioner and the respondent is found to have a duty to support the petitioner and the respondent is found to have a duty to support the petitioner and the respondent is fourt to have a duty to support the petitioner and the respondent to pay monetary compensation for losses shall includ	2	dent or incidents forming the basis for the issuance of the order; such 4 reimburse the crime victims board for any and all compensation paid directly to on on behalf of the petitioner, and may require that the respondent reimburse any parties that may have compensated the petition- or, as the court may determine. Compensatory losses shall include. but shall not be limited to, loss of earnings or other support, out-of-pock- et losses for infuries sustained, cost of repair or replacement of real or personal property damaged. destroyed or taken, cost of counseling for the petitioner and/or dependent household member, moving or other travel expenses, reasonable attorney's fees, court costs, and compensation for pain and suffering; (f-4) to grant possession of specified personal property which shall include but shall not be limited to automobiles, checkbooks, keys, documentation of health insurance, other identification documentation and other personal effects; (f-5) to prohibit the respondent from transferring, encumbering or otherwise disposing of specified property mutually owned or leased by the parties; (g-1) to make or to continue to make rent or mortgage payments on a residence occupied by the person who is protected by such order if the respondent household members provided that this issue has not been resolved or is not being litigated between the parties in another action; (g-2) to pay the petitioner's rent or fees for housing services at a forming the basis for the issuance of the order; (g-3) to pay monetary compensation for losses arising from the incident forming the basis for the issuance of the relationer directly, to reimburse the orning the basis for housing services shall include, but shall not be limited to, loss of earnings or other support, which shall directly to or on behing of specified personal property which shall at help thioner and/or dependent household member, moving or other travel is pay and the issuance of the order; (g-3) to pay monetary compensation for losses arising from the incident forming the basis for the petitioner, and and compensation pai
5 directly to or on behalf of the petitioner, and may require that the respondent reimburse any parties that may have compensated the petition- er, as the court may determine. Compensatory losses shall include, but shall not be limited to, loss of earnings or other support, out-of-pock- et losses for induries sustained. cost of repair or replacement of real or personal property damaged. destroyed or taken, cost of counseling for the petitioner and/or dependent household member, moving or other travel expenses, reasonable attorney's fees, court costs, and compensation for pain and suffering; (f-4) to grant possession of specified personal property which shall include but shall not be limited to automobiles, checkbooks, keys, documentation of health insurance, other identification documentation and other personal effects; (f-5) to prohibit the respondent from transferring, encumbering or otherwise disposing of specified property mutually owned or leased by the parties; (f-1) to make or to continue to make rent or mortage payments on a residence occupied by the person who is protected by such order if the respondent is found to have a duty to support the patitioner or other dependent household members provided that this issue has not bean resolved or is not being litigated between the parties in another a traidence of the none previously shared by the parties if the respondent is found to have a duty to support the petitioner and the spindent is found to have a duty to support the petitioner and the spindent is found to have a duty to support the petitioner in ricidents forming the basis for the issuance of the order; (-3) to pay wometary compensation for losses arising from the inci- dent or incidents forming the basis for the issuance of the order; such order may require the respondent to pay and may require that the septiment heinsts forming the basis for the issuance of the order; (-3) to pay monetary compensation for losses arising from the inci- ed the petitioner and/or dependent househol member, moving o
6 respondent reinburge any parties that may have compensated the petition- er, as the court may determine. Compensatory losses shall include, but shall not be limited to, loss of earnings or other support, out-of-pock- et losses for infuries sustained, cost of repair or replacement of real or personal property damaged, destroyed or taken, cost of counseling for the petitioner and/or dependent household member, moving or other travel expenses, reasonable attorney's fees, court costs, and compensation for pain and suffering; (f-1) to grant possession of specified personal property which shall include but shall not be limited to automobiles, checkbooks, keys, documentation of health insurance, other identification documentation and other personal effects; (f-5) to prohibit the respondent from transferring, encumbering or otherwise disposing of specified property mutually owned or leased by the parties; (g-1) to make or to continue to make rent or mortgage payments on a residence occupied by the person who is protected by such order if the respondent is found to have a duty to support the petitioner or other dependent household members provided that this issue has not been residence other than the one previously shared by the parties if the petitoner requires alternative housing dev to the incident or incidents forming the basis for the issuance of the order; (g-2) to pay the petitioner's rent or fees for housing services at a residence other than the one previously shared by the parties if the petitioner requires alternative housing due to the incident or incidents forming the basis for the issuance of the order; (g-1) to pay monetary compensatory losses shall include, but shall not be limited to, loss of eranings or other support, out-of-pock et losses for injuries sustained, cost of repair or replacement of real or personal property damaged, destroyed or taken, cost of counseling for the petitioner and/or dependent household member, moving or other travel spenses, reasonable attorney's fees, court costs, and <pre>7 er, as the court may determine. Compensatory losses shall include, but shall not be limited to, loss of earnings or other support, out-of-pock- et losses for injuries sustained, cost of repair or replacement of real or personal property damaged, destroyed or taken, cost of counseling for the petitioner and/or dependent household member, moving or other travel expenses, reasonable attorney's fees, court costs, and compensation for pain and suffering: (f-4) to grant possession of specified personal property which shall include but shall not be limited to automobiles, checkbooks, keys. documentation of health insurance, other identification documentation and other personal effects: (f-5) to prohibit the respondent from transferring, encumbering or otherwise disposing of specified property mutually owned or leased by the parties: $ 4. Section 656 of the family court act is amended by adding five new sublivisions (g-1), (g-2), (g-3), (g-4) and (g-5) to read as follows: (g-1) to make or to continue to make rent or mortgare payments on a residence occupied by the person who is protected by such order if the respondent is found to have a duty to support the petitioner or other action: (g-2) to pay the petitioner's rent or fees for housing services at a residence than the one previously shared by the parties in another action: (g-3) to pay monetary compensation for losses arising from the inci- dent is found to have a duty to support the petitioner and the petitioner reinforming the basis for the issuance of the order; such order may require the respondent to pay the pattities if the respondent is found to have a duty to support the petitioner forming the basis for the issuance of the order; (g-3) to pay monetary compensation for losses arising from the inci- der may requires the respondent to pay the petitioner directly, to reinformer and/or dependent household member, moving or other t</pre>
 8 shall not be limited to, loss of earnings or other support, out-of-pock-et losses for injuries sustained, cost of repair or replacement of real or personal property damaged, destroyed or taken, cost of counseling for the petitioner and/or dependent household member, moving or other travel expenses, reasonable attorney's fees, court costs, and compensation for gain and suffering; (f-4) to grant possession of specified personal property which shall include but shall not be limited to automobiles, checkbooks, keys, documentation of health insurance, other identification documentation and other personal effects; (f-5) to prohibit the respondent from transferring, encumbering or otherwise disposing of specified property mutually owned or leased by the parties; (g-1) to make or to continue to make rent or mortgage payments on a respondent is found to have a duty to support the petitioner or other dependent household members provided that this issue has not been respondent is found to have a duty to support the parties in another action; (g-2) to pay the petitioner's rent or fees for housing services at a residence occuried by the personation for losses arising from the incident forming the basis for the issuance of the order; (g-1) to pay monetary compensation for losses arising from the incident or incidents forming the basis for the issuance of the order; (g-1) to pay monetary compensation for losses arising from the incident or residence adverty dams pay returns bard for any and all compensation paid directly to or on behalf of the petitioner, and may require that the respondent is loud to have a duty to support the petitioner directly, to respondent is found to have a duty to support the petitioner directly. (g-1) to pay monetary compensation for losses arising from the in
 9 et losses for injuries sustained, cost of repair or replacement of real 10 or personal property damaged, destroyed or taken, cost of counseling for 11 the petitioner and/or dependent household member, moving or other travel 12 expenses, reasonable attorney's fees, court costs, and compensation for 13 pain and suffering; 14 (f-4) to grant possession of specified personal property which shall 15 include but shall not be limited to automobiles, checkbooks, keys, 16 documentation of health insurance, other identification documentation 17 and other personal effects; 18 (f-5) to prohibit the respondent from transferring, encumbering or 19 otherwise disposing of specified property mutually owned or leased by 10 the parties; 10 (f-1) to make or to continue to make rent or mortgade payments on a 10 respondent is found to have a duty to support the petitioner or other 11 dependent household members provided that this issue has not been 12 residence other than the one previously shared by the parties in another 13 action; 14 (g-2) to pay the petitioner's rent or fees for housing services at a 15 respondent is found to have a duty to support the petitioner and the 16 petitioner requires alternative housing due to the incident or incidents 17 forming the basis for the issuance of the order; 18 (g-3) to pay monetary compensation for losses arising from the incident or incidents forming the basis for the issuance of the order; 19 to pay monetary compensation for any and all compensation paid 10 directly to or on behalf of the petitioner, and may require that the 19 respondent reimburse any parties that may have compensated the petition 19 or parsonal property damaged, destroyed or taken, cost of counseling for 10 the pay monetary compensatory losses shall include, but 10 shall
10 or personal property damaged, destroyed or taken, cost of counseling for 11 the petitioner and/or dependent household member, moving or other travel 2 expenses, reasonable attorney's fees, court costs, and compensation for 13 pain and suffering; 13 (f-4) to grant possession of specified personal property which shall 14 include but shall not be limited to automobiles, checkbooks, keys, 15 documentation of health insurance, other identification documentation 17 and other personal effects: 16 (f-5) to prohibit the respondent from transferring, encumbering or 17 otherwise disposing of specified property mutually owned or leased by 18 4. Section 656 of the family court act is amended by adding five new 29 subdivisions (g-1), (g-2), (g-3), (g-4) and (g-5) to read as follows: 17 (g-1) to make or to continue to make rent or mortgage payments on a 18 residence occupied by the person who is protected by such order if the 18 respondent is found to have a duty to support the petitioner or other 19 dependent household members provided that this issue has not been 19 resolved or is not being litigated between the parties in another 19 resolved or is not being litigated between the parties if the 19 respondent is found to have a duty to support the petitioner and the 20 petitioner requires alternative housing due to the incident or incidents 20 forming the basis for the issuance of the order; 21 (g-2) to pay monetary compensation for losses arising from the inci- 25 dent or incidents forming the basis for the issuance of the order; 26 (g-1) to gay monetary compensation for losses arising from the inci- 26 reimburse the crime victims board for any and all compensation paid 26 directly to or on behalf of the petitioner, and may require that the 26 respondent to just any parties that may have compensated the petition- 27 the petitioner and/or dependent household member, moving or other travel 28 spenses, reasonable attorney's fees, court costs, and compensation for 29 pain and suffering; 20 (g-4) to grant possession of spe
11 the petitioner and/or dependent household member, moving or other travel expenses, reasonable attorney's fees, court costs, and compensation for jain and suffering; (f-4) to grant possession of specified personal property which shall include but shall not be limited to automobiles, checkbooks, keys, documentation of health insurance, other identification documentation and other personal effects; (f-5) to prohibit the respondent from transferring, encumbering or otherwise disposing of specified property mutually owned or leased by the parties; s 4. Section 656 of the family court act is amended by adding five new subdivisions (g-1), (g-2), (g-3), (g-4) and (g-5) to read as follows: (g-1) to make or to continue to make rent or mortgage payments on a residence occupied by the person who is protected by such order if the respondent is found to have a duty to support the petitioner or other action; (g-2) to pay the petitioner's rent or fees for housing services at a residence other than the one previously shared by the parties if the respondent is found to have a duty to support the petitioner and the petitioner requires alternative housing due to the incident or incidents forming the basis for the issuance of the order; (g-3) to pay monetary compensation for losses arising from the inci- dent or incidents forming the basis for the issuance of the order; such order may require the respondent to pay the petitioner and the petitioner reimburse any parties that may have compensated the petition- er, as the court may determine. Compensatory losses shall include, but shall not be limited to, loss of earnings or other support, out-of-pock- et losses for injuries sustained, cost of repair or relacement of real or personal property damaged, destroyed or taken, cost of counseling for the petitioner and/or dependent household member, moving or other travel expenses, reasonable attorney's fees, court costs, and compensation for pain and suffering; (g-5) to prohibit the respondent from transferring, encumbering or otherwi
<pre>2 expenses. reasonable attorney's fees, court costs, and compensation for pain and suffering; (f-4) to grant possession of specified personal property which shall include but shall not be limited to automobiles, checkbooks, keys, documentation of health insurance, other identification documentation and other personal effects: (f-5) to prohibit the respondent from transferring, encumbering or otherwise disposing of specified property mutually owned or leased by the parties: (f-5) to prohibit the respondent from transferring, encumbering or otherwise disposing of specified property mutually owned or leased by the parties: (g-1) to make or to continue to make rent or mortgage payments on a residence occupied by the person who is protected by such order if the respondent is found to have a duty to support the petitioner or other dependent household members provided that this issue has not been resolved or is not being litigated between the parties in another action; (g-2) to pay the petitioner's rent or fees for housing services at a residence other than the one previously shared by the parties if the petitioner requires alternative housing due to the incident or incidents forming the basis for the issuance of the order; (g-3) to pay monetary compensation for losses arising from the inci- dent or incidents forming the basis for the issuance of the order; such order may require the respondent to pay the petitioner directly, to reimburse the crime victims board for any and all compensation paid directly to or on behalf of the petitioner, and may require that the shall not be limited to, loss of earnings or other support, out-of-pock- et losses for injuries sustained, cost of repair or replacement of real or personal property damaged, destroyed or taken, cost of counseling for the petitioner and/or dependent household member, moving or other travel expenses, reasonable attorney's fees, court costs, and compensation for pain and suffering; (g-5) to prohibit the respondent from tran</pre>
13 pain and suffering: 14 (f-4) to grant possession of specified personal property which shall 15 include but shall not be limited to automobiles, checkbooks, keys. 16 documentation of health insurance, other identification documentation 17 and other personal effects: 18 (f-5) to prohibit the respondent from transferring, encumbering or 19 otherwise disposing of specified property mutually owned or leased by 10 the parties: 11 § 4. Section 656 of the family court act is amended by adding five new 12 § 4. Section 656 of the family court act is amended by adding five new 13 subdivisions (g-1), (g-2), (g-3), (g-4) and (g-5) to read as follows: 14 (g-1) to make or to continue to make rent or mortgage payments on a 15 respondent is found to have a duty to support the petitioner or other 16 dependent household members provided that this issue has not been 17 resolved or is not being litigated between the parties in another 18 arcsidence ther than the one previously shared by the parties if the 19 respondent is found to have a duty to support the petitioner and the 10 petitioner requires alternative housing due to the incident or incidents 11 forming the basis for the issuance of the order; 12 (g-3) to pay monetary compensation for losses arising from the incid- 13 dent or incidents forming the basis for the issuance of the order; 14 (g-3) to pay monetary compensation for losses arising from the incid- 15 dent or incidents forming the basis for the issuance of the order; 14 respondent reinburse any parties that may have compensated the petition- 15 respondent reinburse any parties that may have compensated the petition- 16 respondent reinburse and y determine, cost of counseling for 16 the petitioner and/or dependent household member, moving or other travel 16 scpenses, reasonable attorney's fees, court costs, and compensation for 17 pain and suffering: 17 (g-5) to prohibit the respondent from transferring, encumbering or 29 otherwise disposing of specified property mutually owned or l
<pre>(f-4) to grant possession of specified personal property which shall include but shall not be limited to automobiles, checkbooks, keys, documentation of health insurance, other identification documentation and other personal effects: (f-5) to prohibit the respondent from transferring, encumbering or otherwise disposing of specified property mutually owned or leased by the parties: S 4. Section 656 of the family court act is amended by adding five new subdivisions (g-1), (g-2), (g-3), (g-4) and (g-5) to read as follows: (g-1) to make or to continue to make rent or mortgage parments on a residence occupied by the person who is protected by such order if the respondent is found to have a duty to support the petitioner or other dependent household members provided that this issue has not been resolved or is not being litigated between the parties in another action; (g-2) to pay the petitioner's rent or fees for housing services at a residence other than the one previously shared by the parties if the petitioner requires alternative housing due to the incident or incidents forming the basis for the issuance of the order; (g-3) to pay monetary compensation for losses arising from the inci- dent or incidents forming the basis for the issuance of the order; such order may require the respondent to pay the petitioner directly, to reimburse the curim wictims board for any and all compensation paid directly to or on behalf of the petitioner, and may require that the personal property damaged, destroyed or taken, cost of counseling for the petitioner and/or dependent household member, moving or other travel septenses, reasonable attorney's fees, court costs, and compensation for pain and suffering: (g-1) to grant possession of specified personal property which shall include but shall not be limited to autombiles, checkbooks, keys, documentation of health insurance, other identification documentation and other personal effects: (g-5) to prohibit the respondent from transferring, encumber</pre> <pre>15 include but shall not be limited to automobiles, checkbooks, keys, 16 documentation of health insurance, other identification documentation 17 and other personal effects: 18 (f-5) to prohibit the respondent from transferring, encumbering or 19 otherwise disposing of specified property mutually owned or leased by 10 the parties; 11 $ 4. Section 656 of the family court act is amended by adding five new 12 subdivisions (g-1), (g-2), (g-3), (g-4) and (g-5) to read as follows: 13 (g-1) to make or to continue to make rent or mortgage payments on a 14 residence occupied by the person who is protected by such order if the 15 respondent is found to have a duty to support the petitioner or other 16 dependent household members provided that this issue has not been 17 resolved or is not being litigated between the parties in another 18 action; 19 (g-2) to pay the petitioner's rent or fees for housing services at a 19 respondent is found to have a duty to support the petitioner and the 19 petitioner requires alternative housing due to the incident or incidents 19 forming the basis for the issuance of the order; 10 (g-3) to pay monetary compensation for losses arising from the inci- 19 dent or incidents forming the basis for the issuance of the order; such 10 order may require the respondent to pay the petitioner and the 19 respondent reimburse any parties that may have compensated the petition- 19 or incidents forming the basis for the issuance of the order; such 10 reimburse the crime victims board for any and all compensation paid 11 directly to or on behalf of the petitioner, and may require that the 11 shall not be limited to, loss of earnings or other support, out-of-pock- 12 expenses, reasonable attorney's fees, court costs, and compensation for 14 he petitioner and/or dependent household member, moving or other travel 15 expenses, reasonable attorney's fees, court costs, and compensation for 16 pain and suffering; 17 (g-1) to grant possession of specified personal property which shall 19 include but shall not</pre>
documentation of health insurance, other identification documentation and other personal effects: (f-5) to prohibit the respondent from transferring, encumbering or otherwise disposing of specified property mutually owned or leased by the parties: $ 4. Section 656 of the family court act is amended by adding five new subdivisions (g-1), (g-2), (g-3), (g-4) and (g-5) to read as follows: (g-1) to make or to continue to make rent or mortgage payments on a residence occupied by the person who is protected by such order if the respondent is found to have a duty to support the petitioner or other dependent household members provided that this issue has not been resolved or is not being litigated between the parties in another action: (g-2) to pay the petitioner's rent or fees for housing services at a residence other than the one previously shared by the parties if the respondent is found to have a duty to support the petitioner and the petitioner requires alternative housing due to the incident or incidents forming the basis for the issuance of the order; (g-3) to pay monetary compensation for losses arising from the inci- dent or incidents forming the basis for the issuance of the order; such order may require the respondent to pay the petitioner directly, to reimburse the crime victims board for any and all compensation paid directly to or on behalf of the petitioner, and may require that the respondent reimburse any parties that may have compensated the petition- er, as the court may determine. Compensatory losses shall include, but shall not be limited to, loss of earnings or other support, out-of-pock- et losses for injuries sustained, cost of repair or replacement of real or personal property damaged, destroyed or taken, cost of counseling for the petitioner and/or dependent household member, moving or other travel expenses, reasonable attorney's fees, court costs, and compensation for pain and suffering; (g-1) to grant possession of specified personal property which shall include but shall not be limited t <pre>17 and other personal effects: 18 (f-5) to prohibit the respondent from transferring, encumbering or otherwise disposing of specified property mutually owned or leased by 19 the parties: 10 § 4. Section 656 of the family court act is amended by adding five new 10 subdivisions (g-1), (g-2), (g-3), (g-4) and (g-5) to read as follows: 10 (g-1) to make or to continue to make rent or mortgage payments on a 10 residence occupied by the person who is protected by such order if the 11 residence occupied by the person who is protected by such order if the 12 residence occupied by the person who is protected by such order if the 13 residence occupied by the person who is protected by such order if the 14 residence of a not being litigated between the parties in another 15 action; 16 (g-2) to pay the petitioner's rent or fees for housing services at a 16 respondent is found to have a duty to support the petitioner and the 17 petitioner requires alternative housing due to the incident or incidents 16 forning the basis for the issuance of the order; 17 (g-3) to pay monetary compensation for losses arising from the inci- 18 dent or incidents forming the basis for the issuance of the order; 19 respondent te respondent to pay the petitioner directly, to 10 reimburse the crime victims board for any and all compensation paid 10 directly to or on behalf of the petitioner, and may require that the 11 respondent reimburse any parties that may have compensated the petition- 12 exponse, reasonable attorney's fees, court costs, and compensation for 13 exponse, reasonable attorney's fees, court costs, and compensation for 14 the petitioner and/or dependent household member, moving or other travel 15 expenses, reasonable attorney's fees, court costs, and compensation for 16 pain and suffering: 17 (g-4) to grant possession of specified personal property which shall 18 include but shall not be limited to automobiles, checkbooks, keys, 19 documentation of health insurance, other identification documentati</pre>
(f-5) to prohibit the respondent from transferring, encumbering or otherwise disposing of specified property mutually owned or leased by the parties: § 4. Section 656 of the family court act is amended by adding five new subdivisions (g-1), (g-2), (g-3), (g-4) and (g-5) to read as follows: (g-1) to make or to continue to make rent or mortgage payments on a residence occupied by the person who is protected by such order if the respondent is found to have a duty to support the petitioner or other dependent household members provided that this issue has not been resolved or is not being litigated between the parties in another action; (g-2) to pay the petitioner's rent or fees for housing services at a residence other than the one previously shared by the parties if the respondent is found to have a duty to support the petitioner and the petitioner requires alternative housing due to the incidents if forming the basis for the issuance of the order; (g-3) to pay monetary compensation for losses arising from the inci- dent or incidents forming the basis for the pay the petitioner directly, to reimburse the crime victims board for any and all compensation paid directly to or on behalf of the petitioner, moving or other support, out-of-pock- et losses for injuries sustained, cost of repair or replacement of real or personal property damaged, destroyed or taken, cost of counseling for the petitioner and/or dependent household member, moving or other travel expenses, reasonable attorney's fees, court costs, and compensation for pain and suffering: (g-5) to prohibit the respondent from transferring, encumbering or otherwise disposing of specified property mutually owned or leased by the parties; § 5. Section 842 of the family court act is amended by adding five new <pre>19 otherwise disposing of specified property mutually owned or leased by the parties:</pre>
the parties: § 4. Section 656 of the family court act is amended by adding five new subdivisions (g-1), (g-2), (g-3), (g-4) and (g-5) to read as follows: (g-1) to make or to continue to make rent or mortgage payments on a residence occupied by the person who is protected by such order if the respondent is found to have a duty to support the petitioner or other dependent household members provided that this issue has not been resolved or is not being litigated between the parties in another action: (g-2) to pay the petitioner's rent or fees for housing services at a residence other than the one previously shared by the parties if the respondent is found to have a duty to support the petitioner and the petitioner requires alternative housing due to the incident or incidents forming the basis for the issuance of the order; (g-3) to pay monetary compensation for losses arising from the inci- dent or incidents forming the basis for the issuance of the order; such order may require the respondent to pay the petitioner directly, to reimburse the crime victims board for any and all compensation paid directly to or on behalf of the petitioner, and may require that the respondent reimburse any parties that may have compensated the petition- er, as the court may determine. Compensatory losses shall include, but shall not be limited to, loss of earnings or other support, out-of-pock- et losses for injuries sustained, cost of repair or replacement of real or personal property damaged, destroved or taken, cost of counseling for the petitioner and/or dependent household member, moving or other travel expenses, reasonable attorney's fees, court costs, and compensation for pain and suffering: (g-5) to prohibit the respondent from transferring, encumbering or otherwise disposing of specified property mutually owned or leased by the parties; § 5. Section 842 of the family court act is amended by adding five new § 4. Section 656 of the family court act is amended by adding five new subdivisions (g-1), (g-2), (g-3), (g-4) and (g-5) to read as follows: (g-1) to make or to continue to make rent or mortgage payments on a residence occupied by the person who is protected by such order if the respondent is found to have a duty to support the petitioner or other dependent household members provided that this issue has not been resolved or is not being litigated between the parties in another action; (g-2) to pay the petitioner's rent or fees for housing services at a residence other than the one previously shared by the petitioner and the petitioner requires alternative housing due to the incident or incidents forming the basis for the issuance of the order; (g-3) to pay monetary compensation for losses arising from the incident or incidents forming the basis for the petitioner, and may require that the respondent to pay the petitioner, and may require that the respondent reimburse any parties bad for the pay on the petitioner or other expondent reimburse any parties that may have compensated the petitioner or any and suffering; (g-4) to grant possession of specified personal property which shall include, but shall not be limited to, loss of earnings or other support, out-of-pocket to personal property damaged, destroyed or taken, cost of counseling for the petitioner and/or dependent household member, moving or other travel expenses, reasonable attorney's fees, court costs, and compensation for any and autor documentation and other personal effects; (g-5) to prohibit the respondent from transferring, encumbering or other travel expenses, reasonable attorney's fees, court costs, and compensation for and other personal effects; (g-5) to prohibit the respondent from transferring, encumbering or other travel expenses, reasonable attorney's fees, court costs, and compensation for and other personal effects; <pre>subdivisions (g-1), (g-2), (g-3), (g-4) and (g-5) to read as follows: (g-1) to make or to continue to make rent or mortgage payments on a residence occupied by the person who is protected by such order if the respondent is found to have a duty to support the petitioner or other dependent household members provided that this issue has not been resolved or is not being litigated between the parties in another action: (g-2) to pay the petitioner's rent or fees for housing services at a residence other than the one previously shared by the parties if the respondent is found to have a duty to support the petitioner and the petitioner requires alternative housing due to the incident or incidents forming the basis for the issuance of the order; (g-3) to pay monetary compensation for losses arising from the inci- dent or incidents forming the basis for the issuance of the order; such order may require the respondent to pay the petitioner directly, to reimburse the crime vitims board for any and all compensation paid directly to or on behalf of the petitioner, and may require that the respondent reimburse any parties that may have compensated the petition- er, as the court may determine. Compensatory losses shall include, but shall not be limited to, loss of earnings or other support, out-of-pock- et losses for injuries sustained, cost of repair or replacement of real or personal property damaged, destroved or taken, cost of counseling for the petitioner and/or dependent household member, moving or other travel expenses, reasonable attorney's fees, court costs, and compensation for pain and suffering; (g-4) to grant possession of specified personal property which shall include but shall not be limited to automobiles, checkbooks, keys, documentation of health insurance, other identification documentation and other personal effects: (g-5) to prohibit the respondent from transferring, encumbering or otherwise dis</pre>
(g-1) to make or to continue to make rent or mortgage payments on a residence occupied by the person who is protected by such order if the respondent is found to have a duty to support the petitioner or other dependent household members provided that this issue has not been resolved or is not being litigated between the parties in another action; (g-2) to pay the petitioner's rent or fees for housing services at a residence other than the one previously shared by the parties if the respondent is found to have a duty to support the petitioner and the petitioner requires alternative housing due to the incident or incidents forming the basis for the issuance of the order; (g-3) to pay monetary compensation for losses arising from the incidents forming the respondent to pay the petitioner, and may require the respondent to pay the petitioner, and the respondent reimburse any parties that may have compensated the petitioner of the order; as the court may determine. Compensatory losses shall include, but shall not be limited to, loss of earnings or other support, out-of-pocket losses for injuries sustained, cost of repair or replacement of real or personal property damaged, destroyed or taken, cost of counseling for the pair the petitioner of real or personal property damaged, destroyed or taken, cost of counseling for the pair and suffering; (g-5) to prohibit the respondent from transferring, encumbering or otherwise disposing of specified personal property which shall include but shall not be limited to automobiles, checkbooks, keys, documentation of health insurance, other identification documentation and other personal effects; <pre>residence occupied by the person who is protected by such order if the respondent is found to have a duty to support the petitioner or other dependent household members provided that this issue has not been resolved or is not being litigated between the parties in another action; (g-2) to pay the petitioner's rent or fees for housing services at a residence other than the one previously shared by the parties if the respondent is found to have a duty to support the petitioner and the petitioner requires alternative housing due to the incident or incidents forming the basis for the issuance of the order; (g-3) to pay monetary compensation for losses arising from the inci- dent or incidents forming the basis for the issuance of the order; such order may require the respondent to pay the petitioner directly, to reimburse the crime victims board for any and all compensation paid directly to or on behalf of the petitioner, and may require that the respondent reimburse any parties that may have compensated the petition- er, as the court may determine. Compensatory losses shall include, but shall not be limited to, loss of earnings or other support, out-of-pock- et losses for injuries sustained, cost of repair or replacement of real or personal property damaged, destroyed or taken, cost of counseling for the petitioner and/or dependent household member, moving or other travel expenses, reasonable attorney's fees, court costs, and compensation for pain and suffering: (g-4) to grant possession of specified personal property which shall include but shall not be limited to automobiles, checkbooks, keys, documentation of health insurance, other identification documentation and other personal effects; (g-5) to prohibit the respondent from transferring, encumbering or otherwise disposing of specified property mutually owned or leased by the parties; § 5. Section 842 of the family court act is amended by adding five new</pre> respondent is found to have a duty to support the petitioner or other dependent household members provided that this issue has not been resolved or is not being litigated between the parties in another action: (g-2) to pay the petitioner's rent or fees for housing services at a residence other than the one previously shared by the parties if the petitioner requires alternative housing due to the incident or incidents forming the basis for the issuance of the order; (g-3) to pay monetary compensation for losses arising from the inci- dent or incidents forming the basis for the issuance of the order; such order may require the respondent to pay the petitioner directly, to reimburse the crime victims board for any and all compensation paid directly to or on behalf of the petitioner, and may require that the respondent reimburse any parties that may have compensated the petition- er, as the court may determine. Compensatory losses shall include, but shall not be limited to, loss of earnings or other support, out-of-pock- et losses for injuries sustained, cost of repair or replacement of real or personal property damaged, destroyed or taken, cost of counseling for the petitioner and/or dependent household member, moving or other travel expenses, reasonable attorney's fees, court costs, and compensation for pain and suffering: (g-5) to prohibit the respondent from transferring, encumbering or otherwise disposing of specified property mutually owned or leased by the parties; dependent household members provided that this issue has not been resolved or is not being litigated between the parties in another action; (g-2) to pay the petitioner's rent or fees for housing services at a residence other than the one previously shared by the parties if the respondent is found to have a duty to support the petitioner and the petitioner requires alternative housing due to the incident or incidents forming the basis for the issuance of the order; (g-3) to pay monetary compensation for losses arising from the inci- dent or incidents forming the basis for the issuance of the order; such order may require the respondent to pay the petitioner directly, to reimburse the crime victims board for any and all compensation paid directly to or on behalf of the petitioner, and may require that the respondent reimburse any parties that may have compensated the petition- er, as the court may determine. Compensatory losses shall include, but shall not be limited to, loss of earnings or other support, out-of-pock- et losses for injuries sustained, cost of repair or replacement of real or personal property damaged, destroyed or taken, cost of counseling for the petitioner and/or dependent household member, moving or other travel expenses, reasonable attorney's fees, court costs, and compensation for pain and suffering: (g-4) to grant possession of specified personal property which shall include but shall not be limited to automobiles, checkbooks, keys, documentation of health insurance, other identification documentation and other personal effects: (g-5) to prohibit the respondent from transferring, encumbering or otherwise disposing of specified property mutually owned or leased by the parties; 5. Section 842 of the family court act is amended by adding five new 27 resolved or is not being litigated between the parties in another action; (g-2) to pay the petitioner's rent or fees for housing services at a residence other than the one previously shared by the parties if the respondent is found to have a duty to support the petitioner and the petitioner requires alternative housing due to the incident or incidents forming the basis for the issuance of the order; (g-3) to pay monetary compensation for losses arising from the inci- dent or incidents forming the basis for the issuance of the order; such order may require the respondent to pay the petitioner directly, to reimburse the crime victims board for any and all compensation paid directly to or on behalf of the petitioner, and may require that the respondent reimburse any parties that may have compensated the petition- er, as the court may determine. Compensatory losses shall include, but shall not be limited to, loss of earnings or other support, out-of-pock- et losses for injuries sustained, cost of repair or replacement of real or personal property damaged, destroyed or taken, cost of counseling for the petitioner and/or dependent household member, moving or other travel expenses, reasonable attorney's fees, court costs, and compensation for pain and suffering; (g-4) to grant possession of specified personal property which shall include but shall not be limited to automobiles, checkbooks, keys, documentation of health insurance, other identification documentation and other personal effects; (g-5) to prohibit the respondent from transferring, encumbering or otherwise disposing of specified property mutually owned or leased by the parties;
action: (g-2) to pay the petitioner's rent or fees for housing services at a residence other than the one previously shared by the parties if the petitioner requires alternative housing due to the incident or incidents forming the basis for the issuance of the order; (g-3) to pay monetary compensation for losses arising from the inci- dent or incidents forming the basis for the issuance of the order; such order may require the respondent to pay the petitioner directly, to reimburse the crime victims board for any and all compensation paid directly to or on behalf of the petitioner, and may require that the respondent reimburse any parties that may have compensated the petition- er, as the court may determine. Compensatory losses shall include, but shall not be limited to, loss of earnings or other support, out-of-pock- et losses for injuries sustained, cost of repair or replacement of real or personal property damaged, destroyed or taken, cost of counseling for the petitioner and/or dependent household member, moving or other travel expenses, reasonable attorney's fees, court costs, and compensation for pain and suffering: (g-4) to grant possession of specified personal property which shall include but shall not be limited to automobiles, checkbooks, keys, documentation of health insurance, other identification documentation and other personal effects; (g-5) to prohibit the respondent from transferring, encumbering or otherwise disposing of specified property mutually owned or leased by the parties; § 5. Section 842 of the family court act is amended by adding five new (g-2) to pay the petitioner's rent or fees for housing services at aresidence other than the one previously shared by the parties if therespondent is found to have a duty to support the petitioner and thepetitioner requires alternative housing due to the incident or incidentsforming the basis for the issuance of the order;(g-3) to pay monetary compensation for losses arising from the inci-dent or incidents forming the basis for the issuance of the order; suchorder may require the respondent to pay the petitioner directly, toreimburse the crime victims board for any and all compensation paiddirectly to or on behalf of the petitioner, and may require that therespondent reimburse any parties that may have compensated the petition-er, as the court may determine. Compensatory losses shall include, butshall not be limited to, loss of earnings or other support, out-of-pock-et losses for injuries sustained, cost of repair or replacement of realor personal property damaged, destroyed or taken, cost of counseling forthe petitioner and/or dependent household member, moving or other travelexpenses, reasonable attorney's fees, court costs, and compensation forpain and suffering:(g-4) to grant possession of specified personal property which shallinclude but shall not be limited to automobiles, checkbooks, keys,documentation of health insurance, other identification documentationand other personal effects:(g-5) to prohibit the respondent from transferring, encumbering orotherwise disposing of specified property mutually owned or leased bythe parties;§ 5. Section 842 of residence other than the one previously shared by the parties if the respondent is found to have a duty to support the petitioner and the petitioner requires alternative housing due to the incident or incidents forming the basis for the issuance of the order; (g-3) to pay monetary compensation for losses arising from the inci- dent or incidents forming the basis for the issuance of the order; such order may require the respondent to pay the petitioner directly, to reimburse the crime victims board for any and all compensation paid directly to or on behalf of the petitioner, and may require that the respondent reimburse any parties that may have compensated the petition- er, as the court may determine. Compensatory losses shall include, but shall not be limited to, loss of earnings or other support, out-of-pock- et losses for injuries sustained, cost of repair or replacement of real or personal property damaged, destroyed or taken, cost of counseling for the petitioner and/or dependent household member, moving or other travel expenses, reasonable attorney's fees, court costs, and compensation for pain and suffering: (g-4) to grant possession of specified personal property which shall include but shall not be limited to automobiles, checkbooks, keys, documentation of health insurance, other identification documentation and other personal effects: (g-5) to prohibit the respondent from transferring, encumbering or otherwise disposing of specified property mutually owned or leased by the parties; § 5. Section 842 of the family court act is amended by adding five new <pre>31 respondent is found to have a duty to support the petitioner and the 22 petitioner requires alternative housing due to the incident or incidents 33 forming the basis for the issuance of the order; 34 (g-3) to pay monetary compensation for losses arising from the inci- 35 dent or incidents forming the basis for the issuance of the order; such 36 order may require the respondent to pay the petitioner directly, to 37 reimburse the crime victims board for any and all compensation paid 38 directly to or on behalf of the petitioner, and may require that the 39 respondent reimburse any parties that may have compensated the petition- 40 er, as the court may determine. Compensatory losses shall include, but 41 shall not be limited to, loss of earnings or other support, out-of-pock- 42 et losses for injuries sustained, cost of repair or replacement of real 43 or personal property damaged, destroyed or taken, cost of counseling for 44 the petitioner and/or dependent household member, moving or other travel 45 expenses, reasonable attorney's fees, court costs, and compensation for 46 pain and suffering; 47 (g-4) to grant possession of specified personal property which shall 48 include but shall not be limited to automobiles, checkbooks, keys, 49 documentation of health insurance, other identification documentation 40 and other personal effects; 51 (g-5) to prohibit the respondent from transferring, encumbering or 52 otherwise disposing of specified property mutually owned or leased by 54 be parties; 55 Section 842 of the family court act is amended by adding five new</pre> petitioner requires alternative housing due to the incident or incidents forming the basis for the issuance of the order; (g-3) to pay monetary compensation for losses arising from the inci- dent or incidents forming the basis for the issuance of the order; such order may require the respondent to pay the petitioner directly, to reimburse the crime victims board for any and all compensation paid directly to or on behalf of the petitioner, and may require that the respondent reimburse any parties that may have compensated the petition- er, as the court may determine. Compensatory losses shall include, but shall not be limited to, loss of earnings or other support, out-of-pock- et losses for injuries sustained, cost of repair or replacement of real or personal property damaged, destroyed or taken, cost of counseling for the petitioner and/or dependent household member, moving or other travel expenses, reasonable attorney's fees, court costs, and compensation for pain and suffering. (g-4) to grant possession of specified personal property which shall include but shall not be limited to automobiles, checkbooks, keys, documentation of health insurance, other identification documentation and other personal effects: (g-5) to prohibit the respondent from transferring, encumbering or otherwise disposing of specified property mutually owned or leased by the parties; § 5. Section 842 of the family court act is amended by adding five new forming the basis for the issuance of the order; (g-3) to pay monetary compensation for losses arising from the incident or incidents forming the basis for the issuance of the order; such order may require the respondent to pay the petitioner directly, to reimburse the crime victims board for any and all compensation paid directly to or on behalf of the petitioner, and may require that the respondent reimburse any parties that may have compensated the petitioner, as the court may determine. Compensatory losses shall include, but shall not be limited to, loss of earnings or other support, out-of-pocket et losses for injuries sustained, cost of repair or replacement of real or personal property damaged, destroyed or taken, cost of counseling for pain and suffering: (g-4) to grant possession of specified personal property which shall include but shall not be limited to automobiles, checkbooks, keys, documentation of health insurance, other identification documentation and other personal effects; (g-5) to prohibit the respondent from transferring, encumbering or otherwise disposing of specified property mutually owned or leased by the parties; § 5. Section 842 of the family court act is amended by adding five new (g-3) to pay monetary compensation for losses arising from the inci- dent or incidents forming the basis for the issuance of the order; such order may require the respondent to pay the petitioner directly, to reimburse the crime victims board for any and all compensation paid directly to or on behalf of the petitioner, and may require that the respondent reimburse any parties that may have compensated the petition- er, as the court may determine. Compensatory losses shall include, but shall not be limited to, loss of earnings or other support, out-of-pock- et losses for injuries sustained, cost of repair or replacement of real or personal property damaged, destroyed or taken, cost of counseling for the petitioner and/or dependent household member, moving or other travel expenses, reasonable attorney's fees, court costs, and compensation for pain and suffering; (g-4) to grant possession of specified personal property which shall include but shall not be limited to automobiles, checkbooks, keys, documentation of health insurance, other identification documentation and other personal effects; (g-5) to prohibit the respondent from transferring, encumbering or otherwise disposing of specified property mutually owned or leased by the parties; § 5. Section 842 of the family court act is amended by adding five new dent or incidents forming the basis for the issuance of the order; such order may require the respondent to pay the petitioner directly, to reimburse the crime victims board for any and all compensation paid directly to or on behalf of the petitioner, and may require that the respondent reimburse any parties that may have compensated the petition- er, as the court may determine. Compensatory losses shall include, but shall not be limited to, loss of earnings or other support, out-of-pock- et losses for injuries sustained, cost of repair or replacement of real or personal property damaged, destroyed or taken, cost of counseling for the petitioner and/or dependent household member, moving or other travel expenses, reasonable attorney's fees, court costs, and compensation for pain and suffering: (g-4) to grant possession of specified personal property which shall include but shall not be limited to automobiles, checkbooks, keys, documentation of health insurance, other identification documentation and other personal effects; (g-5) to prohibit the respondent from transferring, encumbering or otherwise disposing of specified property mutually owned or leased by the parties; § 5. Section 842 of the family court act is amended by adding five new order may require the respondent to pay the petitioner directly, to reimburse the crime victims board for any and all compensation paid directly to or on behalf of the petitioner, and may require that the respondent reimburse any parties that may have compensated the petition- er, as the court may determine. Compensatory losses shall include, but shall not be limited to, loss of earnings or other support, out-of-pock- et losses for injuries sustained, cost of repair or replacement of real or personal property damaged, destroyed or taken, cost of counseling for the petitioner and/or dependent household member, moving or other travel expenses, reasonable attorney's fees, court costs, and compensation for pain and suffering; (g-4) to grant possession of specified personal property which shall include but shall not be limited to automobiles, checkbooks, keys, documentation of health insurance, other identification documentation and other personal effects; (g-5) to prohibit the respondent from transferring, encumbering or otherwise disposing of specified property mutually owned or leased by the parties; § 5. Section 842 of the family court act is amended by adding five new 37 reimburse the crime victims board for any and all compensation paid directly to or on behalf of the petitioner, and may require that the respondent reimburse any parties that may have compensated the petition- er, as the court may determine. Compensatory losses shall include, but shall not be limited to, loss of earnings or other support, out-of-pock- et losses for injuries sustained, cost of repair or replacement of real or personal property damaged, destroyed or taken, cost of counseling for the petitioner and/or dependent household member, moving or other travel expenses, reasonable attorney's fees, court costs, and compensation for pain and suffering; (g-4) to grant possession of specified personal property which shall include but shall not be limited to automobiles, checkbooks, keys, documentation of health insurance, other identification documentation and other personal effects; (g-5) to prohibit the respondent from transferring, encumbering or otherwise disposing of specified property mutually owned or leased by the parties; § 5. Section 842 of the family court act is amended by adding five new directly to or on behalf of the petitioner, and may require that the respondent reimburse any parties that may have compensated the petition- er, as the court may determine. Compensatory losses shall include, but shall not be limited to, loss of earnings or other support, out-of-pock- et losses for injuries sustained, cost of repair or replacement of real or personal property damaged, destroyed or taken, cost of counseling for the petitioner and/or dependent household member, moving or other travel expenses, reasonable attorney's fees, court costs, and compensation for pain and suffering; (g-4) to grant possession of specified personal property which shall include but shall not be limited to automobiles, checkbooks, keys, documentation of health insurance, other identification documentation and other personal effects; (g-5) to prohibit the respondent from transferring, encumbering or otherwise disposing of specified property mutually owned or leased by the parties; § 5. Section 842 of the family court act is amended by adding five new 39 respondent reimburse any parties that may have compensated the petition- 40 er, as the court may determine. Compensatory losses shall include, but 41 shall not be limited to, loss of earnings or other support, out-of-pock- 42 et losses for injuries sustained, cost of repair or replacement of real 43 or personal property damaged, destroyed or taken, cost of counseling for 44 the petitioner and/or dependent household member, moving or other travel 45 expenses, reasonable attorney's fees, court costs, and compensation for 46 pain and suffering: 47 (g-4) to grant possession of specified personal property which shall 48 include but shall not be limited to automobiles, checkbooks, keys, 49 documentation of health insurance, other identification documentation 50 and other personal effects: 51 (g-5) to prohibit the respondent from transferring, encumbering or 52 otherwise disposing of specified property mutually owned or leased by 53 the parties; 54 § 5. Section 842 of the family court act is amended by adding five new 40 er, as the court may determine. Compensatory losses shall include, but 41 shall not be limited to, loss of earnings or other support, out-of-pock- 42 et losses for injuries sustained, cost of repair or replacement of real 43 or personal property damaged, destroyed or taken, cost of counseling for 44 the petitioner and/or dependent household member, moving or other travel 45 expenses, reasonable attorney's fees, court costs, and compensation for 46 pain and suffering; 47 (g-4) to grant possession of specified personal property which shall 48 include but shall not be limited to automobiles, checkbooks, keys, 49 documentation of health insurance, other identification documentation 50 and other personal effects; 51 (g-5) to prohibit the respondent from transferring, encumbering or 52 otherwise disposing of specified property mutually owned or leased by 53 the parties; 54 § 5. Section 842 of the family court act is amended by adding five new 41 shall not be limited to, loss of earnings or other support, out-of-pock- 42 et losses for injuries sustained, cost of repair or replacement of real 43 or personal property damaged, destroyed or taken, cost of counseling for 44 the petitioner and/or dependent household member, moving or other travel 45 expenses, reasonable attorney's fees, court costs, and compensation for 46 pain and suffering: 47 (g-4) to grant possession of specified personal property which shall 48 include but shall not be limited to automobiles, checkbooks, keys, 49 documentation of health insurance, other identification documentation 50 and other personal effects: 51 (g-5) to prohibit the respondent from transferring, encumbering or 53 the parties; 54 § 5. Section 842 of the family court act is amended by adding five new
42 et losses for injuries sustained, cost of repair or replacement of real 43 or personal property damaged, destroyed or taken, cost of counseling for 44 the petitioner and/or dependent household member, moving or other travel 45 expenses, reasonable attorney's fees, court costs, and compensation for 46 pain and suffering: 47 (g-4) to grant possession of specified personal property which shall 48 include but shall not be limited to automobiles, checkbooks, keys, 49 documentation of health insurance, other identification documentation 50 and other personal effects; 51 (g-5) to prohibit the respondent from transferring, encumbering or 52 otherwise disposing of specified property mutually owned or leased by 53 the parties; 54 § 5. Section 842 of the family court act is amended by adding five new 43 or personal property damaged, destroyed or taken, cost of counseling for 44 the petitioner and/or dependent household member, moving or other travel 45 expenses, reasonable attorney's fees, court costs, and compensation for 46 pain and suffering: 47 (g-4) to grant possession of specified personal property which shall 48 include but shall not be limited to automobiles, checkbooks, keys, 49 documentation of health insurance, other identification documentation 50 and other personal effects: 51 (g-5) to prohibit the respondent from transferring, encumbering or 52 otherwise disposing of specified property mutually owned or leased by 53 the parties; 54 § 5. Section 842 of the family court act is amended by adding five new 44 the petitioner and/or dependent household member, moving or other travel 45 expenses, reasonable attorney's fees, court costs, and compensation for 46 pain and suffering: 47 (g-4) to grant possession of specified personal property which shall 48 include but shall not be limited to automobiles, checkbooks, keys, 49 documentation of health insurance, other identification documentation 50 and other personal effects; 51 (g-5) to prohibit the respondent from transferring, encumbering or 52 otherwise disposing of specified property mutually owned or leased by 53 the parties; 54 § 5. Section 842 of the family court act is amended by adding five new 45 expenses, reasonable attorney's fees, court costs, and compensation for 46 pain and suffering; 47 (g-4) to grant possession of specified personal property which shall 48 include but shall not be limited to automobiles, checkbooks, keys, 49 documentation of health insurance, other identification documentation 50 and other personal effects; 51 (g-5) to prohibit the respondent from transferring, encumbering or 52 otherwise disposing of specified property mutually owned or leased by 53 the parties; 54 § 5. Section 842 of the family court act is amended by adding five new 46 pain and suffering; 47 (g-4) to grant possession of specified personal property which shall 48 include but shall not be limited to automobiles, checkbooks, keys, 49 documentation of health insurance, other identification documentation 50 and other personal effects; 51 (g-5) to prohibit the respondent from transferring, encumbering or 52 otherwise disposing of specified property mutually owned or leased by 53 the parties; 54 § 5. Section 842 of the family court act is amended by adding five new 47 (g-4) to grant possession of specified personal property which shall 48 include but shall not be limited to automobiles, checkbooks, keys, 49 documentation of health insurance, other identification documentation 50 and other personal effects; 51 (g-5) to prohibit the respondent from transferring, encumbering or 52 otherwise disposing of specified property mutually owned or leased by 53 the parties; 54 § 5. Section 842 of the family court act is amended by adding five new 48 include but shall not be limited to automobiles, checkbooks, keys, 49 documentation of health insurance, other identification documentation 50 and other personal effects; 51 (g-5) to prohibit the respondent from transferring, encumbering or 52 otherwise disposing of specified property mutually owned or leased by 53 the parties; 54 § 5. Section 842 of the family court act is amended by adding five new 49 documentation of health insurance, other identification documentation 50 and other personal effects: 51 (g-5) to prohibit the respondent from transferring, encumbering or 52 otherwise disposing of specified property mutually owned or leased by 53 the parties; 54 § 5. Section 842 of the family court act is amended by adding five new 50 and other personal effects; 51 (g-5) to prohibit the respondent from transferring, encumbering or 52 otherwise disposing of specified property mutually owned or leased by 53 the parties; 54 § 5. Section 842 of the family court act is amended by adding five new 51 (g-5) to prohibit the respondent from transferring, encumbering or 52 otherwise disposing of specified property mutually owned or leased by 53 the parties; 54 § 5. Section 842 of the family court act is amended by adding five new 52 otherwise disposing of specified property mutually owned or leased by 53 the parties; 54 § 5. Section 842 of the family court act is amended by adding five new 53 the parties; 54 § 5. Section 842 of the family court act is amended by adding five new 54 § 5. Section 842 of the family court act is amended by adding five new

1 (q-1) to make or to continue to make rent or mortgage payments on a 2 residence occupied by the person who is protected by such order if the 3 respondent is found to have a duty to support the petitioner or other 4 dependent household members provided that this issue has not been 5 resolved or is not being litigated between the parties in another б action; 7 (q-2) to pay the petitioner's rent or fees for housing services at a 8 residence other than the one previously shared by the parties if the 9 respondent is found to have a duty to support the petitioner and the 10 petitioner requires alternative housing due to the incident or incidents 11 forming the basis for the issuance of the order; (g-3) to pay monetary compensation for losses arising from the inci-12 13 dent or incidents forming the basis for the issuance of the order; such order may require the respondent to pay the petitioner directly, to 14 reimburse the crime victims board for any and all compensation paid 15 16 directly to or on behalf of the petitioner, and may require that the 17 respondent reimburse any parties that may have compensated the petitioner, as the court may determine. Compensatory losses shall include, but 18 19 shall not be limited to, loss of earnings or other support, out-of-pock-20 et losses for injuries sustained, cost of repair or replacement of real 21 or personal property damaged, destroyed or taken, cost of counseling for the petitioner and/or dependent household member, moving or other travel 22 expenses, reasonable attorney's fees, court costs, and compensation for 23 24 pain and suffering; 25 (q-4) to grant possession of specified personal property which shall 26 include but shall not be limited to automobiles, checkbooks, keys, 27 documentation of health insurance, other identification documentation and other personal effects; 28 (g-5) to prohibit the respondent from transferring, encumbering or 29 30 otherwise disposing of specified property mutually owned or leased by 31 the parties; 32 § 6. Subdivision 1 of section 1056 of the family court act is amended 33 by adding five new paragraphs (e-1), (e-2), (e-3), (e-4) and (e-5) to 34 read as follows: 35 (e-1) to make or to continue to make rent or mortgage payments on a residence occupied by the person who is protected by such order if the 36 respondent is found to have a duty to support the petitioner or other 37 dependent household members provided that this issue has not been 38 resolved or is not being litigated between the parties in another 39 40 action; 41 (e-2) to pay the petitioner's rent or fees for housing services at a 42 residence other than the one previously shared by the parties if the 43 respondent is found to have a duty to support the petitioner and the 44 petitioner requires alternative housing due to the incident or incidents 45 forming the basis for the issuance of the order; 46 (e-3) to pay monetary compensation for losses arising from the incident or incidents forming the basis for the issuance of the order; such 47 48 order may require the respondent to pay the petitioner directly, to reimburse the crime victims board for any and all compensation paid 49 directly to or on behalf of the petitioner, and may require that the 50 51 respondent reimburse any parties that may have compensated the petition-52 er, as the court may determine. Compensatory losses shall include, but 53 shall not be limited to, loss of earnings or other support, out-of-pock-54 et losses for injuries sustained, cost of repair or replacement of real 55 or personal property damaged, destroyed or taken, cost of counseling for 56 the petitioner and/or dependent household member, moving or other travel

1	expenses, reasonable attorney's fees, court costs, and compensation for
2	pain and suffering;
3	(e-4) to grant possession of specified personal property which shall
4	include but shall not be limited to automobiles, checkbooks, keys,
5	documentation of health insurance, other identification documentation
6	and other personal effects;
7	(e-5) to prohibit the respondent from transferring, encumbering or
8	otherwise disposing of specified property mutually owned or leased by
9	the parties;
10	§ 7. The family court act is amended by adding a new section 842-b to
11	read as follows:
12	§ 842-b. Order on consent. The court may, prior to issuing an order of 13	protection on consent of the parties without a finding of wrongdoing, 14	impose an order on consent of such parties which contains such terms and 15	conditions as are authorized under section eight hundred forty-two of 16	this part.

17 § 8. This act shall take effect on the sixtieth day after it shall 18 have become a law.