21 and the denominator of which is the sum, for such taxable year, of the

23 and guaranteed payments to, all partners in the affected partnership or 24 shareholders of an S corporation for whom or which such net total, as

47 business entity estimates to be the tax imposed by section eight hundred

50 tax.

51 § 861. Imposition and rate of tax. (a) General. A tax is hereby 52 imposed for each taxable year on the pass-through business taxable 53 income of every affected business entity doing business within this 54 state. This tax shall be in addition to any other taxes imposed and 55 shall be at the rate of five percent for each taxable year beginning on 56 or after January first, two thousand twenty-one.

(b) Allocation to New York. In determining the amount of pass-through business taxable income, the pass-through business net income or loss of the affected business entity shall be allocated to this state by multiplying the pass-through business net income or loss of the affected business entity by the average of the following three percentages:

(1) Property percentage. The property percentage is computed by dividing (A) the average of the values, at the beginning and end of the taxable year, of real and tangible personal property owned and rented by the affected business entity and located within the state, by (B) the average of the values, at the beginning and end of the taxable year, of all real and tangible personal property owned or rented by the affected business entity and located both within and without New York state.

(2) Payroll percentage. The payroll percentage is computed by dividing (A) the total wages, salaries and other personal service compensation paid or incurred during the taxable year to employees of the affected business entity, in connection with the business carried on within this state, by (B) the total of all wages, salaries and other personal service compensation paid or incurred during the taxable year to employees of the affected business entity in connection with the business carried on both within and without New York state.

(3) Gross income percentage. The gross income percentage is computed by dividing (A) the gross sales or charges for services performed by or through an office, branch or agency of the affected business entity located within New York state, by (B) the total of all gross sales or charges for services performed within and without New York state. The sales or charges to be allocated to New York state include all sales negotiated or consummated, and charges for services performed, by an employee, agent, agency, or independent contractor chiefly situated at, connected by contract or otherwise with, or sent out from offices, branches of the affected business entity, or other agencies, situated within New York state.

§ 862. Tax credits. (a) Pass-through business credit. An affected business entity that is a partner or shareholder in a lower-tier business entity shall be allowed a credit against the tax imposed under this article as computed under paragraphs one through three of this subdivision.

(1) Calculation of credit. The pass-through business credit shall be calculated by multiplying the affected business entity's ownership percentage of a lower-tier business entity by the larger of:

(A) the pass-through business tax of the lower-tier business entity; or

(B) the pass-through business credit calculated by the lower-tier business entity.

(2) Credit from multiple lower-tier entities. If an affected business entity has a direct ownership interest in more than one lower-tier business entity, the pass-through business credit shall be the sum of the credits calculated under paragraph one of this subdivision with regard to each lower-tier business entity in which the affected business entity has a direct ownership interest.

(3) Limitation on credit. If the pass-through business credit calculated under this subdivision for any taxable year exceeds the amount of tax due under this article for such year, such credit shall be used to reduce the tax due to zero and any excess shall not be carried over to any succeeding taxable year.

(b) Personal income tax credit. A taxpayer subject to tax under article twenty-two of this chapter that is a partner or shareholder in an

1 affected entity subject to tax under this article shall be allowed a
2 credit against the tax imposed under article twenty-two of this chapter, 3 computed pursuant to the provisions of subsection (kkk) of section six 4 hundred six of this chapter.

5 (c) Corporation franchise tax credit. A taxpayer subject to tax under 6 article nine-A of this chapter that is a corporate partner in an 7 affected business entity subject to tax under this article shall be

10 of section two hundred ten-B of this chapter.

11 § 863. Payment of estimated tax. (a) General. The estimated tax shall 12 be paid as follows for an affected business entity that reports on a 13 calendar year basis:

14 (1) If such estimated tax can reasonably be expected to exceed one
15 thousand dollars on or before March fifteenth of the taxable year, the 16 estimated tax shall be paid in four equal installments on March
17 fifteenth, June fifteenth, September fifteenth, and December fifteenth.

18 (2) If such estimated tax can reasonably be expected to exceed one 19 thousand dollars after March fifteenth and not after June fifteenth of 20 the taxable year, the estimated tax shall be paid in three equal
21 installments on June fifteenth, September fifteenth, and December 22 fifteenth.

23 (3) If such estimated tax can reasonably be expected to exceed one

30 (b) Application to short taxable year. This section shall apply to a 31 taxable year of less than twelve months in accordance with procedures 32 established by the commissioner.

33 (c) Fiscal year. This section shall apply to a taxable year other than 34 a calendar year by the substitution of the months of such fiscal year 35 for the corresponding months specified in this section.

36 (d) Installments paid in advance. An affected partnership may elect to 37 pay any installment of its estimated tax prior to the date prescribed 38 for the payment thereof.

39 § 864. Filing of return and payment of tax. (a) General. On or before 40 the fifteenth day of the third month following the close of the taxable 41 year, each affected business entity required to file a return under 42 paragraph one of subsection (c) of section six hundred fifty-eight of 43 this chapter, shall also be required to report the information required 44 under this article on such return.

45 (b) Information on return. Each affected business entity shall report 46 any tax due under this article on the face of such return and such other 47 pertinent information as prescribed by the commissioner. The balance of 48 any tax shown on the face of such return, not previously paid as 49 installments of estimated tax, shall be paid with such return.

50 (c) Information provided to partners or shareholders. Each affected

55 (2) the pass-through business taxable income of the affected business 56 entity;

6 under paragraph three of such subdivision.

7 § 865. Accounting periods and methods. (a) Accounting periods. An

12 accounting under this article shall be the same as the affected business 13 entity's method of accounting for federal income tax purposes.

14 (c) Change of accounting period or method. (1) If an affected business 15 entity's taxable year or method of accounting is changed for federal 16 income tax purposes, the taxable year or method of accounting for 17 purposes of this article shall be similarly changed.

18 (2) If an affected business entity's method of accounting is changed, 19 any additional tax that results from the adjustments determined to be 20 necessary solely by reason of such change shall not be greater than if 21 such adjustments were ratably allocated and included for the taxable 22 year of the change and the preceding taxable years, not in excess of 23 two, during which the affected business entity used the method of 24 accounting from which the change is made.

25 § 866. Procedural provisions. (a) General. All provisions of article 26 twenty-two of this chapter shall apply to the provisions of this article 27 in the same manner and with the same force and effect as if the language 28 of article twenty-two of this chapter had been incorporated in full into 29 this article and had been specifically adjusted for and expressly 30 referred to the tax imposed by this article, except to the extent that 31 any provision is either inconsistent with a provision of this article or 32 is not relevant to this article.

33 (b) Liability for tax. Only the affected business entity shall be 34 liable for the tax under this article, and no partner or shareholder

44 chapter to the contrary, the commissioner may disclose information and 45 returns regarding the calculation and payment of the tax imposed by this 46 article and any credit calculated on taxes paid directly or indirectly
47 under this article to an affected business entity, its lower-tiered 48 entity or entities and to any taxpayer under article nine-A or twenty-49 two of this chapter that owns, in whole or in part, directly or indi-

(4) If the amount of the credit allowable under this subsection for any taxable year shall exceed the taxpayer's tax for such year, the excess allowed for the taxable year may be carried over to the following year or years and may be deducted from the taxpayer's tax for such year or years.

§ 3. Subparagraph (B) of paragraph 1 of subsection (i) of section 606 of the tax law is amended by adding a new clause (xlvi) to read as follows:
