shall be signed by, or at the direction of, the appointing parent in the presence of at least two credible witnesses, at least eighteen years of age, neither of whom is related to the parent nor the person appointed as the short-term military service quardian. The person appointed as the short-term military service quardian shall also sign the written instrument, but need not sign at the same time as the appointing parent. 2. A parent shall not appoint a short-term military service quardian of a minor child if the child has another living parent, adoptive parent or adjudicated parent: (a) who has joint custody of the child, (b) whose parental rights have not been terminated, (c) whose whereabouts are known, and (d) who is willing and able to make and carry out day-to-day child care decisions concerning the minor, unless the non-appointing parent consents to the appointment by signing the written instrument of appointment. 3. The appointing parent shall attach to the written instrument his or her sworn statement of mailing that states he or she sent, no later than two days after the written instrument was completed, copies of his or her sworn statement of mailing and the written instrument containing all required signatures and dates by certified or registered mail, return receipt requested to: (a) the last known address of the other living parent, (b) the court which issued the order that awarded physical custody of the child to the appointing parent, (c) the court (if different from the court that awarded physical custody of the child to the appointing parent) which issued the last order that concerns the child, the child's support, or custody of or visitation with the child, and (d) if there is no court order, then to the court clerk in the county in which the child resides. 4. The appointment of the short-term military service quardian is effective immediately upon the date the written instrument is executed, unless the written instrument provides for the appointment to become effective upon a later specified date or event. The appointment is effective without court approval. The short-term military service guardian shall have authority to act as quardian of the minor as provided in article six of this chapter for a period of one hundred eighty days from the date the appointment is effective unless the written instrument provides for the appointment to terminate upon an earlier specified date or event. Only one written instrument appointing a short-term military service quardian may be in force at any given time, but a written instrument prepared in accordance with the same requirements of this section may reappoint the short-term military service guardian or name a different successor short-term military service guardian for an additional period of one hundred eighty days. A reappointment or the

47 appointment of a successor short-term military service guardian may be 48 accomplished by a written instrument completed before the expiration of 49 the first written instrument.

5. Every appointment of a short-term military service guardian may be amended or revoked by the appointing parent of the minor at any time and in any manner communicated to the short-term military service guardian or to any other person. Any person other than the short-term military service guardian to whom a revocation or amendment is communicated or delivered shall make all reasonable efforts to inform the short-term military service guardian of that fact as promptly as possible.
