Introduced by M. of A. PAULIN -- read once and referred to the Committee on Governmental Operations

AN ACT to amend the public officers law, in relation to publishing records of public interest by agencies and the state legislature

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

1 Section 1. Section 84 of the public officers law, as added by chapter 2 933 of the laws of 1977, is amended to read as follows:

3 § 84. Legislative declaration. The legislature hereby finds that a 4 free society is maintained when government is responsive and responsible 5 to the public, and when the public is aware of governmental actions. The 6 more open a government is with its citizenry, the greater the under-7 standing and participation of the public in government.

8 As state and local government services increase and public problems 9 become more sophisticated and complex and therefore harder to solve, and 10 with the resultant increase in revenues and expenditures, it is incum-
11 bent upon the state and its localities to extend public accountability 12 wherever and whenever feasible.

13 The people's right to know the process of governmental decision-making 14 and to review the documents and statistics leading to determinations is 15 basic to our society. Access to such information should not be thwarted 16 by shrouding it with the cloak of secrecy or confidentiality.

17 Since the freedom of information law was first adopted, advances in 18 technology have enhanced the ability to gain access to and widely 19 disseminate public information. Accordingly, the legislature finds that 20 government agencies, when agencies have the ability to do so, should 21 publish records proactively on the internet that are of public interest 22 and available under this article.

23 The legislature therefore declares that government is the public's 24 business and that the public, individually and collectively and repres-

2    in accordance with the provisions of this article.

3    § 2. Section 90 of the public officers law is renumbered section 90-a 4    and a new section 90 is added to read as follows:

5    § 90. Records of public interest. 1. Each agency and house of the 6    state legislature shall publish, on its internet website, when the agen-
7    cy or house of the state legislature has the ability to do so, records 8    or portions of records that are available to the public pursuant to the 9    provisions of this article, and which, in consideration of their nature, 10   content or subject matter, are determined by the agency to be of 11   substantial interest to the public. Any such records may be removed from 12   the internet website when the agency or house of the state legislature 13   determines that they are no longer of substantial interest to the 14   public. Any such records may be removed from the internet website when 15   they have reached the end of their legal retention period. Guidance on 16   creating records in accessible formats and ensuring their continuing 17   accessibility shall be available from the office for technology and the 18   state archives.

19    2. The provisions of subdivision one of this section shall not apply 20    to records or portions of records the disclosure of which would consti-21    tute an unwarranted invasion of personal privacy in accordance with 22    subdivision two of section eighty-nine of this article.

23    3. The committee on open government shall promulgate regulations to 24    effectuate this section.

25    4. Nothing in this section shall be construed as to limit or abridge 26    the power of an agency or house of the state legislature to publish 27    records on its internet website that are subject to the provisions of 28    this article prior to a written request or prior to a frequent request.

29    § 3. This act shall take effect on the ninetieth day after it shall 30    have become a law.
