AN ACT to amend the election law, in relation to enacting the "democracy preservation act"; and in relation to prohibiting contributions by foreign-influenced business entities and requiring certification

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

1 Section 1. This act shall be known and may be cited as the "democracy 2 preservation act".

3 § 2. Legislative Findings. The legislature hereby finds and declares 4 that New York state welcomes immigrants, visitors, and investors from 5 around the world. However, its elections should be decided by the people б of New York and not by foreign investors or the business entities over 7 which they exert influence. Corporations with partial foreign ownership 8 have been spending money to influence state and local elections in New York and around the country. The public has a compelling interest in 9 limiting the participation of foreign entities in activities of American 10 democratic self-government, which include spending money to influence 11 voters and finance campaigns, in the interest of preventing foreign 12 influence over the United States political process. 13

14 Investors are the ultimate beneficiaries of corporate interests. Where 15 part of the shareholders' equity is attributable to foreign investors, 16 spending corporate treasury funds on New York elections means spending 17 the equity of foreign entities on New York elections.

EXPLANATION--Matter in italics (underscored) is new; matter in brackets [-] is old law to be omitted.

LBD03229-05-1

Business corporations and similar entities have a fiduciary duty to 1 2 their shareholders, including investors around the world, and generally prioritize the interests of such shareholders, which may diverge 3 4 substantially from the interests of the people of New York and of citi-5 zens of the United States. In addition, both formal procedures of corpo-6 rate democracy and informal mechanisms of influence can provide foreign 7 investors with substantial influence even with only a minority of 8 shares. The United States Securities and Exchange Commission, major 9 capital investors, corporate managers, and corporate governance experts 10 broadly agree that ownership or control of one percent or more of shares 11 can confer substantial influence on corporate decision-making.

Political spending by foreign-influenced business entities can weaken, interfere with, or disrupt New York's democratic self-government and the faith that the electorate has in its elected officials. To protect the integrity of New York's democratic self-government, it is necessary to prevent foreign-influenced business entities from influencing New York elections through political spending.

18 § 3. The election law is amended by adding a new section 14-116-a to 19 read as follows:

S 14-116-a. Prohibited contributions by foreign-influenced business entities. 1. Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, it shall be unlawful for a foreign-influenced business entity, directly or indirectly, to make a contribution or donation of money or other thing of value, or to make an express or implied promise to make a contribution or donation, in connection with a state or local election.

26 2. It shall be unlawful for a business entity prohibited under subdi 27 vision one of this section, directly or indirectly, to make a contrib 28 ution or donation to a constituted committee, independent expenditure
29 committee, political committee, or party committee.

30 3. It shall be unlawful for a business entity prohibited under subdi-31 vision one of this section, directly or indirectly, to make an expendi-32 ture, independent expenditure, or disbursement for a political communi-33 cation.

4. It shall be unlawful for a person to knowingly solicit, accept, or receive a contribution or donation described in subdivision one, two or three of this section from a foreign-influenced business entity.

37 5. Except as provided in subdivision six of this section, it shall be unlawful for a person who receives a contribution or donation from a 38 39 business entity to use that contribution or donation, directly or indirectly, for any of the purposes described in subdivision one, two, or 40 three of this section, or to contribute, donate, transfer, or convey 41 42 funds from such a contribution or donation to another person for use for 43 any of the purposes described in subdivision one, two, or three of this 44 section. However, a person may use funds that do not comply with the 45 requirements of this section for other lawful purposes.

46 6. A person who receives a contribution or donation from a business 47 entity, and also receives from the business entity a copy of the state-48 ment of certification described in subdivision four of section 14-116 of 49 this title, may use such funds for the purposes described in subdivision one, two, or three of this section only if the person separately desig-50 51 nates, records, and accounts for such funds, and ensures that disburse-52 ments for the purposes described in subdivision one, two, or three of 53 this section are only made from funds that comply with the requirements 54 of this section. A person may rely in good faith on a statement of certification that meets the requirements of subdivision four of section 55 56 14-116 of this title.
