AN ACT to amend the criminal procedure law and the mental hygiene law, in relation to determining the capacity of a defendant to stand trial

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

1 Section 1. Subdivision 1 of section 730.10 of the criminal procedure 2 law is amended to read as follows:

3 1. "Incapacitated person" means a defendant who as a result of mental 4 disease or defect lacks capacity to understand the proceedings against 5 ~~him~~ such defendant or to assist in his or her own defense.

6 § 2. Subdivision 8 of section 730.10 of the criminal procedure law, as 7 separately amended by chapters 615 and 629 of the laws of 1974, is 8 amended to read as follows:

9 8. "Examination report" means a report made by a psychiatric examiner 10 wherein he or she sets forth his or her opinion as to whether the 11 defendant is or is not an incapacitated person, the nature and extent of 12 his or her examination and, if he or she finds that the defendant is an 13 incapacitated person, his or her diagnosis and prognosis and a detailed 14 statement of the reasons for his or her opinion by making particular 15 reference to those aspects of the proceedings wherein the defendant 16 lacks capacity to understand or to assist in his or her own defense.

17 The report must also state the examiner's professional opinion as to 18 whether or not there is at least a reasonable expectation that restora-19 tion services could have a substantial probability of restoring the 20 defendant to competence within a reasonable period of time. The state 21 administrator and the commissioner must jointly adopt the form of the 22 examination report; and the state administrator shall prescribe the 1 number of copies thereof that must be submitted to the court by the 2 director.

3 § 3. Section 730.10 of the criminal procedure law is amended by adding 4 a new subdivision 10 to read as follows:

5 10. "Restoration services" means those services including but not 6 limited to medication support, classroom-based competency instruction, 7 mock trials, symptom management, and rehabilitative services provided to 8 an incapacitated person which are designed to improve his or her mental 9 state or developmental status to the extent that they can understand the 10 charges against them and participate in their own defense. Restoration 11 services are not intended to be mental health treatment aimed at recov-12 ery from mental illness or services aimed at improving a developmentally 13 disabled person's ability to function on a day-to-day basis.

14 § 4. Section 730.20 of the criminal procedure law, subdivisions 1 and 15 5 as amended by chapter 693 of the laws of 1989, subdivision 7 as 16 amended by chapter 692 of the laws of 1972, is amended to read as 17 follows:

18 § 730.20 Fitness to proceed; generally.

19 1. [~~The appropriate director to whom a criminal court issues an order~~ 20 ~~of examination must be determined in accordance with rules jointly~~ 21 ~~adopted by the judicial conference and the commissioner.~~] Upon receipt 22 of an examination order, the director to whom the court has issued an 23 order must designate two qualified psychiatric examiners, of whom he or 24 she may be one, to examine the defendant to determine if [~~he~~] the 25 defendant is an incapacitated person. In conducting their examination, 26 the psychiatric examiners [~~may~~] shall employ [~~any~~] a method [~~which is~~ 27 ~~accepted by the medical profession for the examination of persons~~ 28 ~~alleged to be mentally ill or mentally defective~~] as set forth in stand-29 ards set by the commissioner to determine if the defendant is an inca-30 pacitated person. The court may authorize a psychiatrist or psychol-31 ogist retained by the defendant to be present at such examination.

32 2. When the defendant is not in custody at the time a court issues an 33 order of examination, because [~~he~~] the defendant was theretofore 34 released on bail or on [~~his~~] the defendant's own recognizance, the court 35 [~~may~~] shall direct that the examination be conducted on an out-patient 36 basis, and at such time and place as the director shall designate and 37 the court shall order the defendant to appear for such examination. If, 38 however, the director informs the court that hospital confinement of the 39 defendant is necessary for an effective examination, or if the defendant 40 refuses to appear as ordered for the examination, the court may direct 41 that the defendant be confined in a hospital [~~designated by the direc-~~ 42 ~~tor~~] operated or approved by the commissioner only until the examination 43 is completed. In no event shall the need for such examination be a basis 44 for incarcerating a defendant who has been released on bail or his or 45 her own recognizance.

46 3. When the defendant is in custody at the time a court issues an 47 order of examination, the examination must be conducted at the place 48 where the defendant is being held in custody. If, however, the director 49 determines that hospital confinement of the defendant is necessary for 50 an effective examination, the sheriff must deliver the defendant to a 51 hospital designated by the [~~director~~] commissioner and hold [~~him~~] the 52 defendant in custody therein, under sufficient guard, until the examina-53 tion is completed.

54 4. Hospital confinement under subdivisions two and three shall be for 55 a period not exceeding [~~thirty~~] ten days, except that, upon application 56 of the director, the court may authorize confinement for an additional

1 period not exceeding [~~thirty~~] ten days if it is satisfied that a longer 2 period is necessary to complete the examination. [~~During the period of~~ 3 ~~hospital confinement, the physician in charge of the hospital may admin-~~ 4 ~~ister or cause to be administered to the defendant such emergency~~ 5 ~~psychiatric, medical or other therapeutic treatment as in his judgment~~ 6 ~~should be administered.~~]

7 5. Each psychiatric examiner, after [~~he has completed his~~] completing 8 the examination of the defendant, must promptly prepare and submit to 9 the director an examination report [~~and submit it to the director~~] 10 setting forth the examiner's opinion as to whether or not there is at 11 least a reasonable expectation that restoration services could have a 12 substantial probability of restoring the defendant to competence within 13 a reasonable period of time. If the psychiatric examiners are not unani-14 mous in their opinion as to whether the defendant is or is not an inca-15 pacitated person, the director must designate another qualified psychi-16 atric examiner to examine the defendant to determine if [~~he~~] the 17 defendant is an incapacitated person and, if so, whether or not there is 18 at least a reasonable expectation that restoration services could have a 19 substantial probability of restoring the defendant to competence within 20 a reasonable period of time. Upon receipt of the examination reports, 21 the director must submit them to the court that issued the order of 22 examination. The court must furnish a copy of the reports to counsel 23 for the defendant and to the district attorney.

24 6. When a defendant is subjected to examination pursuant to an order 25 issued by a criminal court in accordance with this article, any state-26 ment made by [~~him~~] such defendant for the purpose of the examination or 27 treatment shall be inadmissible in evidence against [~~him~~] such defendant 28 in any criminal action on any issue other than that of [~~his~~] such 29 defendant's mental condition[, ~~but such statement is admissible upon~~ 30 ~~that issue whether or not it would otherwise be deemed a privileged~~ 31 ~~communication~~].

32 7. A psychiatric examiner, who is not regularly employed by the county 33 or the state of New York, is entitled to his or her reasonable traveling 34 expenses[, ~~a~~] and to a reasonable fee [~~of fifty dollars~~] to be negoti-35 ated with the examiner by the director or the county or, if no such fee 36 is agreed upon, to be set by the court for each examination of a defend-37 ant and [~~a fee of fifty dollars~~] for each appearance at a court hearing 38 or trial [~~but not exceeding two hundred dollars in fees for examination~~ 39 ~~and testimony in any one case~~]; except that if such psychiatric examiner 40 be an employee of the county or of the state of New York he or she shall 41 be entitled only to reasonable traveling expenses, unless such psychiat-42 ric examiner makes the examination or appears at a court hearing or 43 trial outside his or her hours of state or county employment in a county 44 in which the director of community [~~mental health~~] services certifies to 45 the fiscal officer thereof that there is a shortage of qualified 46 [~~psychiatrists~~] examiners available to conduct examinations under [~~the~~ 47 ~~criminal procedure law~~] this chapter in such county, in which event [~~he~~] 48 such examiner shall be entitled to [~~the foregoing~~] such fees and reason-49 able traveling expenses as approved by the court. Such fees and travel-50 ing expenses and the costs of sending a defendant to another place of 51 detention or to a hospital for examination[, ~~of his maintenance therein~~] 52 and the cost of returning [~~him~~] the defendant shall, when approved and 53 so ordered by the court, be a charge of the county in which the defend-54 ant is being tried, and the cost of the maintenance of such defendant 55 therein shall be a cost to the state.

§ 5. Section 730.30 of the criminal procedure law, subdivision 3 as amended by chapter 629 of the laws of 1974, is amended to read as follows:

§ 730.30 Fitness to proceed; order of examination.

1. At any time after a defendant is arraigned upon an accusatory instrument other than a felony complaint and before the imposition of sentence, or at any time after a defendant is arraigned upon a felony complaint and before he or she is held for the action of the grand jury, or upon arraignment on an indictment by a grand jury, the court wherein the criminal action is pending ~~[must]~~ may issue an order of examination when it ~~[is of the opinion]~~ has a reasonable basis to believe that the defendant may be an incapacitated person.

2. When the examination reports submitted to the court show that each psychiatric examiner is of the opinion that the defendant is not an incapacitated person, the court may, on its own motion, conduct a hearing to determine the issue of capacity, and it must conduct a hearing upon motion therefor by the defendant or by the district attorney. If the court does not decide to hold a hearing on its own motion and no motion for a hearing is made, or if, following a hearing the court is satisfied that the defendant is not an incapacitated person, the criminal action against the defendant must proceed. ~~[If, following a hearing, the court is satisfied that the defendant is not an incapacitated person, the criminal action against him must proceed; if the court is not so satisfied, it must issue a further order of examination directing that the defendant be examined by different psychiatric examiners designated by the director.]~~

3. When the examination reports submitted to the court show that each psychiatric examiner is of the opinion that the defendant is an incapacitated person and that there is at least a reasonable expectation that restoration services could have a substantial probability of restoring the defendant to competence within a reasonable period of time, the court ~~[may, on its own motion,]~~ shall conduct a hearing to determine the issue of capacity ~~[and it must conduct such hearing upon motion therefor by the defendant or by the district attorney]~~.

4. When the examination reports submitted to the court show that the psychiatric examiners are not unanimous in their opinion as to whether the defendant is or is not an incapacitated person ~~[, or when the examination reports submitted to the superior court show that the psychiatric examiners are not unanimous in their opinion as to whether the defendant is or is not a dangerous incapacitated person]~~ and that there is at least a reasonable expectation that restoration services could have a substantial probability of restoring the defendant to competence within a reasonable period of time, the court must conduct a hearing to determine the issue of capacity ~~[or dangerousness]~~ and expectation of restoration within a reasonable time.

§ 6. Subdivision 1 of section 730.40 of the criminal procedure law, as amended by chapter 7 of the laws of 2013, is amended to read as follows:

1. When a local criminal court, following a hearing conducted pursuant to subdivision two, three or four of section 730.30 of this article, is satisfied that the defendant is not an incapacitated person, the criminal action against him or her must proceed. If ~~[it]~~ a local criminal court accusatory instrument other than a felony complaint has been filed against the defendant and the court is satisfied that the defendant is an incapacitated person, ~~[or if no motion for such a hearing is made, such court must issue a final or temporary order of observation committing him or her to the custody of the commissioner for care and treat-~~

~~ment in an appropriate institution for a period not to exceed ninety days from the date of the order, provided, however, that the commissioner may designate an appropriate hospital for placement of a defendant for whom a final order of observation has been issued, where such hospital is licensed by the office of mental health and has agreed to accept, upon referral by the commissioner, defendants subject to final orders of observation issued under this subdivision. When a local criminal court accusatory instrument other than a felony complaint has been filed against the defendant,~~ such court must issue a final order of observation. When a felony complaint has been filed against the defendant, such court must issue a temporary order of observation committing him or her to the custody of the commissioner for ~~[care and treatment]~~ restoration services in an appropriate institution or, ~~[upon the consent of the district attorney]~~ in the discretion of the court, committing him or her to the custody of the commissioner for care and treatment on an out-patient basis, for a period not to exceed ninety days from the date of such order~~[, except that, with the consent of the district attorney,]~~ or it may issue a final order of observation. Upon the issuance of a final order of observation, the district attorney shall immediately transmit to the commissioner, in a manner intended to protect the confidentiality of the information, a list of names and contact information of persons who may reasonably be expected to be the victim of any assault or any violent felony offense, as defined in the penal law, or any offense listed in section 530.11 of this chapter which would be carried out by the committed person; provided that the person who reasonably may be expected to be a victim does not need to be a member of the same family or household as the committed person.

§ 7. Section 730.50 of the criminal procedure law, subdivision 1 as amended by chapter 7 of the laws of 2013, subdivision 2 as amended by chapter 789 of the laws of 1985, subdivision 5 as amended by chapter 629 of the laws of 1974, is amended to read as follows:

§ 730.50 Fitness to proceed; indictment.

1. When a superior court, following a hearing conducted pursuant to subdivision two, three or four of section 730.30 of this article, is satisfied that the defendant is not an incapacitated person, the criminal action against him or her must proceed. If ~~[it is satisfied]~~ after a hearing, the court makes a finding that the defendant is an incapacitated person, ~~[or if no motion for such a hearing is made]~~ and that there is at least a reasonable expectation that restoration services could have a substantial probability of restoring the defendant to competence within a reasonable period of time, it must adjudicate him or her an incapacitated person~~[, and must issue a final order of observation or an order of commitment]~~. When the indictment does not charge a felony or when the defendant has been convicted of an offense other than a felony, such court (a) must issue a final order of observation ~~[committing the defendant to the custody of the commissioner for care and treatment in an appropriate institution for a period not to exceed ninety days from the date of such order, provided, however, that the commissioner may designate an appropriate hospital for placement of a defendant for whom a final order of observation has been issued, where such hospital is licensed by the office of mental health and has agreed to accept, upon referral by the commissioner, defendants subject to final orders of observation issued under this subdivision]~~, and (b) must dismiss the indictment filed in such court against the defendant, and such dismissal constitutes a bar to any further prosecution of the charge or charges contained in such indictment. Upon the issuance of a

1 final order of observation, the district attorney shall immediately
2 transmit to the commissioner, in a manner intended to protect the confi-3 dentiality of the information, a list of names and contact information 4 of persons who may reasonably be expected to be the victim of any 5 assault or any violent felony offense, as defined in the penal law, or 6 any offense listed in section 530.11 of this chapter which would be 7 carried out by the committed person; provided that the person who 8 reasonably may be expected to be a victim does not need to be a member 9 of the same family or household as the committed person. When the 10 indictment charges a felony [~~or when the defendant has been convicted of~~ 11 ~~a felony~~] and the court has determined that there is at least a reason-12 able expectation that restoration services could have a substantial 13 probability of restoring the defendant to competence within a reasonable 14 period of time, it must issue an order of commitment committing the 15 defendant to the custody of the commissioner [~~for care and treatment~~] to 16 receive restoration services in an appropriate institution or[~~, upon the~~ 17 ~~consent of the district attorney,~~] committing him or her to the custody 18 of the commissioner for care and treatment on an out-patient basis, for 19 a period not to exceed [~~one year~~] ninety days from the date of such 20 order. Upon the issuance of an order of commitment, the court must exon-21 erate the defendant's bail if he or she was previously at liberty on 22 bail; provided, however, that exoneration of bail is not required when a 23 defendant is committed to the custody of the commissioner for care and 24 treatment on an out-patient basis. [~~When the defendant is in the custody~~ 25 ~~of the commissioner pursuant to a final order of observation, the~~ 26 ~~commissioner or his or her designee, which may include the director of~~ 27 ~~an appropriate institution, immediately upon the discharge of the~~ 28 ~~defendant, must certify to such court that he or she has complied with~~ 29 ~~the notice provisions set forth in paragraph (a) of subdivision six of~~ 30 ~~section 730.60 of this article~~] In the event that the court determines 31 there is not a reasonable expectation that restoration services could 32 have a substantial probability of restoring the defendant to competence 33 within a reasonable period of time the matter shall be referred to 34 supreme court for a hearing conducted in accordance with section 9.33 35 or 15.31 of the mental hygiene law.

36 2. When a defendant is in the custody of the commissioner immediately 37 prior to the expiration of the period prescribed in a temporary order of 38 commitment and the superintendent of the institution wherein the defend-39 ant is confined is of the opinion that the defendant continues to be an 40 incapacitated person, such superintendent must apply to the court that 41 issued such order for an order of retention for an additional period of 42 ninety days. The court must hold a hearing on this application to 43 determine if there is a substantial probability of recovery in the fore-44 seeable future. If the court determines that there is such reasonable 45 expectation of restoration, it shall issue an order of retention for an 46 additional ninety days. If the court finds that the defendant is still 47 incapacitated and there is not a substantial probability of restoration 48 in the foreseeable future, it shall refer the matter to the civil 49 section of the supreme court in the county where the defendant's case is 50 pending, for a hearing pursuant to article nine or fifteen of the mental 51 hygiene law to determine if the defendant shall be hospitalized or 52 otherwise retained on an involuntary basis. [~~Such application must be~~ 53 ~~made within sixty days prior to the expiration of such period on forms~~ 54 ~~that have been jointly adopted by the judicial conference and the~~ 55 ~~commissioner.~~] The superintendent must give written notice of the appli-56 cation for such order to the defendant and to the mental hygiene legal

1 service. Upon receipt of such application, the court [~~may, on its own~~ 2 ~~motion,~~] shall conduct a hearing [~~to determine the issue of capacity,~~ 3 ~~and it must conduct such hearing if a demand therefor is made by the~~ 4 ~~defendant or the mental hygiene legal service within ten days from the~~ 5 ~~date that notice of the application was given them. If, at the conclu-~~ 6 ~~sion of a hearing conducted pursuant to this subdivision, the court is~~ 7 ~~satisfied that the defendant is no longer an incapacitated person, the~~ 8 ~~criminal action against him must proceed. If it is satisfied that the~~ 9 ~~defendant continues to be an incapacitated person, or if no demand for a~~ 10 ~~hearing is made, the court must adjudicate him an incapacitated person~~ 11 ~~and must issue an order of retention which shall authorize continued~~ 12 ~~custody of the defendant by the commissioner for a period not to exceed~~ 13 ~~one year] pursuant to the provisions of article nine or fifteen of the 14 mental hygiene law and the court shall order that the defendant shall be 15 maintained in the custody of the commissioner but transferred to a 16 hospital or other appropriate institution to be involuntarily admitted 17 pursuant to article nine or fifteen of the mental hygiene law subject 18 to the retention provisions of section 9.33 or 15.31 of the mental 19 hygiene law except as specifically provided herein. Such order shall 20 not be deemed in any way to be the order of a criminal court.~~

21 3. [~~When~~] Before a defendant is [~~in~~] released from the custody of the 22 commissioner [~~immediately prior to the expiration of the period~~ 23 ~~prescribed in the first order of retention, the procedure set forth in~~ 24 ~~subdivision two shall govern the application for and the issuance of any~~ 25 ~~subsequent order of retention, except that any subsequent orders of~~ 26 ~~retention must be for periods not to exceed two years each; provided,~~ 27 ~~however,~~] either pursuant to this section or pursuant to article nine or 28 fifteen of the mental hygiene law, the court shall hold a hearing to 29 determine whether or not the defendant continues to be an incapacitated 30 person. If, at the conclusion of a hearing conducted pursuant to this 31 subdivision, the court is satisfied that the defendant is no longer an 32 incapacitated person, the criminal action against him or her must 33 proceed except that the court shall have the discretion to dismiss the 34 case in the interests of justice. If, at the conclusion of a hearing 35 conducted pursuant to this subdivision, the court finds that the defend-36 ant continues to be an incapacitated person then the court shall make an 37 order in accordance with section 9.33 or 15.31 of the mental hygiene 38 law. In any case that the aggregate of periods prescribed in the tempo-39 rary order of commitment[~~, the first order of retention and all subse-~~ 40 ~~quent orders of retention] and any order of retention pursuant to this 41 article or article nine or fifteen of the mental hygiene law must not 42 exceed two-thirds of the authorized maximum term of imprisonment for the 43 highest class felony charged in the indictment [~~or for the highest class~~ 44 ~~felony of which he was convicted)].~~~~

45 4. When a defendant is in the custody of the commissioner either at 46 the expiration of the authorized period prescribed in the last order of 47 retention or any order of retention issued pursuant to article nine or 48 fifteen of the mental hygiene law, the criminal action pending against 49 him or her in the superior court that issued such order shall terminate 50 for all purposes, and the commissioner must promptly certify to such 51 court and to the appropriate district attorney that the defendant was in 52 his or her custody on such expiration date. Upon receipt of such certif-53 ication, the court must dismiss the indictment, and such dismissal 54 constitutes a bar to any further prosecution of the charge or charges 55 contained in such indictment.

~~[5. When, on the effective date of this subdivision, any defendant remains in the custody of the commissioner pursuant to an order issued under former code of criminal procedure section six hundred sixty-two b, the superintendent or director of the institution where such defendant is confined shall, if he believes that the defendant continues to be an incapacitated person, apply forthwith to a court of record in the county where the institution is located for an order of retention. The procedures for obtaining any order pursuant to this subdivision shall be in accordance with the provisions of subdivisions two, three and four of this section, except that the period of retention pursuant to the first order obtained under this subdivision shall be for not more than one year and any subsequent orders of retention must be for periods not to exceed two years each; provided, however, that the aggregate of the time spent in the custody of the commissioner pursuant to any order issued in accordance with the provisions of former code of criminal procedure section six hundred sixty-two b and the periods prescribed by the first order obtained under this subdivision and all subsequent orders of retention must not exceed two thirds of the authorized maximum term of imprisonment for the highest class felony charged in the indictment or the highest class felony of which he was convicted.]~~

§ 8. Section 730.60 of the criminal procedure law, subdivisions 1 and 3 as amended by chapter 231 of the laws of 2008, subdivision 2 as amended by chapter 57 of the laws of 1984, subdivisions 4 and 5 as renumbered by chapter 629 of the laws of 1974, subdivision 6 as added by chapter 549 of the laws of 1980, paragraphs (a) and (b) of subdivision 6 as amended by chapter 7 of the laws of 2013, is amended to read as follows:

1. When a local criminal court issues a [~~final or~~] temporary order of observation or an order of commitment, it must forward such order and a copy of the examination reports and the accusatory instrument to the commissioner~~[, and, if available, a copy of the pre-sentence report]~~. Upon receipt thereof, the commissioner must designate an appropriate institution operated by the department of mental hygiene in which the defendant is to be placed~~[, provided, however, that the commissioner may designate an appropriate hospital for placement of a defendant for whom a final order of observation has been issued, where such hospital is licensed by the office of mental health and has agreed to accept, upon referral by the commissioner, defendants subject to final orders of observation issued under this subdivision]~~. The sheriff ~~[must hold the defendant in custody pending such designation by the commissioner, and]~~ when notified of the designation, ~~[the sheriff]~~ must deliver the defendant to the superintendent of such institution. The superintendent must promptly inform the appropriate director of the mental hygiene legal service of the defendant's admission to such institution. If a defendant escapes from the custody of the commissioner, the escape shall interrupt the period prescribed in any order of observation, commitment or retention, and such interruption shall continue until the defendant is returned to the custody of the commissioner.

2. Except as otherwise provided in subdivisions four and five of this section, when a defendant is in the custody of the commissioner pursuant to a temporary order of observation or an order of commitment or an order of retention, the criminal action pending against the defendant in the court that issued such order is suspended ~~[until]~~ pending further order of the court. If the superintendent of the institution in which

1 the defendant is confined determines that he or she is no longer an 2 incapacitated person[~~,- In that event~~], the court that issued such order 3 and the appropriate district attorney must be notified, in writing, by 4 the superintendent of his or her determination. The court must thereupon 5 proceed in accordance with the provisions of subdivision two of section 6 730.30 of this [~~chapter~~] article; provided, however, if the court is 7 satisfied that the defendant remains an incapacitated person, and upon 8 consent of all parties, the court may order the return of the defendant 9 to the institution in which he or she had been confined for such period 10 of time as was authorized by the prior order of commitment or order of 11 retention. Upon such return, the defendant shall have all rights and 12 privileges accorded by the provisions of this article.

13 3. When a defendant is in the custody of the commissioner pursuant to 14 an order issued in accordance with this article, the commissioner may 15 transfer him or her to any appropriate institution operated by the 16 department of mental hygiene, provided, however, that the commissioner 17 may designate an appropriate hospital for placement of a defendant for 18 whom a final order of observation has been issued, where such hospital 19 is licensed by the office of mental health and has agreed to accept, 20 upon referral by the commissioner, defendants subject to final orders of 21 observation issued under this section. The commissioner may discharge a 22 defendant in his or her custody under a final order of observation at 23 any time prior to the expiration date of such order, or otherwise treat 24 or transfer such defendant in the same manner as if he or she were a 25 patient not in confinement under a criminal court order.

26 4. When a defendant is in the custody of the commissioner pursuant to 27 an order of commitment or an order of retention, he or she may make any 28 motion authorized by this chapter which is susceptible of fair determi-29 nation without his or her personal participation. If the court denies 30 any such motion it must be without prejudice to a renewal thereof after 31 the criminal action against the defendant has been ordered to proceed.
32 If the court enters an order dismissing the indictment and does not 33 direct that the charge or charges be resubmitted to a grand jury, the 34 court must direct that such order of dismissal be served upon the 35 commissioner.

36 5. When a defendant is in the custody of the commissioner pursuant to 37 an order of commitment or an order of retention, the superior court that 38 issued such order may, upon motion of the defendant, and with the 39 consent of the district attorney, dismiss the indictment when the court 40 is satisfied that (a) the defendant is a resident or citizen of another 41 state or country and that he or she will be removed thereto upon 42 dismissal of the indictment, or (b) the defendant has been continuously 43 confined in the custody of the commissioner, either pursuant to this 44 article or pursuant to article nine or fifteen of the mental hygiene 45 law, for a period of more than two years. Before granting a motion 46 under this subdivision, the court must be further satisfied that 47 dismissal of the indictment is consistent with the ends of justice and 48 that custody of the defendant by the commissioner pursuant to an order 49 of commitment or an order of retention is not necessary for the 50 protection of the public and that care and treatment can be effectively 51 administered to the defendant without the necessity of such order. If 52 the court enters an order of dismissal under this subdivision, it must 53 set forth in the record the reasons for such action, and must direct 54 that such order of dismissal be served upon the commissioner. The 55 dismissal of an indictment pursuant to this subdivision constitutes a

1 bar to any further prosecution of the charge or charges contained in 2 such indictment.

A court order issued pursuant to article seven hundred thirty of the criminal procedure law shall be deemed an order of retention under this section. Such application shall be made no later than sixty days from the date of involuntary admission on application supported by medical certification or thirty days from the date of an order denying an application for patient's release pursuant to section 9.31, whichever is later; and the hospital is authorized to retain the patient for such further period during which the hospital is authorized to make such application or during which the application may be pending. The director shall cause written notice of such application to be given the patient and a copy thereof shall be given personally or by mail to the persons required by this article to be served with notice of such patient's initial admission and to the mental hygiene legal service.
