Introduced by Sen. JACKSON -- read twice and ordered printed, and when printed to be committed to the Committee on Labor

AN ACT to amend the labor law, in relation to enacting the safeguarding employees and accountability for termination act

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

1 Section 1. The labor law is amended by adding a new article 20-D to 2 read as follows:

ARTICLE 20-D

SAFEGUARDING EMPLOYEES AND ACCOUNTABILITY FOR TERMINATION ACT

3 Section 745. Short title.

4 746. Definitions.

5 747. Elements of wrongful discharge.

6 748. Remedies.

7 749. Probationary period.

8 750. Limitation of actions.

9 751. Exemptions.

10 752. Arbitration.

11 753. Effect of rejection of offer to arbitrate.

12 § 745. Short title. This act shall be known and may be cited as the 13 "safeguarding employees and accountability for termination act" or "the 14 SEAT act".

15 § 746. Definitions. When used in this article, the term:

16 1. "Constructive discharge" means the voluntary termination of employ-17 ment by an employee because of a situation created by an act or omission 18 of the employer which a reasonable person would find so intolerable that 19 voluntary termination is the only reasonable alternative. Constructive 20 discharge does not mean voluntary termination because of an employer's 21 refusal to promote the employee or improve wages, responsibilities or 22 other terms and conditions of employment.

23 2. "Discharge" includes a constructive discharge as defined in subdi-24 vision one of this section and any other termination of employment, 25 including resignation, elimination of the job, failure to recall or 26

1 rehire and any other cutback in the number of employees for a legitimate 2 business reason.

3 3. "Fringe benefits" means the value of any employer-paid vacation 4 leave, sick leave, medical insurance plan, disability insurance plan, 5 and life insurance plan in force on the date of the termination.

6 4. "Good cause" means any reasonable job-related grounds for an 7 employee's dismissal based on:

8 (a) the employee's failure to satisfactorily perform job duties;

9 (b) the employee's disruption of the employer's operation except when 10 engaging in concerted activity;

11 (c) the employee's material or repeated violation of an express 12 provision of the employer's written policies; or

13 (d) other legitimate business reasons determined by the employer while 14 exercising the employer's reasonable business judgment. The legal use of 15 a consumable product by an employee off the employer's premises during 16 nonworking hours is not a legitimate business reason; provided, however, 17 that this paragraph shall not apply to:

18 (i) the use of a consumable product that affects in any manner an 19 employee's ability to perform job-related employment responsibilities or 20 the safety of other employees;

21 (ii) an employee who, on a personal basis, has a professional service 22 contract with an employer and the unique nature of the services provided 23 authorizes the employer, as part of the service contract, to limit the 24 use of certain products;

25 (iii) an employer that is a nonprofit organization that, as one of its 26 primary purposes or objectives, discourages the use of one or more 27 lawful products by the general public; or 28 (iv) an employer that takes action based on the belief that the 29 employer's actions are permissible under an established substance abuse 30 or alcohol program or policy, professional contract or collective 31 bargaining agreement.

32 6. "Leave of absence" means an employee's absence from work for a 33 period of more than five consecutive working days for any reason other 34 than holidays and vacations.

35 7. "Lost wages" means the gross amount of wages that would have been 36 reported to the internal revenue service as gross income on form W-2 and 37 includes overtime payments, any bonuses, and additional compensation 38 deferred at the option of the employee.

39 § 747. Elements of wrongful discharge. 1. A discharge is wrongful only 40 if:

41 (a) the discharge was not for good cause and the employee had 42 completed the employer's probationary period of employment; or

43 (b) the employer materially violated an express provision of its own 44 written personnel policy prior to the discharge, and the violation 45 deprived the employee of a fair and reasonable opportunity to remain in 46 a position of employment with the employer.

47 2. During a probationary period of employment, the employment may be 48 terminated at the will of the employer on notice to the employee for any 49 reason or for no reason.

50 3. The employer has broad discretion when making a decision to 51 discharge any managerial or supervisory employee.

52 § 748. Remedies. 1. If an employer has committed a wrongful discharge, 53 the employee may be awarded lost wages and fringe benefits for a period 54 not to exceed four years from the date of discharge, together with 55 interest on the lost wages and fringe benefits. The employee's interim 56 earnings, derived from any new kind, nature, or type of work, hire,

1 contractor status or employment that did not exist at the time of 2 discharge, including amounts the employee could have earned with reason-3 able diligence from the work, hire, contractor status or employment, 4 shall be deducted from the amount awarded for lost wages. Before inter-5 im earnings are deducted from lost wages, there shall be deducted from 6 the interim earnings any reasonable amounts expended by the employee in 7 searching for, obtaining, or relocating to new employment.

8 2. Following any verdict or award in favor of the discharged employee, 9 a court of competent jurisdiction shall consider any monetary payments, 10 compensation or benefits the employee received arising from or related 11 to the discharge, including unemployment compensation or benefits, and 12 shall deduct those payments, compensation and benefits from the amount 13 awarded for lost wages before entering judgment.

14 § 749. Probationary period. 1. If an employer does not establish a 15 specific probationary period or provide that there is no probationary 16 period prior to or at the time the employee begins work, there is a 17 probationary period of one month commencing on the date the employee 18 begins work.

19 2. An employer may extend a probationary period prior to the expira-20 tion of a probationary period, but the original probationary period 21 together with any periods of extension shall not exceed six months. The 22 probationary period shall not be extended or restarted by discharging an 23 employee during the probationary period and rehiring the employee within 24 three months after such discharge.

25 3. If an employee has one or more leaves of absence during the 26 original probationary period or any extension of the probationary peri-27 od, the time of each leave of absence shall not be a part of the proba-28 tionary period unless the employer affirmatively elects to include each 29 leave of absence as part of the probationary period with the affirmative 30 written consent of the employee.

31 § 750. Limitation of actions. 1. An action under this article shall be 32 filed within six years after the date of discharge.

33 2. If an employer maintains written internal procedures, other than 34 those specified in section seven hundred fifty-one of this article, 35 under which an employee may appeal a discharge within the organizational 36 structure of the employer, the employee shall first exhaust those proce-37 dures prior to filing an action under this article. The employee's fail-38 ure to initiate or exhaust available internal procedures is a defense to 39 an action brought under this article. If the employer's internal proce-40 dures are not completed within ninety days from the date the employee 41 initiates the internal procedures, the employee may file an action under 42 this article and for purposes of this subdivision the employer's inter-43 nal procedures are considered exhausted. The statute of limitations in 44 subdivision one of this section is tolled until the procedures are 45 exhausted. In no case may the provisions of the employer's internal 46 procedures extend the limitation period in subdivision one of this 47 section more than one hundred twenty days.

48 3. If the employer maintains written internal procedures under which 49 an employee may appeal a discharge within the organizational structure 50 of the employer, the employer shall within fourteen days of the date of 51 the discharge notify the discharged employee in writing or electron-52 ically of the existence of the internal procedures. The timeframe for 53 the employee to initiate the procedures, if any, begins to run from the 54 date the employer sends or provides a copy of the internal procedures in 55 writing or electronically. A copy of the procedures shall be considered 56 provided to the employee, if the employer sends a copy of the procedures

1 to the employee's last-known postal mailing address and electronic mail-
2 ing address, if provided, or the employee's attorney. If the employer 3 fails to comply with this subdivision, the discharged employee need not 4 comply with subdivision two of this section.

5 4. If a plaintiff commences a civil action for wrongful discharge 6 under this article, the plaintiff shall make service of process pursuant 7 to section three hundred six-b of the civil practice law and rules after 8 filing the complaint. If the plaintiff fails to make service of process, 9 the court, on motion or on its own initiative, shall dismiss the action 10 without prejudice as to a defendant unless that defendant has made an 11 appearance in the civil action. If the plaintiff fails to make service 12 of process, the remaining six-year statute of limitations for a civil 13 action under this article resumes regardless of whether the civil action 14 is dismissed.

15 § 751. Exemptions. 1. This article does not apply to a discharge:

16 (a) that is subject to any other state or federal statute that 17 provides a procedure or remedy for contesting the dispute. The statutes 18 include those that prohibit discharge for filing complaints, charges, or 19 claims with administrative bodies or that prohibit unlawful discrimi-20 nation based on age, race, creed, color, national origin, sexual orien-21 tation, gender identity or expression, military status, sex, disability, 22 predisposing genetic characteristics, familial status, marital status, 23 status as a victim of domestic violence and other similar grounds; or

24 (b) of an employee covered by a written collective bargaining agree-25 ment or a written contract of employment for a specific term.

26 2. For the purposes of this section, a "contract of employment for a 27 specific term" may contain a probationary period pursuant to section 28 seven hundred forty-nine of this article and may contain an automatic 29 renewal clause that automatically renews the contract of employment for 30 one or more successive terms.

31 § 752. Arbitration. 1. A party may make a written offer to arbitrate a 32 dispute that otherwise could be adjudicated under this article.

33 2. An offer to arbitrate shall be in writing and contain the following 34 provisions:

35 (a) A neutral arbitrator shall be selected by mutual agreement or, in 36 the absence of agreement, pursuant to article seventy-five of the civil 37 practice law and rules.

38 (b) The arbitration shall be conducted pursuant to article seventy-39 five of the civil practice law and rules. If there is a conflict between 40 the provisions of article seventy-five of the civil practice law and 41 rules and the provisions of this article, the provisions of this article 42 shall apply.

43 (c) The arbitrator is bound by this article.

44 3. If a complaint is filed under this article, the offer to arbitrate 45 shall be made within sixty days after service of the complaint and may 46 be accepted in writing within thirty days after the date the offer is 47 made.

48 4. A discharged employee who makes a valid offer to arbitrate that is 49 accepted by the employer and who prevails in such arbitration shall be 50 entitled to have the arbitrator's fee and all costs of arbitration paid 51 by the employer.

52 5. If a valid offer to arbitrate is made and accepted, arbitration is 53 the exclusive remedy for the wrongful discharge dispute and there is no 54 right to bring or continue a lawsuit under this article. The 55 arbitrator's award is final and binding, subject to review of the 56 arbitrator's decision under the provisions of article seventy-five of

1 the civil practice law and rules. However, this subdivision shall not 2 apply if the employer maintains written internal procedures that require 3 arbitration under subdivision two of section seven hundred fifty of this 4 article.

5 § 753. Effect of rejection of offer to arbitrate. If a discharged 6 employee makes a valid offer to arbitrate that is not accepted by the 7 employer and such discharged employee prevails in an action under this 8 article such discharged employee shall be entitled to reasonable attor-9 neys' fees incurred subsequent to the date of the offer.

10 § 2. Severability clause. If any clause, sentence, paragraph, subdivi-11 sion, section or part of this act shall be adjudged by any court of 12 competent jurisdiction to be invalid, such judgment shall not affect, 13 impair, or invalidate the remainder thereof, but shall be confined in 14 its operation to the clause, sentence, paragraph, subdivision, section 15 or part thereof directly involved in the controversy in which such judg-16 ment shall have been rendered. It is hereby declared to be the intent of 17 the legislature that this act would have been enacted even if such 18 invalid provisions had not been included herein.

19 § 3. This act shall take effect on the ninetieth day after it shall 20 have become a law. Effective immediately, the addition, amendment and/or 21 repeal of any rule or regulation necessary for the implementation of 22 this act on its effective date are authorized to be made on or before 23 such date.
