Cal. No. 1326

IN SENATE

April 6, 2022

Introduced by Sens. HINCHEY, MAY -- read twice and ordered printed, and when printed to be committed to the Committee on Commerce, Economic Development and Small Business -- reported favorably from said committee, ordered to first and second report, ordered to a third reading, amended and ordered reprinted, retaining its place in the order of third reading

AN ACT to amend the economic development law, the state finance law and the agriculture and markets law, in relation to enacting the New York textile act

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

1 Section 1. Short title. This act shall be known and may be cited as 2 the "New York textile act".
3 § 2. Legislative findings. The legislature hereby finds and declares
4 that animal and plant fiber growing, fiber processing, and textile manu-
5 facturing in New York has positive economic and environmental impacts.
6 Textiles sustainably produced from animal and plant fibers are a growing 7 sector of the global textile industry. New York's "Grown and Certified" 8 designation identifies local, safely-handled, and environmentally 9 responsible agricultural products, including animal and plant fiber.
10 Animal and plant fiber farming complies with and supports New York's 11 climate goals as, by its nature, fiber farming sequesters carbon. Addi-12 tionally, fiber farming represents a positive economic opportunity for 13 New York farmers, because it constitutes value-added agriculture and is 14 not tied to commodity pricing. New York is recognized as the fashion 15 capital of the world, with over 900 fashion companies headquartered in 16 the state. Historically, New York was also a leading textile producing 17 state. Today, programs like the Hudson Valley Textile Project seek to 18 rebuild New York's role as a leading grower and producer of animal and 19 plant fiber and fiber textiles. Textile manufacturing is a strong jobs
20 producer. The federal government estimates that for every textile manu-21 facturing industry job in this country, three additional jobs are 22 supported. As fiber mill production capacity has grown in eastern 23 upstate New York, the number of acres devoted to animal and plant fiber

1 farming has grown along with the growth of commercial weavers and knit-
2 ters. As these small businesses find new markets and devoted customers
3 for their products, several New York colleges and universities have 4 begun to offer animal and plant fiber textile programs that produce a 5 skilled workforce. The legislature finds that the textile industry in 6 New York is small but growing, and it produces a quality product.
7 Therefore, the legislature seeks to accelerate the growth of the animal 8 and plant fiber growing, processing, and textile manufacturing industry
9 in New York by supporting it through economic development programs.

10 § 3. Section 2 of the economic development law is amended by adding 11 two new subdivisions 6 and 7 to read as follows:

12 6. "Animal fiber" means natural fibers that have formed the covering,
13 or fleece, of sheep or other hairy animals such as goats or alpacas,
14 shorn for the purpose of creating textile products.

15 7. "Plant fiber" means natural fibers that are obtained from plants
16 and used to create textile products including, but not limited to, hemp.
