- 15 (1) obtain control, through deception, intimidation or undue influ-16 ence, over such eligible adult's money, assets or property to deprive
- 17 such eligible adult of the ownership, use, benefit or possession of his
- 18 or her money, assets or property; or
- (2) convert money, assets or property of such eligible adult to 19 deprive such eligible adult of the ownership, use, benefit or possession 20
- 21 of his or her money, assets or property.
- 22 (c) "Oualified individual" means any agent, representative or person
- 23 who serves in a supervisory, compliance, or legal capacity for a brok-
- 24 er-dealer or investment adviser.
- 25 (d) "Investment advisor" shall have the same meaning as such term is
- 26 defined pursuant to paragraph (a) of subdivision one of section three
- hundred fifty-nine-eee of this article.

EXPLANATION--Matter in italics (underscored) is new; matter in brackets [-] is old law to be omitted.

1 (e) "Broker" and "dealer" shall have the same meaning as such terms
2 are defined pursuant to paragraphs (a) and (b) of subdivision one of 3 section three hundred fifty-nine-e of this article.

- 2. (a) If a qualified individual reasonably believes that financial exploitation of an eligible adult may have occurred, may have been attempted, or is being attempted, such qualified individual may promptly notify adult protective services and the commissioner of the department of financial services.
- (b) A qualified individual that in good faith and exercising reasonable care makes a disclosure of information pursuant to paragraph (a) of this subdivision shall be immune from administrative or civil liability that might otherwise arise from such disclosure or for any failure to notify the customer of the disclosure.
- 3. (a) If a qualified individual reasonably believes that financial exploitation of an eligible adult may have occurred, may have been attempted, or is being attempted, such qualified individual may notify any third-party previously designated by the eligible adult. Disclosure shall not be made to any designated third-party that is suspected of financial exploitation or other abuse of the eligible adult.
- (b) A qualified individual that, in good faith and exercising reasonable care, complies with paragraph (a) of this subdivision shall be immune from any administrative or civil liability that might otherwise arise from such disclosure.
- 4. (a) A broker-dealer or investment adviser may delay a disbursement from an account of an eligible adult or an account on which an eligible adult is a beneficiary if:
- (i) the broker-dealer, investment adviser, or qualified individual reasonably believes, after initiating an internal review of the requested disbursement and the suspected financial exploitation, that the requested disbursement may result in financial exploitation of an eligible adult; and
 - (ii) the broker-dealer or investment adviser:
- (1) immediately, but in no event more than two business days after the requested disbursement, provides written notification of the delay and the reason for the delay to all parties authorized to transact business on the account, unless any such party is reasonably believed to have engaged in suspected or attempted financial exploitation of the eligible adult;
- 39 (2) immediately, but in no event more than two business days after the 40 requested disbursement, notifies the commissioner of the department of 41 financial services; and
 - (3) continues its internal review of the suspected or attempted financial exploitation of the eligible adult, as necessary, and reports the investigation's results to the commissioner of the department of financial services within seven business days after the requested disbursement.
- 47 (b) Any delay of a disbursement as authorized pursuant to this section 48 shall expire upon the sooner of:
- 49 (i) a determination by the broker-dealer or investment adviser that
 50 the disbursement will not result in financial exploitation of the eligi-
 51 ble adult; or
- (ii) fifteen business days after the date on which the broker-dealer or investment adviser first delayed disbursement of the funds, unless the department of financial services requests that the broker-dealer or investment adviser extend the delay, in which case the delay shall expire no more than twenty-five business days after the date on which the broker-dealer or investment adviser first delayed disbursement of the funds unless sooner terminated by either the department of financial services or an order of a court of competent jurisdiction.

- (c) A court of competent jurisdiction may enter an order extending the delay of the disbursement of funds or may order other protective relief based on a petition of the commissioner of the department of financial services, adult protective services, the broker-dealer or investment adviser that initiated the delay pursuant to this subdivision, or another interested party.
- 10 (d) A broker-dealer or investment adviser that, in good faith and 11 exercising reasonable care, complies with this subdivision shall be 12 immune from any administrative or civil liability that might otherwise
 13 arise from such delay in a disbursement in accordance with this subdivi14 sion.
- 15 5. A broker-dealer or investment adviser shall provide access to or copies of records that are relevant to the suspected or attempted finan-16 17 cial exploitation of an eligible adult to agencies charged with administering state adult protective services laws and to law enforcement, 18 either as part of a referral to an agency or to law enforcement, or upon 19 20 request of an agency or law enforcement pursuant to an investigation. 21 The records shall include historical records as well as records relating 22 to the most recent transaction or transactions that may comprise financial exploitation of an eliqible adult. All records made available to 23 agencies under this section shall not be considered a public record. 24 25 Nothing in this subdivision shall limit or otherwise impede the authority of the commissioner of the department of financial services to access 26 27 or examine the books and records of broker-dealers and investment advis-28 ers as otherwise provided by law.
 - § 2. This act shall take effect immediately.
