family or household as defined in subdivision one of section this article];

- § 7. Paragraph (c) of subdivision 4 of section 140.10 of the criminal procedure law, as amended by chapter 4 of the laws of 1997, is amended and a new paragraph (d) is added to read as follows:
- (c) a misdemeanor constituting a family offense, as described in subdivision one of section 530.11 of this chapter and section eight 7 hundred twelve of the family court act, has been committed by such person against such family or household member, unless the victim 8 9 10 requests otherwise. The officer shall neither inquire as to whether the 11 victim seeks an arrest of such person nor threaten the arrest of any 12 person for the purpose of discouraging requests for police intervention. Notwithstanding the foregoing, when an officer has reasonable cause to 13 14 believe that more than one family or household member has committed such 15 a misdemeanor, the officer is not required to arrest each such person. In such circumstances, the officer shall attempt to identify and arrest 16 17 the primary physical aggressor after considering: (i) the comparative extent of any injuries inflicted by and between the parties; (ii) wheth-18 19 er any such person is threatening or has threatened future harm against 20 another party or another family or household member; (iii) whether any 21 such person has a prior history of domestic violence that the officer 22 can reasonably ascertain; and (iv) whether any such person acted defen-23 sively to protect himself or herself from injury. The officer shall 24 evaluate each complaint separately to determine who is the primary phys-25 ical aggressor and shall not base the decision to arrest or not to 26 arrest on the willingness of a person to testify or otherwise partic-27 ipate in a judicial proceeding[→]; or
 - (d) such person has committed the offense of criminal contempt in the second degree, as defined in section 215.50 of the penal law, criminal contempt in the first degree, as defined in section 215.51 of the penal law, or aggravated criminal contempt, as defined in section 215.52 of the penal law.
- § 8. This act shall take effect immediately and shall apply to all orders of protection regardless of when such orders were issued; provided, however, that the amendments to subdivision 4 of section 140.10 of the criminal procedure law, made by section seven of this act, shall not affect the repeal of such subdivision, and shall be deemed 38 repealed therewith.
