1 proposed project, not merely site preparation, to commence, or if no
2 permit was required, the commencement of construction. Failure to meet 3 this requirement shall result in termination of any inflation protection 4 provided under subdivision three of section four hundred eighty-nine-5 bbbbbb of this title for any tax year that begins following the date by 6 which completion of construction is required under this paragraph.

7 (a) Time to file. (i) Preliminary application. (A) Building permit.
8 No benefits pursuant to this title shall be granted for any construction 9 work unless the applicant filed a preliminary application for such bene-10 fits on or before the date of issuance of the first building permit that 11 allows actual construction work on the proposed project, not merely site
12 preparation, to commence for such work. This requirement may be satis-

17 (B) No building permit required. Where construction work does not 18 require a building permit, a notarized letter from the project's archi-

20 within thirty calendar days of the commencement of construction. In 21 such circumstance, such letter shall also satisfy the requirement of a 22 preliminary application if the letter contains all of the information 23 required for a preliminary application under rules prescribed by the 24 department.

25 (ii) Final application. Applicants shall file a final application for 26 benefits no later than one year from the date of issuance of the first

29 or, where construction work does not require a building permit, no later
30 than one year from the date of commencement of construction. Abatement 31 benefits shall not be granted until the applicant files the final appli-
32 cation. If the final application is not filed within such one year peri-33 od, abatement benefits shall not be granted until such application is 34 filed, and the department may delay the granting of such benefits, at 35 the department's discretion, to investigate the reason for the late 36 filing.

37 § 2. This act shall take effect immediately and shall apply to 38 construction projects that:

39 (i) were delayed as a result of environmental damage due to Hurricane 40 Sandy in the fall of 2012; and

41 (ii) for which a decision is under contested review by a court of 42 competent jurisdiction or by the New York City Department of Finance.
