(g) Investigate the criminal background of any person of or over the age of eighteen who resides or is proposed to reside with or in the same home as a child who is the subject of a court proceeding pursuant to article three, six, seven, ten, ten-A or ten-C of the family court act. For the purpose of these investigations, and subject to the rules and regulations of the division of criminal justice services, local social services districts may, acting through persons specifically designated by the commissioner of the local social services district, access and receive records maintained by the division of criminal justice services pursuant to subdivision six of section eight hundred thirty-seven of the executive law.

- § 3. Paragraph (c) of subdivision 6 of section 424 of the social services law, as amended by chapter 281 of the laws of 2017, is amended to read as follows:
- (c) subject to rules and regulations of the division of criminal justice services, a manager of the child protective services unit, or a person with law enforcement background who is specifically designated by the commissioner of the local social services district for this purpose, shall have access to conviction records maintained by state law enforce-20 ment agencies pertaining to persons of or over the age of eighteen years who (1) are currently residing in the residence of any child who is 22 alleged to be or suspected of being abused, maltreated, or neglected or who is proposed to live with such child, or (2) are named in any report of suspected or alleged child abuse, maltreatment, or neglect; provided that nothing in this subdivision shall be construed to contradict or modify section one thousand forty-six of the family court act. Any criminal history record provided by the division of criminal justice services, and any summary of the criminal history record provided by the office of children and family services to the child protective services unit of a local social services district pursuant to this subdivision, shall be kept confidential and shall not be made available for public inspection. Child protective services units shall not indicate a report 33 solely based upon the existence of a conviction record;
  - § 4. This act shall take effect immediately.
