2021-2022 Regular Sessions

IN ASSEMBLY

(Prefiled)

January 6, 2021

Introduced by M. of A. JONES, DICKENS, LAVINE, J. RIVERA -- Multi-Sponsored by -- M. of A. COOK, SIMON -- read once and referred to the Committee on Real Property Taxation

AN ACT to amend the public health law and the real property tax law, in relation to authorizing real property taxing jurisdictions to grant a tax exemption for a primary residence purchased by a clinician in a clinician shortage area; and to amend the real property tax law, in relation to providing state aid to such jurisdictions for the savings granted by such exemption

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

Section 1. Legislative findings and intent. The legislature hereby finds that several communities within the state, particularly those located within rural areas, lack adequate access to clinicians. It is well established that ensuring the sufficient availability of physicians, physician assistants, nurse practitioners, and nurse midwives directly benefits the health of state residents, and the legislature has enacted several measures towards that end.

Furthermore, the legislature finds that municipalities are often best situated to evaluate the needs of their communities. Therefore, it is the intent of the legislature to offer counties, cities, towns, villages and school districts the option to provide real property tax exemptions, should they determine that such an incentive would aid in attracting clinicians to areas currently underserved by the medical community.

- 14 § 2. Section 206 of the public health law is amended by adding a new 15 subdivision 31 to read as follows:
- 16 31. (a) The commissioner shall biennially designate and make available
 17 a list of designated clinician shortage areas in the state. A designated 18 clinician shortage area shall be a county or other sub-county geographic
 19 area determined by the commissioner to be in short supply of clinicians

The list shall indicate for each designated clinician shortage area, if the area is in short supply of primary care physicians, medical specialty physicians and which medical specialty is in short supply in the designated shortage area, physician assistants, nurse practitioners, and nurse midwives.

- (b) In establishing designated clinician shortage areas, the commissioner, to the extent practicable, shall utilize criteria consistent with the criteria utilized to make awards for the physician practice support program established pursuant to paragraph (e) of subdivision five-a of section twenty-eight hundred seven-m of this chapter.
- (c) For the purposes of this subdivision, "medical specialty or specialty area" shall mean the branch or branches of special competence within a physician's medical practice as evidenced by their certification by a speciality medical board acceptable to the commissioner.
- (d) For the purposes of this subdivision, "clinician" shall mean a physician, physician assistant, nurse practitioner, or nurse midwife.
- § 3. The real property tax law is amended by adding a new section 439 to read as follows:
- § 439. Real property tax exemptions in designated clinician shortage area. 1. A municipal corporation or school district may exempt real property purchased by a clinician for use solely as his or her primary residence, to the extent provided in this section, from taxation by such municipal corporation or school district if the clinician resides in and has an office located within a clinician shortage area as designated by the commissioner of health pursuant to subdivision thirty-one of section two hundred six of the public health law. After a public hearing, the governing body of a municipal corporation may adopt a local law, and the board of a school district, other than a school district subject to article fifty-two of the education law, may adopt a resolution, to grant the exemption authorized pursuant to this section.
- 2. Exemptions provided pursuant to subdivision one of this section shall only apply to real property purchased on or after the effective date of this section, and the subsequent enactment of a local law or adoption of a resolution to grant such real property tax exemption.

- 4. A copy of such local laws or resolutions shall be filed with the state board and the assessor for such municipal corporation or school district who prepares the assessment roll upon which the taxes of such municipal corporation or school district are levied.
- § 4. The real property tax law is amended by adding a new section 985 to read as follows:
- § 985. Effect of exemption in designated clinician shortage areas. 1.

 In a municipal corporation or school district which elects to provide the real property tax exemption in a designated clinician shortage area pursuant to section four hundred thirty-nine of this chapter, the amount of taxes to be levied for any tax year or school year, as the case may be, shall be determined without regard to the fact that state aid will be payable pursuant to this section.
