AN ACT to amend the education law, in relation to allowing school districts to permit home-schooled students to participate in district interscholastic sports

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

Section 1. The education law is amended by adding a new section 3235 to read as follows:

§ 3235. Home instruction students and interscholastic sports. The board of education or trustee of a school district may establish and adopt a policy to allow a student who receives home instruction to try out for and participate on a school district's interschool athletic team. The policy shall include, but not be limited to the following provisions:

1. The student shall be required to meet all the same responsibilities and standards of behavior and eligibility for practice and competition as a public school student enrolled in the school district participating on the interschool athletic team including but not limited to the health examination, immunization, and age eligibility requirements;

2. The student shall annually meet all academic requirements pursuant to section 100.10 of commissioner regulations; provided, however, that a board of education or trustee of a school district may require additional academic eligibility requirements;

EXPLANATION--Matter in italics (underscored) is new; matter in brackets [-] is old law to be omitted.

1 3. The student shall only be eligible to try out for and participate
2 on their school district of residence's interschool athletic team; and

3 4. Transportation shall be provided by the parent or guardian of the 4 student.

5 § 2. This act shall take effect immediately.
