

STATE OF NEW YORK

2021-2022 Regular Sessions

IN ASSEMBLY

June 11, 2021

Introduced by M. of A. REYES -- read once and referred to the Committee on Labor

AN ACT to amend the executive law, in relation to clarifying that workers shall not be punished or subjected to discipline by employers for lawful absences

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

1 Section 1. Legislative intent. Too often, absence control, or 2 "no-fault" attendance policies, violate workers' rights in New York 3 state and discourage them from taking job-protected leave or time off to 4 which they are entitled by law. Under such policies, workers are 5 assessed points (sometimes referred to as "demerits" or "occurrences") 6 for each absence - regardless of the reason - and those points subject 7 them to discipline, often including termination. Employers ignore or 8 interfere with these rights due to ambiguities in the law and their own
9 policies and practices. By punishing workers for any absence, including 10 absences protected by law, absence control policies frequently threaten 11 public health and family economic security, and undermine New York state
12 workplace rights. According to A Better Balance, which released a 13 report detailing legal concerns with "no-fault" attendance policies in 14 June 2020, some of the nation's largest employers maintain policies that 15 "reliably fail to inform workers about their legal rights to take time 16 off without punishment for certain illnesses, health conditions, or 17 disabilities, or for the need to care for an ill loved one" under state, 18 local, and federal civil rights laws. After surveying the policies of 19 sixty-six U.S. employers impacting approximately eighteen million work-
20 ers, A Better Balance found that more than 80% of those policies failed 21 to make clear that employees would not receive points for disability-re-22 lated absences; many provided incomplete or misleading information to 23 workers regarding their right to time off under the federal Family and 24 Medical Leave Act (FMLA); and the majority of the policies indicated

1 that workers will incur points when they miss work because they are 2 sick. It is the intent of the New York state legislature to make it 3 explicitly clear that workers shall not be punished or subjected to 4 discipline for lawful absences. Workers have the right to take legally-5 protected time off from their jobs to address certain medical, caregiv-
6 ing, and religious needs without penalty.

7 § 2. Section 292 of the executive law is amended by adding a new 8 subdivision 39 to read as follows:

9 39. The term "absence control or no-fault attendance policy" shall 10 mean a policy maintained by an employer under which employees are 11 assessed "points," including but not limited to, demerits or occur-12 rences, for each absence, regardless of the reason for such absence, and 13 those points subject the employee to progressive disciplinary action, 14 including, but not limited to, failure to receive a promotion, loss of 15 pay, or termination.

16 § 3. Subdivision 1 of section 296 of the executive law is amended by 17 adding a new paragraph (i) to read as follows:

18 (i) For an employer, labor organization, or employment agency to 19 assess points, occurrences, or otherwise discipline employees, includ-20 ing, but not limited to, through an absence control or no-fault attend-21 ance policy, for absences related to a known disability, pregnancy-re-22 lated condition, or otherwise protected by law, without first engaging 23 in a good faith, interactive process to consider whether an employee is 24 entitled to a reasonable accommodation.

25 § 4. Subdivision 1 of section 296 of the executive law is amended by 26 adding a new paragraph (j) to read as follows:

27 (j)(i) for an employer, labor organization, or employment agency to 28 maintain an absence control or no-fault attendance policy, unless it 29 complies with the following:

30 (A) The policy shall be distributed in writing to all current employ-
31 ees within thirty days of when this law becomes effective. Thereafter, 32 the policy shall be distributed in writing to all employees at the time 33 of hire and within five days of when any changes to the policy are made;

34 (B) Employees must have a means of accessing the policy both at their 35 physical workplace and outside of it;

36 (C) The policy must make clear that employees will not face negative 37 consequences, such as be assessed with points or occurrences, or other-38 wise face disciplinary action, for absences that are protected by law;

39 (D) The policy must specifically reference and provide a reasonable
40 amount of detail about all laws that provide legal protections for time
41 off and legally protected reasons for leave, including, but not limited
42 to, (i) the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, 42 U.S.C. § 12101
43 et seq., as amended; (ii) the Family and Medical Leave Act of 1993, 29
44 U.S.C. § 2601 et seq.; (iii) the New York State Human Rights Law,
45 section 290 et seq. of the executive law; (iv) the New York State Paid 46 Family Leave Act, N.Y. Workers' Comp. Law, § 200 et seq.; and (v) the 47 New York State paid sick leave law, N.Y. Lab. Law § 196-b et seq.

48 (E) The policy shall identify a process for employees to complete each 49 of the following:

50 (1) report that an absence is for a legally protected reason for 51 leave;

52 (2) provide medical documentation;

53 (3) seek removal of points or occurrences that an employee believes 54 were wrongly assessed; and

55 (4) permit delayed reporting of an absence in unforeseen and/or emer-
56 gency circumstances without incurring additional points or discipline.

1 (ii) The division of human rights shall develop a model absence
2 control policy that conforms to the requirements of this subdivision.
3 The division shall make such model policy available on its website in 4 English and Spanish and any other language deemed appropriate by the 5 division.

6 (iii) If any employer is found to maintain an absence control or 7 no-fault attendance policy that is not compliant with the requirements 8 of this subdivision, the employer shall be liable for a penalty of fifty 9 dollars for each work day that the violations occurred or continue to 10 occur, but not to exceed a total of five thousand dollars. The attorney 11 general may bring any legal action necessary, including administrative 12 action, to collect such claim. For the purpose of assessing compliance 13 with the provisions of this subdivision, the attorney general or desig-14 nee, or, if the employer is the state, the division of human rights or 15 designee, may, with forty-eight hours' notice, at reasonable times and 16 without unduly disrupting business operations enter and inspect any 17 place of business or employment, question any person who is authorized 18 by the employer to receive or investigate complaints about attendance 19 issues, and examine an employer's records, policies, procedures, and 20 training materials related to the requirements of this section. The 21 attorney general shall adopt rules as necessary to implement the 22 provisions of this subdivision.

23 § 5. Paragraph (c) of subdivision 3 of section 296 of the executive 24 law, as added by chapter 369 of the laws of 2015, is amended to read as 25 follows:

26 [~~(e)~~] (c-1) The employee must cooperate in providing medical or other 27 information that is necessary to verify the existence of the disability
28 or pregnancy-related condition, or that is necessary for consideration 29 of the accommodation. The employee has a right to have such medical 30 information kept confidential. As part of the good faith, interactive 31 process, the employer must afford the employee a reasonable opportunity 32 to provide medical or other information which may preclude the assess-33 ment of points, occurrences, or other forms of discipline, including but 34 not limited to pursuant to an absence control or no-fault attendance 35 policy.

36 § 6. This act shall take effect on the ninetieth day after it shall 37 have become a law. Effective immediately, the addition, amendment and/or 38 repeal of any rule or regulation necessary for the implementation of 39 this act on its effective date are authorized to be made and completed 40 on or before such date.
