IN ASSEMBLY

February 23, 2022

Introduced by M. of A. CAHILL -- read once and referred to the Committee on Banks

AN ACT to amend the state finance law, in relation to enacting the New York state bank act; to repeal certain provisions of the New York state urban development corporation act relating thereto; and providing for the repeal of such provisions upon expiration thereof

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

1 Section 1. This act shall be known and may be cited as the "New York
2 state bank act".

3 § 2. The state finance law is amended by adding a new article 17 to 4 read as follows:

ARTICLE 17

Section 250. Legislative intent.

251. Definitions.

252. Creation of the New York state banking authority.

253. Purpose.

254. The New York state bank.

255. Board.

256. Capitalization.

257. Deposit of funds.

258. Investment requirements and regulations.

259. Financial regulation.

260. Reporting requirements.

261. Ethical requirements.

262. Fees and taxes.

263. Bank records.

264. Termination of operations.

265. Severability.

23 § 250. Legislative intent. 1. The legislature finds that several 24 communities within the state have been adversely affected by a lack of 25 banking services to meet their financial needs. Low-income, inner city
26 and rural communities are often left out of the banking system. Further-

1 more, individuals without lawful immigration status have difficulty
2 accessing banking services, particularly when the process requires a
3 social security number or a form of government-issued identification.
4 The state of New York has an interest in ensuring that communities that
5 are underserved by banking institutions have access to banking services
6 such as low or no cost savings and checking accounts, loans and elec-
7 tronic banking platforms. Providing banking services to these communi-
8 ties will ensure they can safely and securely store their money and have 9 access to financing options that are legitimate alternatives to predato-
10 ry lending practices, such as high-interest pay-day loans.

11 2. The legislature finds that a group with insufficient access to 12 banking services is the cannabis industry. The federal classification of 13 cannabis as a Schedule I drug under the Controlled Substances Act of 14 1970 means most private banks and credit unions are unable to or refuse 15 to service bank accounts held by cannabis-related businesses due to 16 federal money laundering statutes and the bank secrecy act. As a
17 result, cannabis-related businesses are locked out of the banking
18 system, forcing them to rely entirely on cash to conduct transactions.
19 Being cash-oriented leaves cannabis-related businesses disproportionately
20 susceptible to burglary of their property and makes their employees
21 targets of violent robbery. In addition, cash transactions are not 22 traceable by state and federal financial regulators, meaning cash-only 23 cannabis-related businesses can be used to launder money derived from 24 illegal activities. Therefore, the legislature finds that the exclusion
25 of cannabis-related businesses from the banking system constitutes a 26 public safety and financial transparency issue.

27 3. The legislature finds that the establishment of a publicly owned 28 and operated bank would alleviate issues of financial transparency and 29 public safety by providing a secure depository for the storage and lend-
30 ing of cannabis-related businesses funds and deposits from low-income
31 residents of the state.

32 4. The legislature finds that in addition to increasing public safety, 33 the provision of banking services to cannabis-related businesses would 34 facilitate sustainable economic growth in New York state. The legal 35 cannabis industry is projected to grow by tens of billions of dollars in 36 coming years. A state owned and operated bank can foster economic growth 37 and capital investment and spur job creation in the cannabis industry by 38 providing collateralized loans to communities underserved by banking
39 institutions, including eligible and registered cannabis-related busi-
40 nesses.

41 5. The legislature intends to establish the New York state banking
42 authority and the New York state bank to use a portion of the tax reven-
43 ue received from the sales of legal adult-use cannabis products to serve 44 low-income communities and cannabis-related businesses that are under-
45 served by banking institutions.

10 state. This includes but is not limited to:
