5 relate to leaves of absence, active employees health insurance, holi-
6 days, salaries excluding step increases, and all other mandatory
7 subjects of a bargaining agreement as defined by the public employment
8 relations board case law prior to its conversion doctrine until a new 9 agreement is negotiated, unless the employee organization which is a 10 party to such agreement has, during such negotiations or prior to such 11 resolution of such negotiations, engaged in conduct violative of subdi-
12 vision one of section two hundred ten of this article;

13 § 2. Subdivision 3-a of section 390 of the education law, as added by preceding employment was with another department, division, or agency of the state shall not be deemed to be an eligible employee.

(b) Beginning January first, two thousand twenty-two, the term "eligible employees" shall also mean any person who would otherwise be entitled to receive a benefit under the retirement and social security law or the education law initially hired on or after January first, two thousand twenty-two who would otherwise be eligible for membership in the New York state and local employees' retirement system or the New York state teachers' retirement system. For the purpose of this paragraph, a newly hired state employee whose prior employment, immediately preceding such state employment, was with another department, division, or agency of the state shall not be deemed to be an eligible employee.

§ 3. Section 209 of the civil service law is amended by adding a new subdivision 7 to read as follows:

7. Notwithstanding any other provision of law to the contrary, for any dispute that is subject to the provisions of this section, the determination of the public arbitration panel on a disputed agreement shall not contain an increase in all compensation items subject to negotiation which is greater than two percent more than all compensation items subject to negotiation received by the employee organization in the agreement between the public employer and the employee organization immediately preceding the agreement being arbitrated.

§ 4. This act shall take effect immediately.

FISCAL NOTE.--Pursuant to Legislative Law, Section 50:

This bill would amend Section 390 of the Education Law to broaden the definition of the term "eligible employees" as it applies to eligibility to join the State University of New York Optional Retirement Program (ORP), otherwise known as the Voluntary Defined Contribution Program (VDC). The definition would be expanded to include any person initially hired on or after January 1, 2022 who would otherwise be eligible for membership in the New York State Teachers' Retirement System (NYSTRS) or the New York State and Local Retirement System (NYSLRS). Currently only new employees with an annual salary of $75,000 or more and who are not represented by a collective bargaining unit must choose between joining the public retirement system (NYSTRS, NYSLRS) or the ORP/VDC. A newly hired state employee whose prior employment, immediately preceding such state employment, was with another department, division, or agency of the state shall not be deemed to be an eligible employee.

It is not possible to determine the total annual cost to the employers of members of the New York State Teachers' Retirement System since the number of newly hired employees who would choose to participate in the ORP/VDC each year cannot be estimated. This bill represents a fundamental change in the structure of public retirement benefits and would substantially impact their funding. The number of new entrants to the System could potentially decline each year if some newly hired employees opt to participate in the ORP/VDC. The System's outstanding liability under the defined benefit plan is funded over the average future remaining working lifetime of its members. Thus, if the System experiences a large decline in the number of new entrants each year, this funding period would decrease, resulting in potentially increasing costs to employers. It is strongly recommended that a full actuarial analysis and report be completed to gauge all the potential costs and implications fully and more quantitatively before a structural change of this magnitude is undertaken.

Member data is from the System's most recent actuarial valuation files, consisting of data provided by the employers to the Retirement System. Data distributions and statistics can be found in the System's Annual Report. System assets are as reported in the System's financial statements and can also be found in the System's Annual Report. Actuarial assumptions and methods are provided in the System's Actuarial Valuation Report and the 2021 Actuarial Assumptions Report.
